Gentlemen of the Senate and of the House of Representatives :

Having assembled as the Representatives of the people, in obedience to the requirements of the constitution, for the purpose of deliberating upon such measures of public policy as are best calculated to maintain and advance the political and social prosperity of the people of Indiana, the acknowledgment of our gratitude is due to Almighty God for the manifold blessings with which he has crowned the year.

This assembling of the people's Representatives, devolves upon me the performance of a constitutional duty, which I discharge with cheerfulness, yet I trust with becoming diffidence.

A retrospective view of the affairs of our State, presents as many substantial causes for congratulation, as at any former period of her history. Agricultural industry—the great and reliable source of the prosperity of our people—has met with its merited reward, and the enterprising spirit of our citizens has been crowned with that success which it so richly deserves. The people of our own, in common with those of many of the other States of our beloved country, have been, during the past year, severely afflicted by the cholera, that desolating scourge of mankind; yet it is gratifying to know that the melancholy reminiscences of its fearful march through our midst, are being obliterated by the smiles of returning health.

The general prosperity of our beloved country, is a just source of pride and congratulation to every American citizen. Whilst some of the oldest governments of the world are tottering to their fall, by the revolutionary spirit of their citizens, our Republican institutions—simple, yet sublime in their structure—based in the affections—identified with the interests—incorporated with the feelings—and sustained by the will of a free and intelligent people—are diffusing over their citizens the benign influences of domestic quiet, wholesome laws, and the preservation of their civil and religious rights and privileges.

The permanent and continued prosperity of our country in every department of business, especially in the agricultural portion of it, upon which we must mainly rely for the great bulk of our national wealth, I can but think is mainly attributable to the healthful influence of the national revenue system adopted by the Congress of the United States in 1846.

It is a political axiom too obvious to be controverted, that the ability of the people of one nation to buy the produce of another, is limited by the ability to pay for the same by the surplus products of their own industry. The adoption of a low rate of tariff duties in 1846 at home, and a corresponding relaxation of the stringent restrictions upon commerce abroad, have not only had the effect to bring into the treasury of the United States a greater amount of revenue, but also to increase greatly the profits of the agricultural, manufacturing, and commercial classes of community.

Should this beneficent system, by which the millions engaged in agriculture are enabled to procure a wider and more favorable market for the surplus products of their labor, be suffered to continue, it is confidently believed that the permanent prosperity of the toiling millions of our population will be placed upon a durable basis.

By a treaty of peace recently entered into between the United States and the Republic of Mexico, our Government has acquired a large extent of territory which must, at no distant day, be erected into separate state governments, and provided with organic laws. The public mind has become too much agitated upon a question of vital importance connected with the character of those organic laws, to be passed over in silence upon the present occasion. There is but little diversity of sentiment amongst the people of Indiana upon the question of human slavery; yet, as decidedly as are the opinions of our people opposed to this institution, we have ever manifested an unwillingness to interfere with the constitutional rights of our brethren of the slave States upon this very delicate subject. The territory thus acquired has come to us free. The question is now presented to the American people, whether this territory shall remain free. It cannot be doubted that the response of the people of Indiana to this momentous question, will be in favor of freedom. Whilst we are in favor of freedom, let us exercise that forbearance towards our political brethren of the slave States of this Union, which characterizes the conduct of the patriot and statesman. Nevertheless, it is our imperative duty to assert our rights as members of the same great family, and manfully resist, by all legal and constitutional means, the further advancement of slavery into territory belonging to the General Government. That Congress possesses this power does not admit of a doubt, and the only remaining question to be determined is, whether it is expedient to exercise that right. To decide this question affirmatively, the reflecting mind need only glance over the history of our beloved country—the rise and progress in the arts and sciences—in manufactures, mechanics, internal improvements, and every other great element of social and political happiness in the States of this Union, but too plainly admonish us that bounds should be prescribed to the baleful influence of human slavery. It may be said, however, that this territory was acquired by the common blood and treasure of the Nation, and consequently we should not agitate this subject. To this objection it may well be answered that this territory is common property—the people of the Union are the owners—they constitute one great confederacy of States, and that all questions involving common property and the common welfare, must ever be submitted to the wisdom and discretion of Congress. The propriety of expressing, by a joint resolution of the General Assembly, the voice of the people of Indiana upon this exciting question, is respectfully suggested.

It is a source of gratification to be enabled to state that our financial condition still continues to improve. It is the most unerring evidence of the increasing prosperity of the country.

The ordinary expenditures of the State Government for the fiscal year ending on the 31st day of October, 1849, were $74,469 89.

The ordinary expenditures for the current fiscal year, are estimated by the Auditor of State, at $72,000.

The amount of revenue paid into the State Treasury, during the last year on all accounts, was $441,650 22, which exceeds the amount paid the previous year $28,901 49.

The assessment for State purposes for 1849, (estimating the counties of Cass, Fountain, Jackson, Lake, Pulaski, Spencer, and Whitley, from which no returns have been received, as they were last year,) is $508,537 81, and for county, road, school, and township purposes collectively, $630,570 90. Adding to these sums the delinquencies of former years uncollected, amounting to $163,993 38, and the whole amount on the duplicates for 1849 will be $1,302,202 09.

The number of polls returned for 1849, (estimating the seven counties above mentioned, from which no returns have been received, as they were last year,) is 143,720, being an increase over the returns of last year of 7,445. The value of the entire property of the State subject to taxation as returned for 1849, (estimating the counties not returned as they were last year,) is $133,419,056, which is an increase over last year of $4,458,070.

The rate of delinquency in the collection of taxes for 1848 is about $15 65 on the $100, or a little less than one-sixth; the average delinquency is very much increased by a heavy delinquency, which has been continued from year to year on the duplicates, much of which will never be collected. The delinquency in a large majority of the counties is small, and the collections creditable to the people and to the Treasurers.

It will be seen, from the foregoing statement, that the increase on the number of polls, taxable property, and amount of taxes, has been greater for the past year than for many previous years.

It is confidently believed that much improvement might be made in our revenue system, especially so as to embrace a species of property to a large amount, which too frequently escapes taxation,

(such as corporation and other stocks, money on hand or at interest, and many other articles of a valuable nature,) thereby lightening the burden of taxation, which now rests most heavily upon the agricultural portion of the community.

I respectfully submit for your consideration, as a matter of justice to the Executive, and of sound economy to the public service, the propriety of re-establishing the office of Private Secretary to the Governor, with an annual salary sufficient to compensate him for his services. An officer of this character can very materially aid the Executive in the performance of many official duties. The incidental expenses which the Executive is bound to incur during the year, added to the amount very properly allowed at every session of the Legislature, to an Executive Messenger, would be sufficient to procure the services of a gentleman amply qualified for the discharge of the duties of the office, and in whom the necessary confidence could be reposed.

In 1847, when the arrangement of the State's indebtedness was made with her creditors, the debt, exclusive of interest, was $11,- 045,000. There has been surrendered and converted into new stock, to 1st July last,	$9,530,000
Since July 1st,	33,000
Making,	$9,563,000

Leaving yet to come into this arrangement, 1488 bonds or $1,488,000. These bonds are held in Europe and in this country, and are coming in gradually. I am informed by the Agent of State, that he entertains but little doubt that all will be surrendered so soon as arrangements can be made by the holders to obtain the assent of the parties interested. I am induced to concur in opinion with this officer, for the additional reason that the holders must be satisfied that the State will not soon, if ever, make any different arrangement for their liquidation.

The semi-annual interest due to our creditors under the two acts of the Legislature of 1846 and 1847, providing for the settlement of our State debt, was punctually paid at the Indiana Agency in the City of New York, on the 1st of July last, amounting to $95,300. A portion of this sum, say $79,000, was borrowed of the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund and of the Banks. The authority to make this loan is given by the 44th section of an act of the last Legislature, entitled "An act making general appropriations, &c., for the year 1849, and for other purposes," (approved January 16th, 1849,) to the Governor, Auditor, and Treasurer of State, to be exercised in their sound discretion. There was no diversity of opinion as to the expediency of exercising that authority. Many considerations prompted us to adopt the course indicated in the law referred to, some of the most prominent of which are—

1st. That the State stock was then at a price which placed it by the side of the stock of the regular dividend paying States—to withhold or postpone a dividend, would inevitably have depreciated it, and impaired the re-established credit of the State.

2d. The State was and is now deeply interested in the completion of the Wabash and Erie Canal, and more particularly the citizens of that fertile and improving portion of it from Terre Haute to Evansville, which has never heretofore received the encouragement and Legislative attention which its importance has and now merits. The fund now available for that purpose, will hardly accomplish it. If our bondholders by our conduct are assured of the stability, integrity, and resources of the State, by having their interest regularly paid, they will not only be better prepared, but better disposed, to make up the necessary sum required of them by law, to bring that valuable work into complete connection with the Ohio river at an early day.

3d. There is scarcely any portion of our State that was not then, as now, directly or remotely interested in some line of railroad in process of construction, or in contemplation with a reasonable hope of ultimate completion. These roads are wanting aid, and seek it in many instances away from home. The most certain method of securing this aid, is to establish to the world that the State is not only rich in resources, but equally prompt in payment.

4th. In borrowing the money from our bank, we pay interest to an institution owned almost entirely within the State, and by the State herself, which makes all the profits accruing from the loan.

5th. By paying in money the State avoids the expense of issuing certificates for the unpaid interest as well as the payment of interest upon the certificates so issued, for an indefinite period of time, the expense of which, from a report heretofore made at a previous session of the Legislature, is shown to greatly exceed the interest on the simple loan, to say nothing of the confusion necessarily growing out of the issuing of the certificates (many of which are for ten and twenty dollars) and of the keeping of complex interest accounts.

The interest paid at the Indiana Agency in the City of New York on the 1st of July last, was, as before stated, $95,300, being two per cent. on $4,765,000, the debt at that time under the new arrangement.

In January, 1850, we shall probably have to pay $100,000, as two hundred and thirty bonds coming in from July to January will make up that amount. The State commenced paying interest with July, 1847, and to the present time has paid five semi-annual payments, amounting in the aggregate to nearly half a million of dollars. Meantime the State stock has been steadily and gradually advancing in value, till it now stands at seventy cents on the dollar, (its full value, taking six per cent. interest per annum, as the standard). This fact must be gratifying to the friends of the State, more especially to those who took so deep an interest in the honorable adjustment of the State's indebtedness, as it furnishes unmistakable evidence of an increasing confidence in her resources, as well as a firm reliance upon her integrity.

The large amount of treasury notes (commonly denominated scrip) which has heretofore been paid for taxes, has somewhat embarrassed the State Treasury, consequently we have, at times, been without the means to pay our interest as it becomes due. For the past dividends this deficiency has been supplied by making temporary loans from our banks, (none of which remain unpaid, except the one made to meet the interest due in July last). To avoid this embarrassment upon the Treasury, and to enable the State to make her regular semi-annual payments from the taxes annually paid by her citizens, the Legislature, by a joint-resolution passed at its last session, instructed the State Agent to negotiate an extension of the January payment of interest, until March each year. In June last, the Agent of State prepared and addressed a circular to our bondholders, (a copy of which was also transmitted to the Executive Department,) in which he proposed a postponement of the payment of the January instalment of interest, until the first Monday of the succeeding March; at which time it was further proposed, that the deferred dividend or interest should be paid, with six per cent. interest thereon.

Up to October last he had received answers from two hundred and eight of our bondholders, out of five hundred and forty-nine. A large proportion of those from whom answers have been received, accede to the terms of the circular. Some agree to the terms, upon condition, that all the others will accede; a number yield reluctantly, not wishing to oppose any reasonable request the State may make in relation to this question, and some refuse positively. The remaining three hundred and forty-one have not, as yet, answered the Agent of State. In view of the critical position of the State upon this question, and the great complexity that may be produced in keeping the accounts of the Agency, do not the reasons which have heretofore influenced the proper officers to negotiate temporary loans to meet promptly the payment of interest due the bondholders, operate with the same force now as heretofore? I believe they do; it is, therefore, recommended that provisions be made by law to anticipate this contingency.

In conformity with the provisions of an act, entitled "An act for taking the sense of the qualified voters of the State, on the calling of a convention, to alter, amend, or revise the Constitution of this State," approved January 15, 1849, a poll was opened at the annual election held in August last, at the places of holding elections in the several counties of this State, and from the returns made to the office of Secretary of State, as required by the act referred to, it appears that there were cast at said election, in favor of calling a Convention, 81,500 votes, and against it 57,418 votes. The total vote of the State for Governor is, 147,250; the total vote of the State, 149,774, (in this latter statement the vote of Fayette county for Governor is included, the total vote of that county not having been returned,) showing a majority of 6,612 votes in favor of a call for a convention, over all the votes cast at that election. The duty of the present General Assembly is plain ; it will become necessary to provide by law for districting the State, with a view to the election of delegates to that convention ; to determine the number of delegates which shall compose that body, and the time of holding the same. It is most respectfully suggested that, in the discharge of this important duty, the members of the General Assembly should divest themselves of all party predilections, and make such an apportionment as will insure to the people of the State, irrespective of parties, a full and fair representation in that body. This being done, a great initiative step is taken, which will tend as much as any other to predispose the people of the State to adopt the new constitution which the convention may present to them for their ratification.

Whilst upon this subject it is proper to say, that it will be necessary to levy an additional tax, to defray the expenses of the Convention—the amount necessary will depend much upon the length of the present session of the General Assembly. In all probability the organic laws of the State will undergo, in the course of the ensuing year, many material alterations, which will at once suggest the propriety of passing but few general laws, inasmuch as they may become inconsistent or inoperative under the new organization of the State government.

Special legislation is a growing evil which has attracted much attention amongst the masses of the people, and to which much well founded opposition exists in the public mind. Indeed, it has for years past engaged full three-fourths of the time of the General Assembly, to the exclusion (from their due consideration) of many other questions of great importance to the people of the State. It has also occasioned a corresponding proportion of the expenses of our legislation. To avoid this evil, I earnestly recommend to you the enactment of such general laws as will confer upon the proper subordinate tribunals of the country, the requisite power to adjust all such questions as are properly and exclusively the subjects of special enactments. If this course is deemed impolitic, I trust that such provision will be made in the contemplated new constitution, as will effectually prevent it.

Believing that the interest and welfare of our country demand greater security to the families of a large and respectable portion of our unfortunate fellow-citizens, who are often over-reached by the superior knowledge and cunning of their fellow men, or become embarrassed in their pecuniary affairs by the vicissitudes of trade, it is respectfully recommended that such a change be made in our execution laws, (to operate prospectively) as will exempt from execution and sale, in favor of any resident defendant and his family, a specific number of acres of land, or a specific amount in value; in all cases to include the homestead, or so much thereof as it will embrace. The details of such a law are left to the better judgment of the General Assembly. Should a law embracing this humane principle not meet with favor at the present session of the General Assembly, I trust that before the next assembling of the people's representatives, this principle will become a constitutional provision, thereby placing it beyond the power of unfavorable legislative action.

By this provision many an innocent wife and her unoffending children would be provided with a home sufficient, by industry and economy, to afford a comfortable support, thereby escaping a life of wretchedness and want. It may be said by those (if unfortunately there are any,) opposed to this humane principle, that it will encourage fraud and dishonesty—not so, the man who is industrious, but who has also been unfortunate, would feel grateful to the country whose laws have protected him from ruin, he would make much greater exertion to recuperate his broken fortunes, and to extricate himself from his embarrassments. Moreover it would tend as much as any other single measure to check the credit system which has been so often abused, and has brought so much distress upon the country.

Since the adjournment of the last Legislature a vacancy occurred (by the death of Basil Brown, the then incumbent,) in the office of Superintendent of the Northern Division of the Central Canal, including that portion lying between Broad Ripple and the Bluffs of White River. That vacancy was filled by the appointment of Henry Nelson, who held the office but a short time when he tendered his resignation. He was succeeded by the appointment of Robert Greenfield, the present incumbent, who has faithfully discharged the duties of his office. There seems to be some difficulty between the Superintendent and the lessees of water power on the canal. They contend, as he informs me, that the State has forfeited her contract, much to their damage, by failing to furnish the necessary quantity of water power, and he, upon the contrary, contends that the State has performed all that she is bound to do. Without deciding upon the subject matter of controversy, it is confidently believed that the interest of the State requires that the rights of the parties under their several contracts should be definitely settled before the judicial tribunals of the country, and that the State should, if she can by any honorable means, rid herself of the annual expense she incurs in keeping the canal in repair. I therefore recommend the enactment of a law, making it the imperative duty of the Superintendent to institute suit against one or more of the lessees, who may be in arrears for non-payment of water power rents to the State, with a view of testing the contracts heretofore alluded to. It is not right that the citizens of the State, living remote from the canal, and who cannot by any possible means be benefitted thereby, should be compelled to pay taxes annually to keep it in repair.

In conformity with the provisions of a Joint Resolution authorizing the Governor or Agent of State to make sale of all or any real estate owned by the State of Indiana in the State of Georgia, approved January 16, 1849, I sold in February last to Martin R. Green, Esqr., all the interest which the State had, either legally or equitably, in and to what are commonly denominated the "Georgia lands"—the State simply quits all her claim to them. I conceive the sale an advantageous one to the State, although the price can scarcely be considered nominal, compared with the supposed quantity of lands.

By the provisions of another Joint Resolution passed at the same session entitled, "A Joint Resolution in relation to the contract between the State and her Bond holders," (approved January 16, 1849,) a suit has been instituted in the Montgomery Circuit Court against the Trustees of the Bond holders for an alleged violation of the contract on the part of the said Trustees; the case has not yet been decided. Complaints have been made to the Executive Department of other alleged violations of the contract on the part of the Trustees, accompanied with urgent appeals to the Executive to authorize suits to be instituted. Without pretending to determine the question of alleged violation of the contract, I respectfully suggest as a matter of relief to the Executive, and of justice to the parties, that the Joint Resolution should be so amended as to require the complaining party to file a written specification of the alleged violation of the contract with the Board of Trustees when in session, and upon ^{its} refusal or failure of the Board to take immediate action on the same, that the complaining party may file a certified copy of such written specification, and the proceedings of the Board thereon, with the Executive, whose duty it shall be to cause suit to be instituted immediately, under the provisions of the original Joint Resolution.

It has been represented to me that the accounts subsisting between the State and the General Government in reference to the "Three per cent. Fund," have not been finally and correctly adjusted, and that an account ranging from fifty to one hundred thousand dollars is yet due from the United States to this State. Application was made to me during the present year for authority to examine into the accounts with a view to their final and satisfactory adjustment. That authority was delegated, so far as I possessed the power, and a conditional arrangement entered into, which was to be entirely under the control of a subsequent Legislature, and by which the State incurs no expense or liability, unless a balance is found due to the State and allowed by the proper authority.—This conditional arrangement was made with gentlemen worthy of confidence, and entirely competent to the performance of the task they have assumed. A letter of recent date received by me expresses entire confidence in a favorable result of their investigations.

The report of the Visitor to the State Prison has not yet been received. This delay has been occasioned by the recent death of the gentleman first appointed to perform that duty. I can however state from my own personal knowledge, that general good order is preserved by the present worthy and efficient Warden, and that the convicts are well supplied with suitable food and clothing. Steps have been taken under the advice of a respectable physician, and upon the recommendation of the officers of the Prison, to improve the means of comfort to the sick, by the creation of a suitable Hospital for their use, and also to preserve the health of those convicts who occupy the proper prison cells, by providing additional means of ventilation.

When the report is received it will doubtless be laid before you, accompanied with such suggestions as its importance may merit.

The reports of the Adjutant and Quarter Master Generals present nothing which seems to require any legislative action. The business in the respective departments has been regularly and promptly attended to during the year.

The public mind seems to be awakened to the necessity of improving the channels of intercommunication in our State, and no public improvement seems to commend itself to the public with more favor than that of plank roads. So far as experience teaches any thing upon this subject, it is in favor of that character of improvements, from the cheapness of construction, and the ability of the agricultural portion of the community to furnish within themselves the means of construction. They are doubtless in a few years to become the channels through which the surplus products of the country will find an outlet to the great thoroughfares of the State, such as railroads, canals, and navigable rivers. The propriety of granting liberal, yet safe charters to companies desiring to construct this character of public improvement is respectfully suggested.

Some of the States of the Union have expressed an opinion favorable to the establishment of an Agricultural Bureau in the "Department of the Interior" at Washington, whose province it shall be to superintend and promote the great interest of agricultural improvement in the nation. If this Department is continued at Washington, would it not be proper for the General Assembly to express an opinion favorable to the creation of this Bureau?

The propriety of furnishing the Washington National Monument Society with a block of Indiana marble to aid in the erection of a monument in that city to the memory of the Father of his Country, is respectfully submitted to the patriotic consideration of the members of the General Assembly.

The Indiana Institution for the Education of the Blind still continues to increase in usefulness, under the superintendence of its present able head, Mr. W. H. Churchman. The number of pupils now in attendance is thirty-eight, showing an increase of ten since last year's report. It is truly gratifying to learn that the excess of the receipts for work performed by the pupils, over the cost of the raw material for the present year is three hundred and fifteen dollars. The present buildings are insufficient to accommodate to advantage the present increased and increasing numbers. I earnestly recommend to your favorable action the suggestions contained in the third annual report of the Trustees of this Institution upon this particular subject.

The Deaf and Dumb Asylum has continued to increase in prosperity and usefulness, and the same retrenchment in current expenditures so favorably noticed in the last executive message of my predecessor has continued. The number of pupils has reached one hundred and twenty-five. The new buildings are so far progressed that the walls are completed, and secured from injury by roofs.

Owing to the careful management of current expenditures it will not be necessary to increase the rate of taxation for this purpose, as it is supposed that the revenue of 1849 and 1850 will be amply sufficient. It will merely be desirable to provide some means by which the Trustees may anticipate a part of the revenue of 1850. After that time it is believed that a material reduction can be made in the assessment. Considering the crowded state of the present inconvenient rented buildings, the amount paid for their use, (which is not less than eleven hundred dollars per annum,) and the fact that the labor of the pupils can now be rendered but slightly profitable, there can be no doubt of the propriety of providing for the completion of the new Asylum during the approaching season.

Under the superintendence of R. J. Patterson, M. D., an able and experienced physician, a portion of the Indiana Hospital for the Insane, was opened for the reception of patients in December last. Since that period, more than one hundred patients have been admitted to its wards and enjoyed the blessings of sanitary treatment.

By the careful and skillful treatment adopted in this Institution, twenty of this unfortunate class of our race have already been restored to health, and have gone forth to again fill stations of usefulness in society. Among the inmates of this Institution, are to be found citizens from the various classes in society, afflicted with a disease the severest to which the human family is subject, and which seems to be no respecter of persons. That portion of the Hospital buildings now completed, is crowded with inmates, and many are still seeking admittance, but are for the present denied a place for the want of room.

Doubtless it was the intention of the last General Assembly, to provide ample means for the completion of the Hospital buildings during the present year. A bill for that purpose was reported, which passed without objection, (as is believed,) through both branches of the Legislature, but, by accident, was lost or mislaid, and consequently did not become a law.

By reason of the failure of realizing the benefit of this bill, the work has been mostly suspended, and only such additional apartments completed as were absolutely demanded for the relief of some of the most pressing applicants for admission.

It is very desirable that early provisions be made for the speedy completion of the Hospital buildings entire. It is believed that no State in the Union has done as much in so short a period of time, to ameliorate the condition of her own unfortunate fellow-citizens, as the State of Indiana; nor has the same success attended the Benevolent Institutions of any other, that has blessed those of our own State. The promptitude and cheerfulness with which the people have responded to the calls of their representatives, for the means necessary to support these public Institutions, will redound, in all coming time, to their honor and prosperity.

A proposition to found an Asylum for the poor and destitute orphans of the State, is respectfully yet earnestly recommended to your favorable consideration. No enterprise can reflect more credit and glory upon the people and their representatives, than that which tends to the elevation of the poor and destitute orphan—nothing has so great a tendency to attach the poor man to his country and her glorious institutions, as a knowledge that his rights are protected whilst he is living, and that his destitute children will be cared for when he is dead. Certainly no true christian or philanthropist can or will be found in opposition to such a measure.

The subject of education is one at all times of paramount importance, and should engage the most vigilant attention of our legislators. I cannot close this communication without leaving my humble testimony in its favor.

Accurate information has been received from the principal Universities and Colleges of the State, from which I am enabled to inform you, that at no former period have they enjoyed so great a degree of prosperity as at the present time. Indiana Asbury University presents a catalogue of two hundred and ninety-five students; Indiana University numbers one hundred and ninety-seven; Hanover College, one hundred and eighty-three; Wabash College, one hundred and forty-eight, with a library of six thousand volumes, and a rich Geological Cabinet; Franklin College numbers one hundred and forty-five, making an aggregate of nine hundred and sixty-eight, of the youth of our country who have been receiving collegiate instruction within the past year. Indiana Asbury University has organized a Medical Department at this city, (Indianapolis,) with an able faculty. The first session of this Department commenced in November last, with a fair prospect of success. There is a Law Department attached to the State University at Bloomington, under the charge of two able Professors, (Judges McDonnald and Otto,) which promises great usefulness to those who desire instruction in that learned profession. Franklin College has succeeded in extinguishing a heavy debt which has hitherto crippled her energies and impaired her usefulness—it is now supposed that she will realize the brightest hopes of her friends.

It is believed that this unparalleled prosperity is doubtless attributable in a very great degree, to two prominent causes: the ability of our Presidents and Professors to impart a thorough and profound course of collegiate instruction to the students, and to the healthfulness of the locations, the economy of living, and the moral associations.

It is a source of unmingled pleasure to be enabled to state that the important subject of female education is rapidly gaining a strong hold upon the feelings of our people. There are already many flourishing female institutions in our State, such as the Green-castle Female Seminary, under the charge of Mrs. Larrabee and other accomplished assistants, numbering for the past year, one hundred and fifty students, of which number, about ninety were in constant attendance. The Bloomington Female Institution, under the superintendence of Mrs. McPherson, assisted by competent and accomplished young ladies, which also presents a catalogue of eighty or ninety in regular attendance. The Fort Wayne Female College, the Centreville Female Seminary, the St. Mary's Seminary, Indianapolis, and St. Mary of the Woods, Vigo County, all of which are in successful operation, besides the Princeton and New Albany Female Seminaries, with others that are in process of organization. The time will soon arrive when the fair daughters of Indiana will be enabled to acquire, within the borders of their own native State, an education which will place them in favorable comparison with those of the most highly favored portions of our country. However gratifying it may be to witness the rapid advancement of a portion of our population in the higher branches of the Arts and Sciences, there is yet another subject which attracts our attention by its greater importance. I allude to the subject of Free Common Schools, in which the masses of the people are more immediately and vitally interested; it is upon them that our country mainly relies for her permanent peace and prosperity, and it is to their advancement and improvement in knowledge that our legislative action should be mainly directed.

It is a favorite axiom of our republican creed, that all our citizens are politically equal. To enable the citizen to enjoy the rights and privileges granted to him by our constitution, it is necessary that he should receive at least a good elementary English education; if he has this, he is capable of understanding the tendency and bearing of all political questions which are brought forward for public discussion—he is capable of appreciating his rights and maintaining them—he can analyze public measures, examine into the conduct of public men, and hold them to strict accountability.

An act was passed at the last General Assembly, the object of which was to increase and extend the benefits of Free Common Schools to the children of the State. Many of the counties, by a vote of the people, adopted this law, and it is to be hoped that in a very short time, there will not be a county in the State, whose citizens will refuse to avail themselves of the benefits of this measure. Doubtless there are many imperfections in the law which will have to be remedied by time and experience, yet it answers as a basis upon which to rear a noble superstructure which will shed its benign influences over all the children of this great and growing young State. When we contemplate the magnitude of this subject in all its varied bearings upon the welfare of the rising generation and upon the perpetuity of that republican form of government, which cost the richest and best blood of the conscript fathers of the revolution, it seems to me that no representative of the people in this enlightened age will assume upon himself the solemn and fearful responsibility of refusing the means of support to a well digested system of Free Common Schools, thereby closing the door to the diffusion of light and knowledge.

The Temperance cause is one which is deeply agitating the public mind. Whilst I cannot subscribe to all the ultra views advanced by some of the advocates of this great and glorious cause—a cause which ultimately every good man in the community is bound to sustain—yet I earnestly invite your attention to the subject and recommend that you enact such stringent laws, for the prevention of the sale of ardent spirits, as will arrest the vice of drunkenness, which stalks over the fairest portion of our country with a worse than pestilential march.

In conclusion, Gentlemen, permit me to recommend a cordial co-operation between my worthy successor and the legislative department of the government, in the enactment of such laws as are best calculated to promote the public welfare and especially the great and important measures of temperance, morality, and education.

Trusting that your deliberations will be characterized by moderation and wisdom, I commend you to the guidance of an all wise Providence, with my fervent wishes for the success of the great and vitally important measures, upon which you are called to deliberate.

PARIS C. DUNNING.

DECEMBER 4, 1849.

The Senate then retired to their chamber.

Mr. Cravens, from a select committee, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER :

The select committee, to whom was referred the evidence transmitted to this House by the Secretary of State in relation to the election of Representative from the county of Spencer, have had the same under consideration, and report that from an examination of said evidence, they find the following facts to exist: At the last general election, held in Spencer county, John W. Graham and William B. Richardson were candidates for Representative; that the board of canvassers of said county did on the day prescribed by law declare John W. Graham duly elected Representative of the county of Spencer. It further appears that the returns, as received by the canvassers, shows that John W. Graham received five hundred and fifty-three votes, and that William B. Richardson received five hundred and thirty votes, leaving a majority to said Graham of twenty-three votes. This result was produced by the rejection of the vote of Jackson Township, in which Graham received forty-two votes, and William B. Richardson received sixty-eight votes. It appears that the reason alleged by the board of canvassers for the rejection of the returns of said Township, was the neglect of the Judges affixing their signatures to said return, being signed, however, by the clerks; had the returns of Jackson Township been computed, the result would have given William B. Richardson a majority of three votes, thereby duly electing him Representative.

It is very properly provided in the Statute regulating general elections that no vote shall be rejected for want of form, and the same principle carried out by warrantable inference, would secure from improper motives or negligence the fairly expressed will of the people—in view of these facts, the committee therefore recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, That William B. Richardson be admitted to a seat in this House as Representative from the county of Spencer.

Which was concurred in.

Mr. William B. Richardson, of the county of Spencer, appeared was duly qualified, and took his seat.

Mr. Isaac W. Hunter, Representative elect from the county of Marion, appeared, was duly qualified, and took his seat.

Mr. Mickle introduced,

No. 1. A bill to provide for holding a Convention of the people to revise and amend the Constitution of this State.

Which was read a first time, and ordered to a second reading.

Mr. Wilson moved to suspend the rules and read the bill a second time.

The ayes and noes being demanded by Messrs. Edwards and Lane,

Those who voted in the affirmative are,

Messrs. Barker, Bird, Bowen, Brown of R., Carnahan of Fountain, Conner, Cotton, Harney, Hillis, Holcomb, Landis, Leviston, Menaugh, Murray, Prather, Shelby, Thom, Wells, Wilson, and Withers—20.

Those who voted in the negative are,

Messrs. Allen, Alley, Athon, Beard, Brown of S., Burnet, Butler, Byers, Caldwell, Campbell, Carnahan of Posey, Cleaver, Cole, Conaway, Cravens, Defrees, Delavan, Dodd, Dougherty of Boone, Dougherty of Elkhart, Edwards, Elder, Ellis, Essex, Farnesly, Gentry, Gessie, Graves, Greathouse, Hart, Harvey, Hicks, Hill, Huey, Humphreys, Hunter, Johnson, Keeney, Knowlton, Lane, Lank, May, Mickle, Miller of Marshall and Fulton, Miller of Owen, Millikan, Morrison, Niblack, O'Haver, O'Neal, Orr, Patterson, Reed, Richardson, Robinson of Decatur, Robinson of Laporte, Robson, Ross, Rush, Russell, Salter, Shepard, Sherrod, Spencer, Summers, Stewart, Stone, Stoops, Thomas, Tinbrook, Warriner, Watkins, Weaver, Weir, Whinery, Wright, Yocum, and Mr. Speaker—76.

So the rules were not suspended.

On motion by Mr. Reed,

Resolved, That the Senate be invited to attend in the Hall of the House, instantler, to continue the count of the votes for Governor and Lieutenant-Governor.

Mr. Prather offered the following resolution :

Resolved, That the Governor's Message be laid on the table and 500 copies be printed for the use of this House.

Mr. Mickle moved to strike out 500 and insert 1,000.

Mr. Allen moved to amend the amendment by striking out 500 and inserting 500 in the German language and 1,000 in the English language.

Mr. Mickle moved to lay the resolution and pending amendments on the table.

Which motion prevailed.

Isaac Blackford, one of the Judges of the Supreme Court, in the presence of both Houses of the General Assembly: Whereupon, His Excellency, the Governor, delivered the following

ADDRESS:

Senators, Representatives, and Fellow-Citizens:

Having taken the oath of office prescribed by the Constitution, suffer me to return to you, and through you to our fellow-citizens generally, my grateful acknowledgments for the confidence they have generously bestowed upon me. While I do this, I desire in this public manner to asseverate that my time and ability shall be employed in endeavoring to promote the happiness of all. Custom sanctions and enjoins that I shall briefly declare to you the views which are entertained by me, upon some of the topics which engage the attention of the people at the present period.

It is gratifying that our State during the past year, by a decisive vote, has shown a desire to favor the constitutional reforms of the age. Thirty-three years have passed away since our fathers framed for us our present excellent constitution. Under this constitution we have lived in the enjoyment of civil and religious liberty. Our prosperity has been great—our growth rapid—and the march of improvement onward. Time has not only proved the correctness of the republican principles contained in the constitution, but it has had a tendency to show that they may be much further extended and more generally applied. The elective principle was highly valued by our fathers, and, it may be justly said, they were far in advance of our sister States of that day; but a still further advance is practicable. In order to more effectually guard against improper appointments to office, and against such as may be made with selfish motives, without reference to the welfare of the public in general, or the will of the people, the elective power may be safely substituted for the appointing power.

Another subject of primary importance is that of Common Schools. Men of intelligence can best and most safely exercise the sovereign prerogative of the elective franchise; and to secure general intelligence among men, they must begin to learn while they are children. It seems to me therefore that we should concentrate every legitimate effort to accomplish this end, bestowing all the means at our command to the promotion of this common good in the most expansive form,—that we should first endeavor to extend common schools to every neighborhood, so far as may be done without the infliction of burdensome taxes upon the people, while we leave the County Seminaries and the higher institutions of learning to individual or associated enterprise, by which it is believed they will be best sustained. Other measures will doubtless receive the consideration of the convention, among which might be named the necessary checks upon improvident legislation—suitable restraints against special or partial legislation; and a positive requirement that the titles of all bills shall fully describe the subject matter of the same—biennial sessions of the legislature—the homestead exemption—a prohibition against the borrowing of money for any purpose, beyond a given sum, unless authorized by a direct vote of the people.

We are now in the prosecution of a new system of internal improvements much preferable to the past, because it is founded upon individual capital and enterprise, and will consequently be conducted with economy and prudence. It is to be feared, however, that there is too great a disposition to carry on works of this character by the subscriptions of cities and counties. The appropriation of their revenues to such purposes, is foreign to the primary objects for which municipal corporations are organized, for which the power of taxation is granted to them; and besides may lead not only to individual but local embarrassments and difficulties similar to those in which in State became involved a few years since.

That policy is of doubtful expediency which demands the aid of the State Treasury for the revenue of cities and counties in its prosecution. It will be found that by leaving the enterprise and capital of our people free to seek investment, aided by a liberal legislation in the grants of charters, we shall be able to commence and finish those public works that will repay the capital invested, and will, in their prosecution be characterized with economy, and in due time greatly increase the resources of the State.

The legislature will, no doubt, thus aid the companies, which now are, or may hereafter be engaged in the prosecution of such works, exhibiting alike the enterprise and energy of our people, while it will be also careful to impose all needful checks and restrictions.

Intimately connected with the prosecution of these works is the faithfully keeping, on our part, inviolate, past contracts and engagements with our creditors. It will require the utmost economy and prudence to preserve the credit and contracts of the State unimpaired.

I take this occasion, in the commencement of my duties, to express to you this day, and through you to our fellow-citizens, the assurance, that no effort of mine shall be spared to keep fair the credit of the State, and faithfully to keep all our past contracts.

We should now, mutually covenant and agree with each other, as the representatives of our people, that we will maintain at any and every sacrifice, the credit of Indiana upon our past engagements; and that we will not hereafter pledge her faith for another dollar of public money. It is not only our duty to take this position and keep it firmly, but to go one step further. By increased property subject to taxation, as well as new objects of revenue, to be reached by judicious enactments, we may, so soon as the small amount of 6 per cent. treasury notes now outstanding is provided for, command means to create a Sinking Fund whereby the extinguishment of our State debt may be immediately thereafter commenced. And as it must require much deliberation, and perhaps the labor of more than one session, to perfect such a system, it might be well that its consideration be speedily entered upon.— With prudence and economy in our expenditures, and a proper application of what has been saved from the wreck of the past, with the increasing objects of taxation, our State can, under such a system, commence the extinguishment of a portion of our public liabilities, and thereby soon lessen the burthens of taxation for that object, and open the way for a more enlarged system of free schools and other enterprises, that will demand the resources of our growing State. And we may be fully assured that our common constituents look with intense anxiety to the commencement of such a system, as will ultimately consummate the extinguishment of our State debt.

Within the last few years, several bills have received the sanction of the Legislature, referring claims against the State to commissioners, or other specially constituted tribunals, for adjustment or adjudication. I think the policy of such references very questionable, especially when accompanied by preambles or recitations, assuming as established, matters which should be left to be proved by evidence, thus forestalling the action of the tribunal proposedly established to investigate the merits of the case, and depriving the State of her legal defence. Ordinarily, the Legislature with its appropriate committees, possessing the power to send for persons and papers, can sufficiently investigate all claims presented by citizens against the State. If such claims are just, they should be paid, and it is much better to appropriate money directly from the Treasury for that purpose, than in this indirect mode, to cripple the Treasury by subjecting it to demands uncertain in amount, and frequently unjust in their character.

It would be much better to remove at once the privilege of the State, and allow all persons to bring suit against her in the courts, as in other cases, than thus to open the door to only a privileged few, who may by management and influence succeed in procuring a reference by this species of special legislation.

The practical effect of the reference of these supposed claims against the State, is to send them to some tribunal, not to ascertain the rights of the parties in the controversy, but usually to determine how much the State is able to bear. It would be much better for the State that the representatives should directly vote the money out of the treasury, as past experience indicates that the State has greatly suffered, when the Legislature has been persuaded to create special tribunals to settle rejected claims.

The success attending our benevolent institutions is a subject that we should be proud of; and it is your duty to sustain them by liberal appropriations. No part of the burdens upon our people are paid with more cheerfulness than those laid for sustaining the benevolent institutions of the State. While this is your duty, it is alike indispensable that suitable checks should be provided for all expenditures of money for this or any other purpose authorized by law.

While principles of economy in all public expenditures should never be lost sight of, it is equally important that we should be careful to guard ourselves against extremes. It is just and right that all the officers in the employ of the people should receive an adequate compensation for their services—such compensation as will enlist the capable and trust-worthy.

The most wholesome laws may fail to meet the object for which they were passed, in consequence of their improper administration or incorrect interpretation. It is the part of sound policy in the administration of our laws to employ integrity and talent. We should make the compensation of those who administer justice and execute trusts sufficient, at least, for their support. Entertaining these views, it would meet my hearty approval to see the salaries of our public officers so regulated as not to confer wealth on the one hand, or poverty on the other.

A thorough geological examination of our State is alike demanded by the interest of Agriculture, Manufactures, and Commerce. We learn from the hurried and incomplete reconnoissance made by Dr. David Dale Owen, many years since, that we are rich in mineral as well as agricultural resources; that about seven thousand square miles of the great Illinois coal fields are embraced within the limits of Indiana. It is to be regretted that he was not permitted to complete his survey, which promised such rich results. That we have coal, iron, and other minerals in abundance is already known, for we have enterprizes in different quarters of the State laying hold of these elements of power and wealth. A full and practical report from an able and scientific source would disclose fully our vast agricultural and manufacturing resources; and would doubtless facilitate the companies of the State, in procuring aid to carry on the works they are so energetically pressing forward. I cannot forbear to say that it would gratify me to see this subject attracting your early and favorable attention.

There is no subject of more general complaint than the delay attending the settlements of estates in our Probate Courts; and the expense connected therewith. It is most respectfully suggested that no change which can be adopted, will bring about the reform so much required, so well as one which would make the pay of the officer administering the law, dependent somewhat on the settlement of estates; and which should operate as a mutual check upon the representative of the decedent and the court.

It is a source of complaint on the part of our fellow-citizens, that too frequently time is spent in our State legislature in the discussion of questions of a national character, that more appropriately belong to another tribunal. That these questions bring with them into your discussions angry and violent denunciations, harsh and bitter epithets, and are calculated to create party spirit and feuds, will not be denied. While the right to express the sentiments of the people of the State through their representatives on questions of a national character, will not be controverted, yet as citizens and representatives of the people, we shall find the most of our time well employed, if we will carefully and watchfully attend to the increasing and growing interests of the State. We can most profitably employ ourselves in devising means to develop her resources—to make her municipal regulations firm and stable—and to avoid special and partial legislation. By such means we may be able gradually to reduce the principal and interest of our public debt and give an education to every child of the State. When we shall have attended to these things we shall have but little time to spend in bitter party debates. We should at least endeavor to maintain in all our discussions and intercourse with one another, a spirit of harmony, concession and compromise, not forgetting that high conservative position, as a State, that we have always occupied, avoiding alike the extremes of the north as well as the south, remembering that we are one member of this great confederacy, and that is our high mission to allay the excitement of one portion of this Union against the other, by avoiding all appeals to sectional interest.

The Wabash and Erie Canal is accomplishing, as it progresses, all that its friends predicted by the arrangements made by the State with our creditors. Its progress equals the expectation of its warmest friends. Due credit should be given to the board of trustees for the energy they have displayed in pressing forward this great work. It is your plain duty in good faith to carry out all the stipulations and agreements entered into with our creditors in connection with this work, and in no manner whatever throw any obstacles in the way of its advancement. If this work progresses the next two years as it has the past, we shall have, by that time, the waters of the lakes united with the Mississippi. We then shall have in actual operation the longest canal in the United States, carrying upon its bosom the productions of the most fertile part of the Mississippi valley. While we are thus fondly anticipating the future, the mention of this great work to-day brings to our mind the painful reflection, that one who was officially connected with its progress, and who took so deep an interest in its speedy completion, has lately fallen. Thomas H. Blake died in the midst of his usefulness, having filled a prominent place in the history of his country; he was a man of honor and integrity; he had the confidence of all who knew him, and his loss is a public one.

I repair to the station, which my fellow-citizens have assigned to me, with great diffidence acknowledging my inexperience, distrusting my own ability to accomplish the work before me. Were it not that I shall have the aid of your councils, and that of other departments of the government, and that of my fellow-citizens generally, I should shrink from its responsibilities. But trusting that we all shall devoutly look to that Being, who is alone able to impart wisdom and knowledge, that all of our acts may be done in his fear, and with a firm reliance on His blessings, I undertake the discharge of the duties, determined to make the interest of Indiana the first object of my care, and to devote all my time to her welfare.

The Senate then retired to their Chamber.

The Speaker laid before the House the following communication from the Auditor of State :

STATE AUDITOR'S OFFICE, }
December 10th, 1849. }

HON. GEORGE W. CARR,

Speaker of the House of Representatives :

SIR—The following resolution, adopted by the House on Saturday, was received by me after the adjournment on that day, viz :

“ Resolved, That the Auditor of State inform this House whether the 24th section of “ an act, supplementary to an act to provide for the funded debt of the State of Indiana, and for the completion of the Wabash and Erie Canal to Evansville,” approved January 19, 1846, has been complied with, and if not, what is the cause that it is not.”

To the resolution I reply as follows : Early in August, 1847, the appraisers appointed as directed by law, applied at this office for the purpose of procuring a list of the lands belonging to both divisions of the Canal, (which I had made out in pursuance of the latter clause of the 23d section of the act above referred to,) and, having procured the list, they proceeded immediately, as I understood, to the discharge of their duties, as required in the 24th section of the said act. In the early part of December of the same year, the appraisers filed in the Auditor's office a copy of the appraisement which they had made of the lands belonging to the Wabash and Erie Canal West of Tippecanoe. No re-appraisement of the lands East of Tippecanoe has ever been filed in this office. Whether such a re-appraisement of those lands was made or not I have no official information. Why the re-appraisement of the lands East of Tippecanoe was not made and filed in this office is a question totally beyond my power to answer, and would, I think, be more appropriately addressed to the Trustees of the Wabash and Erie Canal, who alone are capable of explaining the reasons which influence their conduct.

With high respect, I am,

Your obedient servant,

D. MAGUIRE,
Auditor of State.

Mr. Prather moved to refer the communication to the committee on canals and internal improvements;

Which motion prevailed.

The Speaker laid before the House the following communication from the State Librarian :

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 10, 1849.

HON. G. W. CARR,

Speaker of the House of Representatives :

Sir: You are requested to lay the accompanying communication before the honorable House of Representatives.

I am, very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

JOHN B. DILLON.

STATE LIBRARY, }
Indianapolis, Dec. 10, 1849. }

The undersigned respectfully reports to the Legislature of Indiana, that on the 20th of September, 1849, he addressed a communication to Joseph Willis and Hugh J. Bradley, Architects and Builders, of Indianapolis, requesting them to make a thorough examination of the State House, and to note those defective parts of the edifice, which, in order to preserve it from premature decay, ought to be repaired. At the same time, they were required to prepare for the use of the undersigned, a particular estimate of the cost of such repairs. The following communication has been received from Messrs. Willis and Bradley.

JOHN B. DILLON.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 26, 1849.

MR. J. B. DILLON—

Sir:—In compliance with your request, the undersigned have made an examination of the State House, for the purpose of ascertaining what repairs are necessary to prevent its going to premature decay, and submit the following report :

We have found that the stone surrounding the building, being of a soft, perishable quality, is going to decay very fast; and the coping covering the walls between the antas of the sides of the building, being in small pieces, the water penetrates the joints, and keeps the foundations of the building wet—materially injuring said foundations. The said stone having been placed there since the building was erected, (and that in not a very workmanlike manner,) can be easily removed without any injury to the building. The undersigned would therefore recommend that all of said stone be removed, and replaced with a durable limestone, either from the quarries of Vernon or Putnamville; and, in replacing it, that the coping between each of the antas be in one piece of sufficient size to cover the entire space, and also to project over the face of the ashler at least one inch and a half. The estimated cost of replacing all of said stone with durable limestone, and in a proper manner, is three thousand five hundred dollars.

The cornice around said building having been made of rough casting, and being exposed to the weather, has in many cases fallen off—making the building look in a scaly, dilapidated state.—We would therefore recommend that there be a new cornice put on, of good seasoned pine lumber, and well painted and sanded in imitation of stone.

The greatest difficulty that the undersigned have met with in said examination, is the roof; it having been covered with tin, and the roof being so large, and the expansion and contraction so great, that in many places the joints and lockings have broken loose, causing it to leak in many places. We noticed that it had been repaired in several places; but still there were several places that were very bad, and the difficulty is that it will be constantly breaking in new places. Under the present circumstances we would recommend that said tin be taken off, and the roof be covered with a composition of paper, tar, &c.—or that said composition be put on the tin. Your committee would have recommended a slate roof, if the timbers were strong enough to support it; but we are satisfied that the timbers are not sufficiently strong to support a slate roof.

The estimated cost of repairing the building, as above recommended, with a new cornice, composition roof, repairing the plastering, rough casting, painting, &c., is as follows :

For stone and stone work, - - - - -	$3,500 00
Lumber, nails, carpenters' work, &c., - - - - -	1,500 00
Repairing, rough casting, and plastering, - - - - -	300 00
For composition roof, - - - - -	1,200 00
Paints, oils, painting, &c., - - - - -	300 00
Contingencies, - - - - -	500 00
	$7,300 00

All of which is respectfully submitted :

J. WILLIS,
H. J. BRADLEY.

On motion by Mr. Carnahan of Fountain,

The communication was referred to the committee on public buildings.

The Speaker laid before the House the following communication from the Superintendent of the Northern Division of the Central Canal :

Indianapolis, Dec. 12th, 1849.

HON. G. W. CARR,

Speaker of the House of Representatives:

SIR :—Be pleased to lay before the House the accompanying report, called for by a resolution of the House.

Respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

ROBERT GREENFIELD,

Superintendent of Northern Division Central Canal.

To the Honorable the House of Representatives, of the State of Indiana :

In accordance with a resolution of the House, requesting the Superintendent of the Northern Division of the Central Canal to report to the House, at an early day as practicable, the amount of water rents received from each person respectively, I report the following, as a correct statement of the amount received and expended by me since my appointment by Governor Dunning.

State of Indiana, in account with R. Greenfield.

	Cr.
Cash received of N. West, - - - - -	$45 00
Cash received of Hannaman, - - - - -	43 00
Cash received of R. Underhill, - - - - -	40 00
	<hr/>
	$128 00
Cash paid to laborers in June, - - -	$73 50
Cash paid to laborers in July, - - -	26 50
Cash paid laborers in August, - - -	19 00
Services rendered per self, and materials furnished, - - - - -	410 75
Cash paid sundry persons employed by Basil Brown, - - - - -	18 50
Cash expended in repairing the dam at the Bluffs (account not rendered) say - -	200 00
	<hr/>
Amount due me, - - - - -	$620 25

The receipts for the above expenditures are in the possession of the Auditor of State. The amount expended on the dam at the Bluffs, must be considered as a credit, on the amount due by Frees & Connan for water rent. The Superintendent is compelled by law to make his reports to the Auditor of State, and there were no books or papers of the former Superintendents of said Canal, came into my hands, consequently, I am unable to state the amount of rent due the State from each lessee of water power on said canal, not having access to the reports on file in the Auditor's office. The lessees of water power have refused, heretofore, to pay the full amount of rent; because, they say, that under the control of the former Superintendents' of the canal, they have not been furnished, during the summer, with the amount of water leased by them from the State, and that they have requested a settlement with the State, through her agents, but as yet have been unable to obtain a settlement; and that they are willing to settle any time, and pay for the amount of water furnished them by the State, but are unwilling to pay for water which, they say, was not furnished. I have not settled with the lessees as to rent due the State, before I was appointed to take charge of the canal, because I have had no data, as a basis for making such a settlement. There has been no difficulty, during the six months that I have had charge of the canal, in furnishing a sufficient supply of water, nor would there be any difficulty now in collecting the rents as they become due, if the lessees could have a settlement with the State.

ROBERT GREENFIELD,
Superintendent of Northern Division of Central Canal.

On motion by Mr. Hunter,

The communication was referred to the committee on canals and internal improvements.

WHEREAS, It has been held by several of the circuit courts of this State, that the laws passed at the sessions of the Legislature of said State in the years 1848 and 1849, giving to justices of the peace exclusive jurisdiction in many counties in certain criminal cases, are unconstitutional, being an attempt to abridge the right which every citizen possesses, that he shall not be held to answer to any criminal charge, except upon presentment or indictment, as provided by our State Constitution : Therefore,

Resolved, That the judiciary committee be instructed to inquire into the constitutionality of said laws, and if, in their opinion, said laws are unconstitutional, that they be further instructed to report a bill repealing said laws.

STATE AUDITOR'S OFFICE, {
December 12, 1849. }

HON. GEORGE W. CARR,

Speaker of the House of Representatives :

Sir:—The resolution of the House, directing me to furnish the House of Representatives with a full and complete list of the lands selected for the completion of the Wabash and Erie Canal west of Tippecanoe, (except those in the Vincennes Land District,) and also a full and complete list of such of said lands as have been re-appraised under the provisions of the 24th section of the act supplementary to an act to provide for the funded debt of the State of Indiana, &c., together with the prices at which the same have been re-appraised, is just received.

To the resolution I respectfully reply, that to furnish a copy of the lists of lands referred to, even if I had nothing else to do, would require so much time as to render the service of no use to the present General Assembly. I would therefore suggest that the books in the office, giving the desired information, can be examined by any member or committee of the House of Representatives at the office, or if desired, they may be taken to the House, or a committee room. Trusting that this will answer all purposes desired,

I am, very respectfully, your obedient servant,

Two o'clock, P. M.

House met.

The Speaker laid before the House the following communication, from the Auditor and Treasurer of State :

AUDITOR AND TREASURER'S OFFICE, }
December 10, 1849. }

HON. G. W. CARR,

Speaker of the House of Representatives :

Sir :—The resolution of the House of Representatives, of yesterday's date, requesting us to report to the House, whether a settlement had been made with the Trustees of the Wabash and Erie Canal, of the amount outstanding of Wabash and Erie Canal scrip east and west of Tippecanoe, has been received, and we reply as follows :

Early in May last, Col. Blake, one of the Trustees of the Wabash and Erie Canal, accompanied by several gentlemen connected with the canal, met at Indianapolis, for the purpose of investigating the scrip account as directed by the joint resolution, approved January 16, 1849. By the investigation, the account of the Wabash and Erie Canal scrip east, was found to be exactly as the Auditor of State had reported to the last General Assembly, (leaving still outstanding, the sum of $25,171 21,) except that by an examination of old reports, made to the Board of Internal improvements, and the Fund Commissioners, we found an entry of $11,824 10 of scrip returned to the Fund Commissioners by Jesse L. Williams, then General Superintendent of the Wabash and Erie Canal. If that amount should rightfully be deducted from the amount which appeared to be outstanding, there would be remaining, only $13,347 17. It is, however, by no means certain that the $11,824 10 referred to, should be deducted. It may have constituted a portion of some of the amounts for which warrants were issued, and in that case, would already have been included in the cancellations; or it may have been a part of the original manuscript certificates which were taken up by the Commissioner, and engraved scrip given in their place. The books show the following issues of scrip, viz:

By the Auditor and Treasurer, from No. 1 to No. 61,262, beginning May 7, 1842, and ending Feb. 1846, - - - - -				$306,310 00
By J. L. Williams, from No. 1 to No. 7,097, (being a separate issue from the above,) - - - - -				82,198 01
By S. Fisher, from No. 7,098 to No. 7,214, - - - - -				7,711 01
Total issues, - - - - -				$396,219 05
The amount cancelled as shown by the books, is - - - - -				$345,824 83
Amount in Treasury, about - - - - -				25,223 01
				<hr/>
				$371,047 84
Leaving outstanding, (except what may be in the hands of the Trustees,) - - - - -				$25,172 21

There are Registers in the Auditors and Treasurer's offices, showing regular issues from No. 1 to No. 61,262, as above stated, which correspond exactly with the receipts given by the Treasurer at the time of issue. There is also a Register filed in the Auditor's office, by one of the commissioners of the canal, showing the issues made by Mr. Williams and Mr. Fisher. If there be any scrip in circulation, except that embraced within the Nos. on the respective Registers, (of which none has been presented at the treasury, since we came into office, nor have we heard of any,) it is not genuine.

Previous to the burning of these notes, they are entered on the Registers opposite their Nos., with the amount of interest on each, and when all that were issued shall be returned to the treasury, the place of entry opposite each No. will be filled up. We have not had time to go through these Registers and see how much they show to be outstanding, but on a casual glance, we perceive that there are a great many blanks, to all appearance, enough to admit the entry of the $25,172 21 above mentioned, as outstanding.

At the period of the investigation above mentioned, the Auditor, at the request of Col. Blake, gave a statement corresponding with the above, mentioning also, the fact of the discovery of an entry showing the return by Mr. Williams, to the fund commissioners, of $11,824 10, as above stated, which it was thought might probably be deducted from the amount reported to be outstanding. That probability was increased by the confident statement of some of those present, that the amount of scrip outstanding, could not exceed $10,000. It was even hoped that enough might be found wanting, to account for the loss sustained by George H. Dunn, former Treasurer. We have no information of the amount redeemed by the Trustees, since their last payment to the treasury, (in Jan., 1849,) but the more we reflect upon the subject, the more we are satisfied that it is not safe to rely on any thing in determining the amount of scrip in circulation, except the receipts and warrants and Registers.

The foregoing information is given substantially, in the annual report of the Auditor of State, from page 45 to 47, inclusive, to which we respectfully refer for a more detailed account.

There is no difficulty, we believe, in relation to Wabash and Erie Canal scrip west. The account of that will be found in the Auditor's report, page 47.

In conclusion, we will remark, that we have always afforded every possible facility for the investigation of this subject. The information given now and heretofore, has been such as we could gather from the books and papers in the offices, as they were handed over to us. There has been no scrip of either kind, issued by us, nor have we had any thing at all to do with it, except that the Treasurer has received it into the treasury at different times, for which he has always given his receipts, thus charging himself with every dollar that has been received by him, and afterwards it has been entered on each of our Registers, preparatory to cancellation by the committee of ways and means, by whom it has been burnt and the amounts certified to the Auditor, upon which warrants have been issued to the Treasurer, thus crediting him with so much as is destroyed.

With much respect,

Your obedient servants,

D. MAGUIRE, Auditor of State.

SAM. HANNAH, Treasurer of State.

Mr. Hicks, chairman of the committee on the judiciary, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on the judiciary, to whom was referred a resolution of the House instructing said committee to inquire into the expediency of abolishing the present probate system, and establishing in lieu thereof courts of common pleas in the several counties in this state, having considered the subject, said committee have directed me to report, that notwithstanding they are fully impressed with the many objections to the present probate system, among the most prominent of which is the too frequent want of legal attainments on the part of the judges ; this defect is found in, and will continue as long as the system. The committee have no doubt that courts of common pleas may be established on such plan as will secure competent judges, without increased demands upon the treasury, but in view of the change contemplated in the organic law of the State, it is deemed inexpedient to legislate on that subject at this time, and the committee ask to be discharged from the further consideration of said resolution.

Which report was concurred in.

Mr. May, chairman of the committee on education, made the following report .

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on education, in obedience to a resolution of the House, instructing them to inquire into the necessity of changing the provision of sections 11 and 19, of the act to extend the benefits of common schools, so as to entitle congressional townships to a distributive share of the school fund, though the report required by the 11th section of said act be not made on or before the 1st day of October annually, beg leave to report that they have had under consideration the matter referred to them by said resolution, and are of opinion that no change is required in said sections referred to in said resolution ; they therefore ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

Which report was concurred in.

Mr. May, chairman of the committee on education, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on education, to which was referred bill No. 62, for an act to prevent the forfeiture of school lands, beg leave to report that they have examined the provisions of the said bill, and after such examination, are of the opinion that the passage of the same at the present time is unnecessary, and would be inexpedient; they therefore recommend the indefinite postponement of the same.

Which report was concurred in.

Mr. Thom, from the committee on education, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on education, to whom was referred House bill No. 126, entitled "an act to amend an act for the benefit of common schools," have had the same under consideration and have directed me to report that they deem it inexpedient to pass the bill; they therefore recommend its indefinite postponement, and ask to be discharged from the further consideration thereof.

Mr. May, chairman of the committee on education, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on education, to whom was referred the petition of Peter Helphinston, asking relief in the matter of his forfeited purchase of 40 acres of school land on section 16, township 1 north, range 5 west, beg leave to report that they have had the same under consideration, and are of opinion that the principle which would justify a grant to the petitioner of the relief prayed for, would authorize a grant of relief in nearly every instance of forfeited purchase of school lands. The committee are, therefore, of the opinion that the relief sought for ought not to be granted, and they respectfully ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject matter.

Which report was concurred in.

Mr. May, chairman of the committee on education, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on education, to whom was referred the petition of James McCullough, and others, citizens of township 17 north of range 13 east, asking for an exemption from the enactments of the school law of 1848-9, beg leave to make the following report :

That while it is unquestionably desirable that no large body of citizens should be subject to any laws repugnant to their wishes, yet it is an inevitable consequence flowing from the right of the majority to govern, that there will always exist a dissatisfied minority. This minority will exist as certainly under the school laws as under our other statutes. The parties petitioning are, therefore, in no other than the usual situation of minorities, and the same principle which would require relief to be extended to the petitioners, would require it to be extended to all other minorities. Such an extension would evidently soon subvert order in any government.

This committee are, therefore, of opinion, that the prayer of the petitioners ought not to be granted, and they ask to be discharged from the further consideration thereof.

Which report was concurred in.

Mr. Caldwell, from the committee on education, made the following report :

On motion by Mr. Gentry,

On motion by Mr. Wilson,

The joint select committee on the part of the House, to count and cancel State Bonds, were granted leave of absence till to-morrow morning.

Mr. Niblack offered the following preamble and resolution :

WHEREAS, There is found in the vicinity of the town of Harrisonville, in the county of Martin, in this State, large quantities of mineral water, holding in solution, amongst other medicinal ingredients, a large proportion of sulphur, which, for continued use for many years past, has proved highly valuable in the treatment and cure of many diseases from which the various classes of invalids, who have used said water, from time to time, have been suffering, and more especially so, in the treatment and cure of diseases of the eye, and of those in which that delicate organ is implicated. And whereas, the want of an institution of some kind, within the borders of our State, to be set apart for the treatment and cure of diseases of the eye, is generally felt and acknowledged by most of our citizens who are familiar with such subjects. And whereas, it is believed that the State of Indiana ought, in view of the benevolent spirit already manifested by her citizens upon similar subjects, and as soon as her pecuniary circumstances will permit her to do so, to make some provision for the care and comfort of that unfortunate class of invalids, who are suffering from the various diseases to which the human eye is liable.

Therefore Resolved, That the committee on benevolent and scientific institutions, be instructed to inquire into the expediency of making provisions for the establishment and erection of an Eye Infirmary, near said town of Harrisonville, in said county of Martin, and contiguous to some one of the springs out of which said mineral water emanates, and to report by bill or otherwise.

Which were adopted.

On motion by Mr. Dodd,

The Speaker laid before the House the following communication from the Auditor of State :

AUDITOR OF STATE'S OFFICE, {
December 17, 1849. }

HON. GEORGE W. CARR,

Speaker of the House of Representatives :

SIR :—Be pleased to lay before the Branch of the General Assembly over which you preside, the enclosed communication, and oblige,
Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

D. MAGUIRE, Auditor of State.

STATE AUDITOR'S OFFICE, {
Indianapolis, December 12th, 1849. }

To the General Assembly :

In the last annual report from this office (page 40) an account is given of the sale of the 107 shares of new stock in the Madison and Indianapolis Railroad company, to which the State was entitled on the account of the increase of stock in said company, made in August, 1848. This sale was authorized by a joint resolution approved January 16th, 1849. During the last Spring another large increase of stock was made by the Directors of the company, amounting to three shares for every four previously held. After the sale of the 107 shares above mentioned, the state still owned 346 shares which entitled her to 260 shares of new stock under the increase last made. This new stock had to be subscribed for, the first instalment paid on or before the 15th of March last, or it would forfeit. Having no authority on the subject the Auditor and Treasurer deemed it their duty to subscribe on the part of the State for the new stock. Afterwards I made a conditional sale of it to a company of gentlemen for $15.00 a share subject, to the ratification of the Legislature. I received for the right to take the new stock the sum of $3,900.00, the purchasers paying the first instalment then due on the stock, and the residue as it shall be called for by the Directors. If the Legislature decline to ratify the sale, the money advanced with six per interest, is by the contract to be refunded to the purchasers. The highest price that I knew individuals to receive for their right was $12.00, and I knew of sales made at $10.00 per share. I wrote on the subject to the Secretary of the company at Madison, who from his position is generally conversant with the prices of Railroad Stock, and every thing pertaining to it, and I have his letter in reply in which he states that "twelve dollars per share, have been offered here for rights, and I think that is the highest price that they would bring." Knowing that there would be a deficiency in the Treasury to meet the July interest on the public debt, and that therefore whatever was paid for the stock, was in effect paid out of money borrowed at six per cent. interest, and having no authority to make an absolute sale, I did what I thought best for the State, and made a conditional sale, on the terms above stated, viz: $15.00 per share. If the Legislature shall decline to ratify the contract, the State has only to pay back the money advanced with six per cent. interest, which would be but a payment of interest to the purchasers instead of paying exactly the same amount to the banks. I thought at the time and under the circumstances, that it was a favorable arrangement for the State, and I now submit the matter to the Legislature for its action. Any additional information that may be desired within my power to give, will be furnished with pleasure.

Respectfully submitted,

D. MAGUIRE, Auditor of State.

On motion,

The communication was referred to a select committee consisting of Messrs. Edwards, Carnahan of Posey, and Wilson.

The Speaker laid before the House the following communication from his Excellency, the Governor:

The Speaker laid before the House, the following communication from the Auditor of State :

STATE AUDITOR'S OFFICE, }
December 19, 1849. }

HON. GEO. W. CARR

Speaker of the House of Representatives :

SIR—I have received by one of the messengers, the following resolution of the House of Representatives, adopted on yesterday, viz :

Resolved, That the Auditor of State be requested to report to this House, at as early a day as practicable, the proceedings had in a certain suit, viz: McGinley vs. the State of Indiana; also, the amount of judgment (if any) obtained by said McGinley against said State; also, the amount audited for payment, (if any) and to whom; also, the amount of expenses in maintaining said suit, the names of persons claiming under the head of expenses, and the amount of each claimant."

In compliance with this resolution, so far as relates to the proceedings had, and the amount of judgment obtained against the State by McGinley, I transmit to the House a copy of so many of the papers filed with me as will give all the information in my possession.

No. 1 is a copy of the award in favor of McGinley against the State, containiag the amount found by the arbitrators in favor of McGinley, and also the costs allowed.

No. 2 is a copy of a power of attorney from McGinley to Paris C. Dunning for five thousand one hundred and forty-three dollars of the amount of the said award.

No. 3 is a copy of a compromise between Paris C. Dunning, as Governor of the State, and Patrick McGinley, by which McGinley agrees to receive sixteen thousand dollars in full of his claim against the State, under the award above mentioned.

It will be observed that the award allows Mr. McGinley the sum of $21,143. Of this amount there has been audited to him, and to be paid the first of March next, according to the compromise, the sum of $16,000. No other claims have been audited. I declined auditing the claims presented of attorneys, for fees, because I did not conceive I had any law to justify me in doing so. I thought it necessary before doing so, either that the legislature should fix the amount to be paid, or appoint some person or persons to do so. I declined auditing any of the claims of the arbitrators, because neither the law authorizing the suit, nor the award, says anything about the amount to be allowed them, and I supposed the legislature would be the proper tribunal to make the allowance. I have postponed auditing the costs allowed by the award, because I had doubts of the rights of the arbitrators to make gross allowances for costs without setting forth the items for which the allowances were made. I was the more inclined to this course by the fact that the legislature could sanction the claims, either by a special act, or by a section in the specific appropriation bill.

There has been paid by order of the Governor out of the contingent fund, of which he has the entire control, the following amounts, viz: To Messrs. Quarles and Walpole, $500; and to Mr. James Hughes, $500—both for counsel fees—and to Mr. S. H. Buskirk, who was an arbitrator during a portion of the trial, $105 75.

I cannot fully answer the last branch of the resolution which calls for “the amount of expenses in maintaining said suit, the names of persons claiming under the head of expenses, and the amount of each claimant,” because the claims have not all been presented. In addition to the $260 allowed in the award, and the $1,105 75 paid out of the contingent fund, Mr. Buskirk claims the additional sum of $54 75.

Three other gentlemen who served as arbitrators, (two of them all the time, and the other in the place of Mr. Buskirk, after he resigned,) have claims, the amount of which is not exactly known to me, and the prosecuting attorney of the Floyd circuit court, (who was directed by the law to attend on the part of the State,) also has a claim, the amount of which is unknown.

The enclosed papers contain every thing on file in relation to the award, except a power of attorney from McGinley to Samuel H. Patterson, authorizing said Patterson to draw the money awarded against the State.

Respectfully submitted,

DOUGLAS MAGUIRE,
Auditor of State.

Be it remembered, That on the 13th day of October, A. D. 1849, there was filed in the office of the Floyd circuit court an award as follows, viz:

State of Indiana, Floyd County, S.S.

The undersigned, John J. Cummins, John Brown, and Fred. T. materials furnished and work done by him on the Silver creek bridge, and preparations made therefor, after having been severally sworn as such arbitrators, and after having given thirty days' notice to said McGinley, and to Willett Bullitt, Esq., the attorney for said State in that behalf, of the time and place of meeting to consider said claim, met at the court house in New Albany, in said county, on the 1st day of October, 1849, said McGinley and said Bullitt for the said State attending, and adjourned from time to time to this 13th of October, 1849.

Cummins, and Frederick T. Butler, arbitrators appointed by virtue of an act of the Legislature of the State of Indiana, passed by the Senate on the 9th day of February, 1848—the objections of the Governor of said State of Indiana to the contrary notwithstanding—and the House of Representatives on the 11th of February, 1848, entitled, “An act for the relief of Patrick McGinley;” said award being for the sum of thirteen thousand five hundred dollars principal, and seven thousand six hundred and forty-three dollars interest; and I hereby give and grant my said attorney full power and authority, in and about the premises, for the accomplishment of the purpose aforesaid, and upon the receipt of said sum of money, being a part of said award so due, as aforesaid, from the State of Indiana, or upon the receipt of warrants for the same, for me and in my name to make, seal, and deliver acquittances or other sufficient discharges, and generally to do and perform all other acts and things necessary to be done and performed in and about the premises, as amply and fully as I myself might do, if personally present, and I do hereby ratify and confirm whatever my said attorney may do in the premises, by virtue of these presents, and when so collected, I do hereby fully authorize and empower my said attorney to dispose of said sum of money or warrants in any way that he may desire, without in any way being responsible to me, I having received a valuable consideration therefor.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and seal the eighth day of November, in the year 1849.

I hereby evoke a power of attorney heretofore given on the 12th October, 1849, to Samuel H. Patterson, for the sum mentioned in the foregoing power of attorney, and no further.

Signed,

JAMES J. DOZIER, N. P. J. C.

It is agreed by Paris C. Dunning, as the Governor of the State of Indiana, and Patrick McGinley, that the said Patrick McGinley and said Dunning compromise a certain award made on the 13th of October, 1849, in favor of said McGinley and against said State, for twenty-one thousand one hundred and forty-three dollars, as the sum to be paid said McGinley of sixteen thousand dollars, and that said Dunning pay for the State, out of the residue of said award;

such costs as he may deem right and proper, and to release as he may wish the residue of said sum to the said State, and that the said McGinley will not demand absolute payment of the said sum of sixteen thousand dollars until the 1st day of March 1850, unless the Treasurer of the State of Indiana can conveniently pay the same.

Witness our hands this 8th day of November, 1849; and it is further agreed that if the said Dunning shall, upon a full examination of the testimony in this case, be of opinion that it is his duty to appeal said cause to the Supreme Court of Indiana, that he is to do so; and then the power of attorney this day executed by said McGinley to said Dunning is to be null, and the said McGinley does not waive his rights under said award and the law, nor is he to be considered as abating any part, nor the attempt to compromise to be used against him on a further trial of the same.

Witness our hands on the day and year first aforesaid.

Signed, PARIS C. DUNNING, Gov. of Ind.
P. MCGINLEY.

Attest: S. H. PATTERSON.

The following memorandum is made by Governor Dunning, at the bottom of the compromise, viz :

The House met.

The Speaker laid before the House the following communication :

OFFICE OF SUPERINTENDENT OF COMMON SCHOOLS, }
Indianapolis, December 19th 1849. }

HON. G. W. CARR,

Speaker of the House of Representatives :

SIR :—In answer to a resolution of the House of Representatives, requesting the Superintendent of Common Schools to communicate to the House his views respecting our present school laws, and to suggest such amendments as would, in his opinion, advance the cause of common school education, I have the honor to reply :—
That I consider it impracticable to supply the deficiencies of the present school laws by means of an amendatory act, in such way as to render the law intelligible and plain to common understandings. The only remedy, in my opinion, calculated to benefit and advance the cause of common school education, is a complete revision and consolidation of all school laws.

Considering the near approach of the time for the meeting of a Convention to revise and modify the Constitution of the State, and the probability of new provisions regarding the school funds and school laws being introduced, and in view of the necessity which may arise, consequent upon alterations of the Constitution, for a complete revision of all our laws to be made, conformable to the new order of things, and the probability that such revision will occupy the attention of the first General Assembly which shall convene under the new Constitution, for these reasons, I consider the present an unpropitious time to attempt either a general revision of the law, or to supply all defects by way of amendments. I, however, suggest the propriety of amending the law of last winter, by making it general and absolute, the large majority of votes given in its favor, in my opinion, justifies such a proceeding, and a clause making the law absolute and general in its application, would at the same time settle the constitutional question.

Very respectfully,

Your most obedient servant.

SAMUEL HANNAH,
Supt. C. Schools.

On motion by Mr. Brown of Shelby,
The communication was referred to the committee on education.

Mr. Hicks, chairman of the committee on the judiciary, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The judiciary committee to whom was referred a resolution of the House in relation to the supposed practice of clerks of probate courts, recording sale-bills and inventories of decedents' estates in separate books, and instructing said committee to inquire into the expediency of changing, amending, or authorizing said practice, have had the same under consideration, and directed me to report the following bill and recommend its passage:

No. 212. A bill to provide for recording inventories and sale bills in decedents' estates;

Which was read a first time, and passed to a second reading.

Mr. Spencer, from the committee on the judiciary made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on the judiciary, to whom was referred that portion of the Governor's message in relation to special legislation, have had the same under consideration, and while they are ready to admit that there is much legislation of a local and special character, which might and ought to be of a general character, and many local acts are passed at one session of the legislature to be repealed by the succeeding, without any benefit to any person, but to the detriment too often to business which is of interest to the State at large, and while your committee are impressed with the necessity of dispensing with much of this kind of legislation, they are of opinion that owing to our peculiar organization, and the circumstances which surround us, it will be impracticable to entirely do away with it. It is an evil which must be tolerated, but should be limited as much as circumstances will admit of. Your committee have considered the subject, and ask to be discharged from the further attention of the same.

Which report was concurred in.

Mr. Spencer, from the committee on the judiciary made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on the judiciary, to whom was referred the petition of sundry citizens of Jefferson county, praying that a divorce be granted to Elizabeth Ann Crawford, have had the same under consideration, and a majority of your committee, after due examination, have come to the conclusion that to grant the prayer of said petitioners, would be in direct contravention of the constitution of this State. After having examined some of the standing authors, not only of the United States, but also of England, we find that the marriage contract is declared and treated as a civil contract. Such is the doctrine maintained by Chancellor Kent, Chief Justice Marshall, Justice Story, Sir William Blackstone, and, in fact, by the Supreme Courts of the respective States of this Union, wherever the subject has been considered. In the Revised Statutes of 1843, page 595, is found the following : " Marriage, so far as its validity in law is concerned, shall continue in this State a civil contract, to which the consent of the parties capable by law of entering into such contract, shall be essential." Your committee are, therefore, clearly of the opinion, that marriage, according to the laws in force in this State, is a civil contract merely, and that to grant a divorce by the legislature, would be clearly in violation of the following clause of the constitution of the State of Indiana, viz : " No ex post facto law, nor any law impairing the validity of contracts, shall ever be made," &c. Your committee are of the opinion that no argument is necessary to establish the fact that an entire dissolution of a contract is impairing its validity.

¶ Your committee, believing it unnecessary to pursue this subject further, respectfully recommend the adoption of the following resolution :

Resolved, That in the opinion of this House, the granting of divorces by the legislature of the State of Indiana is a violation of the constitution of said State, as it impairs the validity of a contract.

Which resolution was adopted.

Mr. Edwards, from the committee on the judiciary, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on the judiciary to whom was referred a resolution of the House on the subject of so much of the Governor's Message as relates to the manner of doing business in the probate courts, have had the same under consideration, and directed me to report that in the opinion of said committee, the present probate system ought to be materially changed, and as the convention to be held during the ensuing year to alter and amend the State Constitution will probably revise the judiciary department of the State government, that it is inexpedient at this time to legislate on that subject.

Which report was concurred in.

Mr. Carnahan of Fountain, from the committee on the judiciary, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The judiciary committee, to whom was referred the petition of E. Bateman and others of Fountain and Tippecanoe counties, praying that the acts of certain commissioners therein mentioned, appointed to view, mark, and locate a state road in the counties of Fountain and Tippecanoe should be legalized, have had the same under consideration and have instructed me to report the following bill in accordance with the prayer of the petitioners.

No. 213. A bill to legalize the acts of commissioners appointed to locate a road in the counties of Fountain and Tippecanoe.

Which was read a first time, and passed to a second reading.

Mr. Thomas, from the committee on education, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on education, to whom was referred a resolution of the House inquiring what counties voted for, and what counties voted against the adoption of the act of January 17th, 1849, entitled "an act to increase and extend the benefits of common schools," have had the same under consideration, and beg leave to make the following report :

1st. Your committee has no very correct information on this subject, as the county auditors have not made any report to the Secretary of State on this subject; but from the best information that your committee can obtain from the members of this House, it is as follows, viz :

The counties that voted in favor of the adoption of the act are,

Clark, Wayne, Allen, Jefferson, Randolph, Shelby, Vigo, Clinton, Fountain, Posey, Warren, Franklin, Miami, Wabash, Dearborn, Perry, Elkhart, Grant, Bartholomew, Floyd, Vermillion, Kosciusko, Vanderburgh, Gibson, Jay, Noble, Ripley, Crawford, Union, Steuben, Dekalb, Adams, Wells, Laporte, Scott, Tippecanoe, Jennings, Warrick, Spencer, Knox, Ohio, Henry, Fayette, Lake, Porter, Carroll, Jackson, St. Joseph, Switzerland, Jasper, White, Benton, Pulaski, Whitley, and Huntington—55.

The counties that voted against the adoption of the act are,

Putnam, Hancock, Dubois, Washington, Morgan, Boone, Madison, Monroe, Brown, Daviess, Montgomery, Harrison, Johnson, Rush, Green, Marion, Parke, Owen, Cass, Howard, Martin, Sullivan, Delaware, Hendricks, Orange, Hamilton, Pike, Clay, and Lawrence—29.

The counties of Blackford, Clinton, Decatur, Fulton, Lagrange, Marshall and Tipton, not heard from—7.

Your committee would recommend the passage of a law declaring the act of January 17, 1849, entitled "an act to increase and extend the benefits of common schools, to be in full force in the counties that voted in favor of the same, and also to legalize the proceedings of the officers of elections that made their returns to the county clerk, instead of the county auditors, as is provided in said act.

Which report was concurred in.

Mr. Elder, chairman of the committee on benevolent and scientific institutions, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on benevolent and scientific institutions, to whom was referred a resolution of the House, in relation to the "establishment and erection of an eye infirmary near the town of Harrisonville, in the county of Martin," have had the same under consideration, and have instructed me to report that they deem it inexpedient to legislate on the subject, and ask to be discharged from its further consideration.

Which report was concurred in.

Mr. Edwards, chairman of the joint committee on the State Library, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The joint standing committee on the State Library, to whom was referred bill of the House No. 125, entitled "an act to extend the privileges of the State Library," have instructed me report the following amendment, and when so amended, respectfully recommend its passage :

Strike out from the enacting clause, and insert the following :

"That the provisions of section eighty-two, of chapter six, and article seven of the Revised Statutes of 1843, are hereby extended to the members and officers of the convention, who shall hereafter be elected to revise, amend, or change the constitution of this State."

Which was concurred in.

The bill as amended was ordered to be engrossed.

Mr. Connor, from a select committee, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

Which was read a first time and ordered to a second reading.

On motion by Mr. Cotton,

The rules were suspended, the bill read a second time, and ordered to be engrossed.

Mr. Wilson from the select committee to which was referred the petition of sundry citizens, residents of letter C., part of lot No. 2, Clarke's grant, and the remonstrance of the Mayor and Common Council of the city of Jeffersonville, have had the same under consideration and have directed me to report :

MR. SPEAKER :

That they have examined the petition and remonstrance. The petition asks that the citizens resident of said lot, be attached to Port Fulton. The remonstrance alleges that by this act, great injustice would be done the city of Jeffersonville, if the prayer of the petitioners should be granted, and further alleges that a majority of the citizens of said district proposed to be detached from the corporation of the city of Jeffersonville, and attached to Port Fulton are opposed to the prayer of the petitioners.

In view of these facts, the committee have directed me to report, that legislation on this subject is inexpedient, and recommend that the petition and remonstrance be laid on the table.

Which report was concurred in.

There is another lease at the Feeder Dam for a grist mill and saw mill, the latter of which only is understood to have been put in operation. Commissioners were appointed some years ago to settle with the lessee, but no report has been made to this office, and it is not in my power to state the amount of his indebtedness.

By an act of the General Assembly, approved Jan. 13, 1846, the whole control of this Canal was taken from the Auditor, Treasurer, and Secretary of State, and confided to an Agent elected by the Legislature, and its entire management is now vested in him. The Auditor's duties, under the law, are simply to issue requisitions on the Treasurer for money, settle with the Agent and keep the accounts.

I am, very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
D. MAGUIRE,
Auditor of State.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
Dec. 22d, 1849. }

HON. GEORGE W. CARR,

Speaker of the House of Representatives :

Please lay before the House over which you have the honor to preside, the accompanying communication upon the subject of the three per cent. fund, due the State of Indiana from the General Government.

Respectfully,

JOSEPH A. WRIGHT.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14th, 1849.

DEAR SIR—After I received your last letter, relative to the contract which had been made by Governor Dunning with the agents employed to make a settlement with the United States, I have made some further inquiries in the matter, and find that nothing has been done. The Agents, Elbridge & Platt, are prosecuting a similar claim on behalf of the State of Alabama, and expect, if they obtain a favorable decision, to bring in the State of Indiana, and have it allowed without further trouble.

The contract made by Gov. Dunning should, in my opinion, be rescinded, for two reasons: 1st. The Governor had no authority to make it. 2d. The per cent. he has agreed to pay them (20 per cent.) is unreasonable and extravagant. When I first wrote you on the subject, I had no information relative to the matter, except the statement from Mr. Peugh, that such a claim existed, and he would get it allowed for the compensation which I named to you. Since I have learned more about it, I find the business will involve no expense, and but little trouble to the agent. If anything is due the State, one-fifth of it should not be given away—the State should not give more than ten per cent. of the money which may be recovered. If the State officers who have a right to control this matter will rescind the contract made by Governor Dunning, and execute a power of attorney to Samuel A. Peugh, I will guarantee that the business shall be attended to, and all that is due the State obtained for a contingent compensation of 10 per cent. Will you bring this matter before them, and let me know their conclusion? The legislature being now in session, it may be the better plan to get a joint resolution passed authorizing the employment of a special agent.

Yours truly,

CALEB B. SMITH.

SAMUEL HANNAH, ESQ.,
Indianapolis, Ind.

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 21st, 1849.

CHARLES BUTLER, ESQ.—

DEAR SIR—Eldridge, Platt & Stewart are agents for the State of Indiana, under a commission from Governor Dunning, to re-state the five per cent. fund account of the State with the United States. You are, I presume, familiar with the nature of the fund—i. e. its origin under the admission compact with 'ndiana. I understand that you are likely to spend some time before the ensuing legislature of that State, and therefore venture to solicit of you a favor to myself and firm.

Our commission originated from a communication we made to the Governor during the last summer. Employed to re-state the account of Alabama, we had discovered matter of value to Indiana, entitling her to a large balance from the United States, on a re-statement of account, which should embody the matter we had discovered. The secret was our own—the fruit of our labor, skill, and position united. We communicated the fact to Governor Dunning, and offered to place the balance to the credits of the State on the proper re-statement, at our own risk and expense, on the principle of “no purchase, no pay,” provided we were empowered to do so, and were assured that when we had done so, a commission of 20 per cent. on the balance we would create, should belong to us. The Governor replied satisfactorily—gave the requisite authority, and every assurance which himself or cabinet could give, that 20 per cent. would be ours—but that the legislature alone could determine this. The high assurances of the Governor, and our own sense of the honor and justice of the State, rendered this arrangement entirely satisfactory to us, and we have acted under it.

To save labor of copying, we beg leave to refer you to our correspondence with the Governor, and his replies, which I presume you can easily see. It will disclose the subject fully.

You will see from a recent letter of ours, our report of what we have done, and the position of the matter. Gov. Duuning will doubtless report on the subject to the Legislature, and it is desirable as well for the State as for us, that the present indeterminate arrangement as to compensation should give place to a finite one. It is to this subject, generally and especially to the latter point, that we solicit your attention for us. And we feel happy that business happens to require your presence, knowing us and the nature of our services so well as you do, and thus able to give satisfaction and information to the gentlemen of the Indiana Legislature.

To some of them perhaps it will appear easy to settle an account with the United States, and that 20 per cent. is a high commission. The facts, however, are otherwise. The account is of the most voluminous and laborious nature. The Receiver's account from every land office in the State, from her admission till now, must be examined, and the proceeds and expenses extracted and aggregated. Each item has to be rigidly examined in the original reports of the Receivers. These reports are monthly, the account and adjustments are quarterly; so you may conceive the labor of this duty in examining such a mass of reports and accounts for every office for a period of nearly 30 years. But this is a small part of the task—Those offices in Indiana or Illinois or Ohio, which sold lands for both States, have also to be examined in order to get the Indiana items.

Then comes the work incident to our secret. Your experience has possessed you respecting these facts. As an evidence, I will state the Alabama re-statement fills some 80 pages of those largest sized ledgers used in the public offices, every page completely filled with columns, there being from six to twelve columns necessary to each item. And all of these columns must balance on a general footing. An accountant will understand this difficulty alone. The footing and making proportions and balances are in themselves a month's work on these accounts. The mere rulings and writings are an immense task.

Thus you see that arithmetical, intellectual, and mechanical skill is requisite for these accounts.

To all this is to be added the fact that the secret which enriches Indiana is ours, as I said, the legitimate fruit of our skill, labor, and position; and that its assertion costs her nothing; all she gets is clear gain, and all the risk is ours. With all this borne in mind, and the further fact kept in view that five to ten per cent. is the ordinary commission for collecting debts, where the agent runs no risk and contributes no part of the capital, but when the client does all this, surely 20 per cent. for commission for our care is moderate.

Then it is the established rate; Ohio paid it to Mr. King of this city for her accounts; Illinois pays it to Judge Young for her's; and I expect Alabama to allow even higher—25 per cent., assured, however, by her agent's letters to me that 20 per cent. would at least be the sum. I trust that I do not overburden you with this commission, and that you will act as the friend and adviser for us in it.

Respectfully yours,

CHARLES H. STEWART.

Mr. Carnahan of Fountain moved to refer the communications to the committee of ways and means ;

Office 49, William Street. }

SIR :—Having lately discovered a matter of some importance to the State of Indiana in her account with the United States, we take the liberty to mention the fact, and to accompany it with a proposal for rendering it available.

Sometime since we were retained as Agents for the State of Alabama to re-state and re-adjust her accounts with the United States, since her admission in 1819. Like those of Indiana, they are founded on the compacts which gives to the new States 5 per cent. on the nett proceeds of lands sold within their limits. Charles H. Stewart, one of our firm, selected because of his ability and experience as an accountant, is now engaged upon the account, and has been for the last three months.

Having had occasion to extend his researches into the accounts of States similarly interested, in order to investigate and test a certain principle which he could not sustain for Alabama, he turned to that of Indiana, and there found the data which he needed. Per-suing his investigation he found, that in respect to Indiana, the principle was incontestable, and would exercise a predominating influence upon her account. The discovery is exclusively his. It has never been applied to any account, and is peculiar to Indiana. It is the fruit of legal and financial experience, meeting in the same person, aided by accident. While its result to the State would be beyond question, its precise extent is at present uncertain. To ascertain that fact, we would demand the bestowal of more time than the circumstances justify. Suffice it to say, that it will bring into your treasury a sum ranging from fifty to one hundred thousand dollars.

Such is our confidence in this result, that we propose to do, at our expense and risk, all that is needful to realize the amount for the State, provided we are assured that when we have done so, a commission of 20 per cent. on the amount recovered shall be ours. To you, sir, as Governor, we beg to submit, as we now do, a proposal to this effect. If the commission seem large, we would remark that the fund, for its payment, will be created by us, the fruit of our skill and labor, all that the State gets is clear gain, and the unknown resources. On our part, many months of personal and intellectual labor, of severest character, will be requisite. The remuneration is contingent, in no event can there be cost to the State; if successful, we are paid, if otherwise, we loose all. In the first case we get but one out of every five dollars, which we ourselves have created. The State, which does nothing, knows nothing, and risks nothing, gets all the benefits. Under such circumstances, a proportionate commission is always given. If from 5 to 10 per cent. is deemed a just compensation to a legal gentleman for collecting assured and tangible debts, where he contributes nothing to the creation of the debt, runs no risk, and performs no labor, surely 20 per cent. is not extravagant under circumstances which are, in every respect, the reverse. And as our interest would be thus identified with that of the State, the placing of $5 in her treasury being a pre-requisite to obtaining $1 for ourselves, she would bear the highest guarantee that her interests would be cared for, by all the aids which we could command.

That you may know something about us, we take the liberty to enclose our introduction from some of our prominent citizens, and who send some business testimonials.

We have the honor to be,
With much respect,
Your obedient servants,
ELDRIDGE, PLATT, & STEWART.

His Excellency,
PARIS C. DUNNING,
Governor of Indiana.

STATE OF INDIANA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
Indianapolis, June 25, 1848. }

MESSRS. ELDRIDGE, PLATT, & STEWART:

GENTLEMEN:—Your letter and card of the 15th ult., (May,) containing a proposition in reference to the accounts of Indiana with the General Government, were received by me some time ago. I should have given you an earlier answer, but sickness of myself, and the death of one of my daughters, have prevented my attention to it anterior to this date. The subject is certainly one of much importance to the State, and steps should be taken immediately to prosecute the investigation, and I know of none more likely to lead to a favorable result than your proposition, and certainly it is a very fair one, in my estimation. I do not conceive that I have the positive right to make an unqualified contract with you. I have consulted some of the State officers, and they agree with me in the opinion, that the proposition should be embraced by the State, as far as her Executive officer may have power to act positively in the matter. I have no hesitancy in saying that the Legislature of Indiana (to whose attention I will bring this subject at an early period of its ensuing session,) will accede to the terms by you proposed. I can only promise you, that your proposition, and whatever influence I may be able to exert, shall be exerted in favor of the terms of the proposal. If, under this assurance, you are willing to prosecute the investigation, I say to you, go on, and I doubt not in addition to my exertions, that my successor will add his influence. Please let me hear from you again at your earliest convenience.

I have the honor to be,

Yours, respectfully,

[Signed]

PARIS C. DUNNING.

MESSRS. ELDRIDGE, PLATT, & STEWART.

A Copy of part of a Letter written to Governor of Indiana, from Eldridge, Platt, & Stewart.

WASHINGTON, JULY 20th, 1849.

SIR:—We have had the honor of your favor of 25th ult. &c. Your communication though not to the extent desired, is satisfactory as far as it goes. We had hoped that a matter so manifestly for the interest of the State, and void of risk and cost to her, would be deemed one of those emergencies which rest in the direction of the Supreme officer, and that you would feel justified in actually making this one sided agreement, secure of legislative sanction to so sound an exercise of discretion. We naturally desire to avoid the risk, which is inseparable from, of action of all large assemblies. Without desiring to be over-urgent, we would solicit your consideration of this matter.

If, however, you still feel that you cannot make a positive contract, we would then ask for a conditional one, to this purport, that 20 per cent. of the balance, which we shall establish by our statement, shall not be drawn by you, but allowed to remain in the treasury, until we place in your hands, such security as will satisfy you; then, that we be permitted to draw it, under the condition to refund the entire, or so much of it, as the Legislature may require. In this course you would be fully justified, &c., &c., &c. "You but permit us to receive and use money, all of which, probably, but the greater part certainly, will be ours."

The rest of the letter is unimportant.

STATE OF INDIANA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
Indianapolis, August 6th, 1849. }

MESSEES. ELDRIDGE, PLATT, & STEWART :

GENTLEMEN :—I am in receipt of your favor of the 20th ultimo. An answer has been delayed on account of my absence from the seat of government on business. I have carefully examined the contents of your letter, and conceive the proposition therein submitted to me for my consideration and approval, as fair; therefore, I accede to the latter proposition, which is conditional in its character, upon the terms set forth, and I have herewith forwarded you an appointment, or letter of authority, to act for the State. I have adopted, as you will discover, the form proposed. In adopting the latter proposition, I do not wish to be understood as doubting in the least degree the discretion, wisdom, or integrity of the Indiana Legislature. I perceive the ground upon which you place this matter, and duly appreciate your motives and judgment. Please let me hear from you again at as early a date as may suit your convenience.

Very respectfully,

(Signed.)

PARIS C. DUNNING.

MESSEES. ELDRIDGE, PLATT, and STEWART.

SIR :—At the suggestion of our friend, Charles Butler, Esq., we take the liberty of enclosing to you the correspondence which has passed between Gov. Dunning and ourselves upon the subject of the Indiana 5 per cent. account with the United States. At the date of his last letter, he sent us a formal power of attorney, authorizing our action as agents for the State in the re-statement of the account. We are now acting under it, and shall proceed toward its accomplishment with all possible despatch. It may be that the task will not be accomplished until your Legislature shall have adjourned. And it is, therefore, desired by us (if you shall deem our request not unreasonable) that at their present session they should fix our compensation, and confirm by resolution the conditional arrangement made with us by Governor Dunning.

Which report was concurred in and the bill ordered to be engrossed.

Mr. Hicks, chairman of the committee on the judiciary, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The judiciary committee, to whom was referred bill of the House, No. 93, entitled a bill more effectually to protect the property of married women, have duly considered the same, and directed me to report that, in the opinion of said committee, by an act, entitled an act for the protection of the property of married women, approved January 23, 1847, all the interests of a married woman, in her real estate, and the rents and profits arising therefrom, are amply secured to her; that by an act approved January 26, 1847, married women are fully empowered to dispose of their lands and tenements, by last will and testament.

As to the provisions of said bill securing the continued ownership of personal property to the wife, although most anxious to save married women from the wretchedness frequently brought upon them by a prodigal waste of the funds secured to the husband by the marriage, a majority of the committee believe the mischief connected with the proposed remedy, would be greater than the evil. They therefore recommend the indefinite postponement of said bill, which is herewith reported back to the House.

Mr. May, chairman of the committee on education, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

They, therefore, ask to be excused from the further consideration of the subject.

Which report was concurred in.

Mr. Orr, from a select committee, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The select committee to whom was referred bill of the House No. 13, entitled "an act in relation to witnesses fees," with instructions to strike out "fifty" and insert "seventy-five cents per day," have had the same under consideration, have made the said amendment, and so amended respectfully recommend its passage, and ask to be discharged from the consideration thereof.

Mr. Hicks, chairman of the committee on the judiciary, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on the judiciary, to whom was referred House bill, No. 7, "A bill exempting homesteads from execution," have had the same under consideration, and directed to report, that notwithstanding the conviction of the entire committee, that the feeling of a large majority of the people of the State is favorable to the objects contemplated by said bill, in which feeling every member of the committee participates, yet the committee cannot recommend the passage of the aforesaid bill, in view of the fact that in many instances property of great value would be exempted; nor have the committee been so fortunate as to mature an amended bill which, in their opinion, would meet the expectations of the people, or secure to them equal rights and even-handed justice. I am, therefore, directed to report said bill back to the House, and ask that the committee be discharged from the further consideration thereof.

Which report was concurred in.

Mr. Brown of Randolph, from the committee on the judiciary, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on the judiciary, to whom was referred bill of the House, No. 7, "exempting homesteads from execution and sale," having failed to report favorably to the same, the undersigned, one of said committee, asks leave to make the following as a minority report :

The undersigned is aware of the great importance of the subject referred to him and the other members of the committee for their deliberation—that it is one of more than ordinary interest, and when compared with the common questions of property which usually engage the attention of this Legislative Assembly, it towers far above them, affecting for good or ill the great masses of our wide spread population. In advocating the passage of a law exempting homesteads, the undersigned is aware that he is occupying grounds hitherto new and untrodden; but he is also aware of the fact that no great improvement in the condition of society has ever been attained without a struggle, and that many of the privileges and immunities which we now claim as ours by birthright, were the results of the toils and labor of years. He would not seek the enactment of any law which would in any degree lessen the obligation of contracts entered into, or impair the confidence reposed in each other by the different members of community, and on which the whole structure of civilized society rests, yet he believes that a law similar to the one under consideration, while it could do no injustice to any one, would confer a positive good on a large and meritorious class of our fellow citizens. He would suggest that the present is the most favorable time for the introduction of this measure of reform. Land monopoly, which has proved the withering blight of the old world, is already beginning to develop its effects in some of the States of our Union, and ere it fixes its poisonous grasp upon us, some plan should be devised to prevent those vast accumulations of wealth which are alike destructive to republicanism and happiness. The object of law and government is to protect the weak against the strong—to prevent those who, from wealth or any other cause, possess the power and the disposition to infringe on the rights of others. From the tendency of wealth to protect itself, and its constant efforts to direct the operations of government so as to suit its own purposes, the attention of the Legislature should be chiefly turned to the poor and laboring multitudes—to such as toil at the plow and in the workshops, and who have neither the time nor the means for devising schemes of protection for themselves.

Were the losses and suffering which now attend the violation of pecuniary obligations confined to those immediately concerned in the transaction, the evils complained of would not call so loudly for a remedy, but they now most oppressively on the innocent and unoffending—on the wife and family of the debtor. Thus not unfrequently are entire families, by the imprudence of one of the members, involved in suffering and ruin, from which the industry and exertions of their after lives cannot restore them. Nor is this the only or worst evils. The family thus involved is in many instances forced to separate, and the children driven to seek a livelihood among strangers. The object of family government is thus defeated. That sacred institution which is the ground-work and basis of all civil government, and which was evidently designed to be the nursery for the moral and intellectual training of the youth of our country, fails in accomplishing its primary object. Every act of legislation therefore is politic and wise which throws its protecting shield around the family circle, which places within its reach the means of a competent subsistence, and aids the parents in imparting that training and instruction to their children that cannot be done by others. The undersigned thinks that this desirable object can be best obtained by securing to the head of every family a homestead from which misfortune cannot drive him; here his family may find a safe retreat; here they may be kept from the contaminating influence of the vice and dissipation to which too early contact with the world exposes them.

It is believed that by the enactment of a judicious system of homestead exemption, much can be done to stimulate and encourage the industry of those under pecuniary embarrassment. Under the enactments that now stand on our statute, the debtor, made so perhaps as much by misfortune as fault, feels but little inducement to repair his broken fortune or credit. He knows that the strong arm of the law is over him, ready to appropriate the first proceeds of his labors, and leave destitute a family whom duty and law oblige him to maintain. The consequence is in many cases he becomes discouraged and disgusted, he loses that dignity and feeling of personal independence, which it should ever be the object of the law to maintain, and abandons the hope, and almost the desire, of again raising himself or family to competence and respectability. Under the operations of the proposed law, it is believed that such hardships would but rarely occur. It would not be in the power of the creditor to strip his debtor of the last means of support. His home would be secure to him, and the labor which has been spent in decorating it with the ornaments that give charms to domestic life would not be lost. His self-respect would be retained, and in the end he would be more likely to discharge his liabilities than under the present law. In another respect the undersigned believes the proposed law would have a beneficial effect in the inducement it would hold out to our citizens to become the owners of moderate quantities of real estate. Every means of producing this result should receive the support of the Statesman and the Legislator, inasmuch as it identifies the security and happiness of the citizen with the stability and welfare of his government. Encouragement would be given to agricultural pursuits, and an independent yeomanry established, who, either amid the smiles of peace, or the frowns of war, form the glory and defence of our country.

Such a law would also tend in some measure to check the fictitious and unwarrantable system of credit which at present works so injuriously alike to those giving and receiving it. Unlimited credit is the poor man's worst enemy—it steals not only his earnings but his judgment from him. In times of apparent prosperity he is, by its allurements, induced to incur liabilities wholly beyond his power to discharge, and the consequence is that when a reverse comes he is stripped of his property for the payment of debts, which, under a cash system, he never would have contracted.

The above are some of the considerations which have induced the undersigned to favor the passage of a homestead bill. He feels that the subject is one of great importance, affecting the well being of the present and future citizens of Indiana.

Public sentiment is becoming aroused all over our country, and is engaged in devising schemes for improving the condition of society. Already several of the States, both east and west of us, have adopted the provisions of the homestead. Indiana, already has attained a high position among her sister States, by her noble efforts for the relief of the afflicted and unfortunate. Let her not be behind in this great measure of legislative reform. Now is the time to act, so as to prevent the introduction into our community of that system that has blighted the prosperity of the old world, and reduced the mass of her laboring population to actual want and suffering. Now while pauperism, with its consequent crimes and horrors is nearly unknown, let us hasten by wise legislation to encourage such a distribution of property, and equal ownership of our soil, as will shut out those inequalities of property and rank which have crushed the energies of Europe, and which her hardy sons are now wiping out in bloody revolutions.

The undersigned in summing up some of the reasons which induce him to favor the adoption of this bill, would present the following:

That it will tend to build up an independent and industrious class of agriculturalists.

That it will encourage additional numbers of our citizens to become the owners of land in small quantities.

That it will, to a great extent, prevent the distress now entailed on families by the default of a single member.

That it will enable parents to prevent their families from being broken up until after the period allotted to education has expired.

That it will tend to place proper restrictions upon an undue system of credit.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

JAMES BROWN.

The Speaker laid before the House, the following communication from the Quarter Master General, viz :

QUARTER MASTER GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
Indianapolis, Indiana, December 28, 1849. }

MR. SPEAKER :

In reply to a resolution of the House of Representatives, handed to me a few days since, by Col. Gentry, requesting me to report the number, kind, and condition of public arms, and the amount annually expended for the transportation and repair of the same, I state as follows :

There are in the Armory at this time,

460 Muskets—new,

100 Hall's patent rifles—new,

160 Carbines—new,

400 Percussion pistols—new,

200 Sabres—new,

28 Boxes, accoutrements—new,

1 Brass six pounder cannon, carriage, and equipage.

There are some six hundred guns in the armory, which have been used by companies and returned. As there have been no expenses incurred in repairing arms within the last eighteen months, the expenses for that purpose, for the ensuing year, will include the expenses for two and a-half years, and will probably amount to some four hundred dollars. The transportation paid by the State, for sending arms to, and bringing them back from companies, has been but a few dollars, (I cannot give now the exact amount,) for the reasons that companies have been required to pay said transportation and are generally willing to do it. The undersigned believes that section 20, page 22, of the General Laws of 1844, on furnishing arms to companies, is complied with when he delivers to the commandant of a company, at the armory on a proper requisition, the proper arms for said company. But as many construe the law to mean that the State pay the expenses of transportation of said arms to the locality of the company, and as it is believed that a company, that is not willing to incur the small amount per member, to pay said transportation, has not sufficient military spirit to insure a continued organization, it is respectfully recommended to avoid any ambiguity that may exist in reference to the law aforesaid, that the Legislature pass a law requiring companies drawing arms from the State, to pay transportation from the seat of Government and back again, where the arms are given up by the company. When I came into office, I found that many companies had received arms at the transportation and expense of the State, which had not even been taken from the boxes, and had therefore, to be brought back to the armory at the expense of the State, the company for whom this double expense had been incurred, never having used said arms. The annual quoto of arms due to the State, is about 400 muskets. In 1846 and 1847, during the war with Mexico, the General Government did not issue the quoto to this State. In 1848, the State received her quoto, in 1849, no arms were received. But a letter from the ordinance department, of the 17th inst., to the Governor, informs us that the quoto for 1849 and 1850, will be issued, amounting for the two years, to about 800 muskets, or their value in other arms, and an order for said arms has been made out to said ordinance department.

The State of Indiana draws arms from the General Government, under a report of her strength, made in 1832, since which, her population has nearly tribled, and hence a correct report now would give us nearly three times our present quoto of arms. But as this cannot be done, without a full military organization, and as no such organization is now probable, we will have to draw arms under the old report of our strength.

By reference to the Documentary Journals, you will find the last six years, (the period of our term of office,) the Adjutant General and I, have made our regular official reports, although our predecessors for many years, had not done so. In those reports, the facts in reference to our inabilities to draw our proper quoto of arms, without a new organization were fully set forth. For three sessions of the Legislature, the Adjutant General assisted the respective committees on Military Affairs, to draw up laws for organizing the Militia, and twice did a full code for said object pass the House of Representatives, but failed in the Senate.

But all efforts having failed, to procure the passage of a law for the purpose of securing to the State, her proper quota of arms, and there being nothing new to communicate in reference to the operations of the past year; I thought a failure to report, on my part, wholly unimportant to the interest of the public, and this is my explanation for not reporting at the commencement of the present session of the Legislature, the same reasons will account for the brief report of the Adjutant General, there being nothing new in either his or my department, to report.

Respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

SAMUEL BECK,

Quarter Master General Indiana Militia.

Mr. Elder, from a select committee, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The select committee, to whom was referred bill No. 10, of the House, concerning the repeal of the 251st section of article 10, chapter 40, being a repeal of that law which prevents negroes, mulattoes, and Indians testifying in the courts of this State, have had the same under consideration, and the majority of said committee have instructed me to report the same back to the House, and recommend its passage.

Your committee further report some of the reasons which presented themselves to their minds, inducing them to make the above recommendation.

They believe the law which prohibits colored persons from testifying in courts of justice, is a violation of the principle of "equal and exact justice to all men," upon which our laws are founded. Many cases of hardship and oppression arise under this law, not only to colored persons, but also to whites. It excludes from our courts the testimony of colored persons, except when persons of the same class are parties. A murder, or any other crime, may be committed, and credible colored persons, (for your committee believe there are such,) be the only persons cognizant of the facts, yet they are prohibited from testifying, and the guilty are permitted to go unwhipt of justice.

Suppose a ruffian should enter the house of one of our peaceable colored citizens, make a brutal assault upon his person, outrage his family, or plunder him of his property, what redress could he have, if not witnessed by white persons? His own family and his colored neighbors might witness the whole transaction, and they might be persons in whose testimony every reliance could be placed, yet, in the absence of a white witness, the perpetrator would go unmolested and unpunished. The same would be the result if the outrages were committed against the persons or property of any of our white citizens, if none witnessed their perpetration but persons of color.

Again—persons doing business may have in their employ colored persons, and they may be the only persons by whom important accounts could be proven ; but they are excluded as witnesses because of their color, and thus worthy citizens may be deprived of their rights. Surely this is not right.

While we permit colored persons to hold property, and compel them to pay taxes, we certainly ought to protect them in the peaceable possession of their property, and secure their personal rights.

Your committee could instance many other cases than those named, where injustice and oppression would result from the present law, but they deem it unnecessary. They believe sufficient have been produced to convince the the House of its unjustness and the necessity for the passage of the bill herewith returned.

It may be urged as an objection against the passage of the bill, that it will open the doors of our courts to corruption, because a portion of our colored population are degraded and reckless, and could be induced to swear falsely. It should also be borne in mind, in this connection, that the court and jury are the sole judges of the credibility of witnesses, and that with the prejudices that exist against the colored race, their evidence would be scanned closely and more than due weight would not likely be given to their testimony—that the passage of this bill would only place them on an equal footing with the most abandoned white man. And your committee will here remark, that it would be hard to produce worse specimens of depravity, in the shape of negro witnesses, than is frequently brought forward among the whites.

Your committee are of the opinion that the enlightened spirit of the age demands the passage of this bill. They understand that in every free State, except Illinois, this State, and, perhaps, Iowa, colored persons are allowed to give their testimony in courts, the same as white persons. Our sister State of Ohio, last winter, wiped off this relic of barbarism from the statute books. Will not Indiana follow her example in this act of justice and reform ?

Mr. Brown of Shelby moved to indefinitely postpone the bill.

Mr. Mickle moved a call of the House.

Which motion prevailed.

On motion by Mr. Prather,

The absentees were sent for, viz :

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES.

following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on the judiciary, to whom was referred bill of the House No. 2, entitled "a bill for the more effectual, just, and equal assessment of personal property, moneys, credits, and capital stock of moneyed and stock corporations, have duly considered said bill, and a majority of said committee have directed me to report the same back to the House with an amendment, and when said amendment is adopted, they recommend the passage of said bill.

Amend as follows :

Strike out the original bill from the enacting clause, and insert the following :

Sec. 1. That there shall be elected in each township in the several counties of this State, by the qualified electors thereof, on the first Monday in August preceeding the expiration of the term of service of the county assessors now in office, and biennially thereafter, an assessor who shall hold his office for two years, and until his successor is qualified, and shall do and perform all such duties as now are, or may hereafter, be required by law to be performed by assessors, and the assessors now in office shall be governed by the provisions of this act.

Sec. 2. The clerk of each county shall, so soon as the evidence thereof is filed in his office, certify to the county auditor the persons elected assessors in the several townships of his county, and the auditor shall thereupon issue to each person elected to said office, a certificate of his election, to be delivered to him by the sheriff of his county within ten days after the same is put into the hands of such sheriff.

Sec. 3. Each assessor elected under the provisions of this act, previous to entering on the duties of his office, shall give bond, with security, to the acceptance of the board doing county business, or in vacation, to the acceptance of the county auditor, in the penal sum of three hundred dollars, payable to the State of Indiana, and conditioned for the faithful and impartial discharge of the duties of his office according to law, and shall take and subscribe an oath or affirmation, to be indorsed on his bond, that he will faithfully and impartially discharge the duties of his office to the best of his skill and ability, and said bond so endorsed shall be deposited with the county auditor, who shall carefully preserve the same, and for any breach of the conditions of said bond suit or suits shall be instituted, in the name of the State of Indiana, on the citation of such county auditor, or person performing the duties of county auditor, in the circuit court of the proper county. And the county auditors, or persons performing the duties of county auditors, are authorized to administer the oath required by this section.

Sec. 4. If any assessor, elected or appointed under the provisions of this act, shall fail to give bond and qualify, within ten days after the receipt of his certificate of election or appointment, or, having qualified, shall resign. remove, or die, his office shall be considered vacant, and the county board shall fill the vacancy so occasioned, by appointment, whenever the same is practicable, and the county auditor, or person performing the duties of county auditor in vacations of the county boards, when the exigency of the case requires it, shall fill such vacancies, and such auditor or person performing the duties of auditor, shall issue to the assessor appointed as above in this section provided, a certificate of his appointment, which shall be delivered to him by the sheriff, and such assessor shall thereupon give bond and qualify as hereinbefore provided, and if any township shall fail to elect an assessor, the county board shall appoint as aforesaid.

Sec. 5. If any assessor shall be guilty of neglect of any of the duties now or hereafter imposed upon him by law, such assessor shall, upon conviction thereof, on presentment or indictment in the proper circuit court, be fined in any sum not exceeding one hundred dollars, and shall be subject to removal from office by the county board.

Sec. 6. MR. SPEAKER :

The select committee, to whom was referred House bill No. 306, in relation to straightening the line between the counties of Ohio and Dearborn, have had the same under consideration and after a full investigation of the matter, are of the opinion that common justice, and the interests and necessities of the people living along Laughery creek, the dividing line, imperatively demand the action of the Legislature in straightening the same. Which motion did not prevail.

The bill was ordered to be engrossed.

Mr. Watkins, from a select committee, made the following report on the part of the minority :

MR. SPEAKER :

A minority of the select committee, to whom was referred House bill, No. 306, purporting to be a bill to straighten the line between Ohio and Dearborn counties, in the State of Indiana, have had the same under consideration and beg leave most respectfully to submit the following report :

1. That the people of Dearborn and Ohio counties, have not, by petition or otherwise, asked this Legislature to make such change in the boundary line of said counties, as is contemplated by this bill, while three thousand five hundred voters in Dearborn county have most unequivocally signified their opposition to the enactment of any law that would have the effect to detach more territory from the county of Dearborn, to be added to the county of Ohio.

2. That Ohio county is already indebted to Dearborn, for all the territory now embraced in her limits, and the people of that county, by asking more territory, not only exhibit a spirit of ingratitude, but are acting in open violation of a solemn contract, made positive and absolute, between the people of said counties, at the time Ohio county was organized; to the effect that Laughery creek should be and forever remain the boundary line between said counties.

3. The third section of said bill, gives the board of county commissioners of Ohio county, the sole power to decide upon all petitions from the inhabitants of the territory, proposed to be annexed to said county, thereby enabling said board to construe any number of petitioners, however small, to be a majority of the qualified voters of said territory, and thus deprive the people of a fair election, in this matter, by committing fraud upon their franchises.

4. The object of said bill is not what its title purports "to straighten the line between the counties therein named," but a bill to detach a large portion of the territory from Dearborn county, against the known and expressed wishes of nineteen-twentieths of the inhabitants of said county. Therefore, the undersigned, a minority of your committee respectfully protest against the passage of said bill.

J. F. WATKINS.

Mr. Russell, from a select committee, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee to whom was referred House bill, No. 145, have had the same under consideration and a majority of said committee have directed me to report the bill back to the House, with the following amendment to the first section of said bill, and when so amended, recommend its passage :

"That hereafter it shall be the duty of the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, to advertise all lands mortgaged to said fund, which may be forfeited for the non-payment of either principal or interest, in two papers published at the seat of Government of this State, and in one paper in each county where the land may be situated, if there be a newspaper published in such county, four weeks successively, the first publication to be at least sixty days previous to the day of sale; and if no paper be published in the county where the lands may be situated, then four publications only in two papers at the seat of Government, shall be required.

Which amendment was concurred in.

The bill as amended was ordered to be engrossed.

Mr. Cravens, from a select committee, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER :

The select committee to whom was referred the petition of sundry citizens of the counties of Clark and Washington, praying a change in the line dividing said counties, have had the same under consideration, and have directed me to report it inexpedient to legislate on the subject, and ask to be discharged from its further consideration.

Which report was concurred in,

Mr. Dougherty of Elkhart, from a select committee, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The select committee, to whom was referred the petition of citizens of Carroll county, praying for the removal of the county seat of Carroll county from Delphi to Camden in said county, and the remonstrance of citizens of said county on the same subject, have had the same under consideration, and have directed me to report that it is inexpedient to grant the prayer of the petitioners.

Carroll county was organized in the year 1828, and now contains about twelve thousand inhabitants. In the fertility of its soil, and in its agricultural improvements, it is not excelled by any county in the State. Delphi, the present county seat, is situated on the Wabash and Erie Canal, and on the Wabash river. It is about four miles from the west line, and about ten miles from the geographical center of the county. With a rapidly increasing population, it now contains over one thousand inhabitants, and is a place of great and growing prosperity. Its great artificial and natural advantages are not surpassed by any town in the State, and needs only the concentration of capital in the employment of its vast water power at the dam thrown across the river at that point, to make it one of the most eligible locations for manufacturing operations, upon an extended scale, any where to be found in the western country.

The public buildings at Delphi consist of a court house, jail, and a commodious edifice containing the county offices. The whole were erected at an expense exceeding ten thousand dollars. They are all built in a substantial and tasteful style, and will answer the purpose for which they were designed for many years to come. Two of them are recent structures. They are all well adapted to the uses for which they were intended, and would be almost valu-less for any other purpose. To sacrifice so much valuable property, and to disturb so many valuable interests as always cluster around a flourishing county seat, merely to remove an inconvenience arising from its uncentral position, your committee think, would be very unwise, unless called for by more urgent considerations than any which have been brought before the attention of the committee.

It is true that Delphi, the present county seat, is at a distance of ten miles from the centre of the county, but the inconvenience arising from its uncentral position your committee think is more fancied than real. Delphi is on the canal and river, and Pittsburgh, another flourishing town, is situated on the opposite bank of the river. All the trade and commercial business of the county is transacted at these two places. The business of almost every man in the county in going to these markets, will draw him there a number of times in the year, and when there his county business can readily be transacted, without always requiring a journey for that especial purpose. An arrangement like this seems to your committee a lesser inconvenience than where a man's private and public business draws him in different or opposite directions.

The practice of the people of counties bordering on our lakes and rivers, in locating their county seats upon the bank of the river or lake, justify these conclusions of the committee as to the convenience of such locations.

Large and spacious hotels have been erected at Delphi, and the concourse of people ordinarily attending courts will be much better provided for there than they could be for many years to come, if the county seat was removed to a new place unfurnished with such facilities for accommodating the people.

Independent of these considerations, the committee would be unwilling to grant the prayer of the petitioners because the remonstrants are double in number to the petitioners, and also because in all cases of re-locating county seats, the question should be submitted to the vote of the people, which is not asked for by the petitioners in this case.

Which report was concurred in.

Mr. Hicks, from a select committee, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

Mr. Wilson, chairman of the select committee to whom was referred bill No. 229 of the House, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The select committee to whom as was referred bill No. 229, entitled "a bill to charter the Indianapolis and Cincinnati Railroad Company," and a pending amendment thereto, have had the same under consideration, and have directed me to report that further action of this legislature upon this subject is inexpedient.

Mr. Edwards, from the same select committee, made the following report, on the part of the minority :

MR. SPEAKER :

The undersigned, a minority of the select committee, to whom was committed bill of the House No. 229, to charter the Indianapolis and Cincinnati Railroad Company, dissent from the report of the majority of said committee, that it is inexpedient to legislate on that subject, and in thus dissenting, they deem that it is due alike to themselves and to the subject under consideration to give some of the reasons therefor.

The bill proposes to charter a Company to construct a Railroad from Indianapolis in the direction of Cincinnati, and by this means bring that great commercial city of the west within a few hours travel of the capital of our own State, opening to us its markets, which on all hands are acknowledged to be the best which can be offered to our citizens. It is an ascertained fact which cannot be controverted, that Cincinnati has offered a higher market for the staple articles of Indiana, than any of her own border towns or cities. From its position, size, and wealth, it must continue to be the principal point to which will tend the great surplus products of eastern, western, and central Indiana. Such being the benefits that are apparent from a road like the one contemplated in the bill, it may well be inquired why the State of Indiana, which has been so very liberal in the granting of charters, refuses in this instance to permit this great thoroughfare to be opened to her citizens. It has been urged in grave argument against this bill, that it will be giving encouragement to Cincinnati at the expense of some of our own cities, and not those of a foreign State. The undersigned will not undertake to make a serious reply to this reason, which is based upon pure selfishness, and is totally unsupported by any consideration of sound policy or liberal feeling. Suffice it to say they believe the time has long since passed away when motives so selfish and sectional can influence any one who claims to be fit to represent an intelligent and republican people. Such a principle, if carried into practical operation, would dry up the Ohio and Mississippi, because on their majestic waters the surplus of our citizens is carried beyond the limits of the State, and goes to enrich and build up another and a foreign city. They will not insult the Legislature and the people by pressing the matter further. Instead of the selfish policy which would oppose a great improvement because all of its advantages are not confined to ourselves exclusively (and which we have condemned in the case of a neighboring State). The undersigned would say, leave our commerce and trade free and unfettered to seek those markets, to which, by the laws of traffic, they are attracted. Give the citizens all the facilities in our power for the transportation of the results of their labor, and if splendid cities do not arise within the limits of our own State, it will be because the general interests of our people would not be promoted thereby.

It has been argued as a prominent reason why we should not charter the proposed road, that it will injure the interest the State has in the stock of the road to Madison, by lessening her dividends expected from that source. Now, does not the mere statement of the argument disclose its weakness? Is it not admitting that a portion of the commerce which goes to Madison at present, does so because there is no other southern outlet. If a road direct from Indianapolis to Cincinnati will direct so large an amount of business from this road, in which the State owns stock, will it not be because that road offers greater advantages to our citizens than any other? Is it desirable or liberal that the State should hold a monopoly at the expense of her own citizens, or that for the mere prospect of a few thousand dollars she should seek to cripple the resources and the energy of a great portion of the State? The welfare of the State will be best advanced by promoting the comfort and happiness of each individual. If the State is to exert her vast power to put down every improvement which may possibly conflict with her pecuniary interests in a particular work, it is time the people should know it, that they may provide against the recurrence of such a monopoly. But the effect will be, if the revenue of the State is lessened by coming in competition with the Madison road, that the decrease will be more than made up by inviting into the State a large amount of capital subject to taxation. It has been urged again that to grant this charter will be injustice to certain other chartered companies on the line of the proposed road. The undersigned would suggest that when the charters for these roads were granted, the faith of the State was not pledged, especially or otherwise, that she would not, at any future period, enter into any improvements, which might lessen the value of those already made. The State not only did not do this, but she could not have done it. When the charter of those roads, whose interests, it is contended, are now to be affected, were granted, it must have been with the implied understanding that the State reserved the right to make any and all future improvements which her interests might demand. If no act of incorporation is to be granted that may conflict with the pecuniary interests of an existing company, the undersigned would ask why this body, a few days since, granted a charter for a railroad from Evansville via Vincennes to Terre Haute, when it was contended that it was an act of bad faith towards the bondholders of the Wabash and Erie Canal. If the argument is worth any thing in the one case it is in the other, unless it can be shown that our foreign bondholders are entitled to less respect than a chartered company of our own State, the stock of which is chiefly held by the brokers of New York City. The energy and enterprise of the citizens of Indiana should not be limited by State lines. She bears a relation to the entire Union, that requires an enlarged and liberal policy, which shall conduce not only to her own interests, but to the interests of the masses of the American people.

The minority of said committee believe the following reasons among others, in addition to the foregoing, that the company should be incorporated :

1st. Because the undersigned are of opinion that liberal charters for Railroads ought to be granted by the Legislature to any section of the State, desiring to benefit their agricultural and commercial condition by the construction of these great arteries of trade.

2d. Because the facility of getting to market, and the more outlets, the greater will be the competition of rival points of trade, the consequence will be that the transportation will be reduced to the lowest possible rates, and the products of the country will command the highest market price.

3d. Because, in the judgment of the undersigned, a direct communication with Cincinnati will be of immense advantage to a large portion of this great State, inasmuch as it will afford the best market for almost every article of produce. The undersigned will show the effect it will have on a single item of production, and that will suffice. As the interior of the State is now situated, the only outlet it has by rail way, to the Ohio river, is by the Madison road; the article of pork at the city of Madison upon an average brings fifteen cents per hundred pounds less than at Cincinnati, and why? because it will cost the drover twenty-five cents per hundred more to drive his hogs to the latter place than it will to transport them by the cars to the former; the merchant at Madison, seeing this, takes advantage of his situation, puts the difference into his own pocket instead of the pocket of the producer. But the moment you open a communication to a rival point competition corrects this and the farmer gets the full value of his commodity at either point. Take for illustration a single county, and in order that no one may charge us with unfairness, we select one of the counties upon the Madison road itself, the county of Bartholomew, we will suppose that she produces twenty thousand hogs annually, averaging two hundred pounds each; without any other than the Madison market to which she can go, she is compelled to sell these hogs for six thousand dollars less than their intrinsic market value for want of a choice of markets; but the moment you open a communication to another market, as Cincinnati for instance, the farmers of Bartholomew county will get as high a price for their hogs at Madison as the farmers of Rush county will get for theirs at Cincinnati.

In addition to this every person who travels to Cincinnati and to points east of it, from the whole of the Western, Northern, and Central portion of the State is compelled to pay one dollar and fifty cents more on the Madison road and on steamboats, than he would pay on a road direct to Cincinnati. We will suppose upon an average, for the next ten years, that there will be sixty "through" passengers per day each way on the Madison road, equal to thirty-six thousand dollars per annum at one dollar and fifty cents extra each, and you have an annual and unnecessary tax upon the traveling community, a large portion of whom are our own citizens, of fifty-four thousand dollars, for the poor privilege of passing through the beautiful city of Madison and getting a sight at the "deep diggings."

Now in conclusion, we are of opinion, with due deference to the counter views of the majority of the committee, that all this is too great a tax to be imposed, by the rejection of this bill, on the farming and traveling community. There are many other reasons that could be urged why this bill should become a law, such as the increased value of taxables on the route of the road, the foreign capital that would be brought in and expended among us, as well as the tax upon the stock, all going to show that as a revenue measure it ought to be adopted.

But our time will not allow us to discuss these and other topics connected with this great measure.

So the bill and report was laid on the table.

Mr. Shelby, from a select committee, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The select committee, to whom was referred the petition of sundry citizens of Tippecanoe and Montgomery counties, asking compensation for capturing and bringing back and depositing in the jail of Tippecanoe county Joseph Coughren, jr., and Martin Moore, charged with having sold counterfeit land warrants to John Maharrey and John Mahar, have had the same under consideration, and now ask leave to report the following bill, and recommend its passage :

No. 352. A bill for the relief of John Maharrey ;

Which was read a first time and passed to a second reading.
Mr. Cole, from a select committee, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER :

The select committee, to whom was referred the communication of the Auditor and Treasurer of State, in reply to a resolution of the House requesting them to "report whether a settlement had been made with the Trustees of the Wabash and Erie Canal of the amount outstanding of Wabash and Erie Canal scrip east and west of Tippecanoe," have had that subject under consideration, and have directed me to report, that it appears from said communication that an investigation "of the scrip account, as directed by the joint resolution, approved Jan. 16, 1849," was had between the Auditor and Treasurer and Col. Blake, one of the Trustees of the Wabash and Erie Canal, and "that the amount of the Wabash and Erie Canal scrip east, was found to be exactly as the Auditor of State had reported to the last General Assembly, (leaving still outstanding the sum of $25,171 21,) except that by an examination of old reports made to the Board of Internal Improvements, and the Fund Commissioners," was found an entry of $11,824 10 of scrip returned to the Fund Commissioners by Jesse L. Williams, then General Superintendent of the Wabash and Erie Canal, and that doubts existed whether this sum was a proper credit which ought to be deducted from the sum first mentioned as outstanding. As the joint resolution referred to authorized the Auditor and Treasurer of State to "adjust and settle the scrip account" with the Trustees, and to "fix the amount outstanding which said Trustees are bound to redeem, and report the same to the next Legislature for its confirmation," your committee has no difficulty at arriving at the conclusion that no such settlement as is contemplated in the joint resolution has ever been made, and this opinion seems fully sustained not only by the communication referred to, but by the acts of the Trustees themselves. It appears that a register is kept of each scrip that has been issued, and that the proper entry has been made in a blank opposite each number wherever any has been redeemed and cancelled, and it would seem to be no difficult matter at any time, upon a careful examination of these registers, to determine the exact amount in circulation without resorting to the less reliable entries of aggregate sums made by officers whose terms have long since expired, and which are not understood by any person at present connected with the business.

Your committee do not deem it important to inquire what was the aggregate amount of scrip which these Trustees were bound to redeem, or the precise amount yet outstanding. By the different acts creating their trust, they stand in the same relation to the holders of this scrip that the State did previously, and are bound to redeem all that has been properly issued by the State officers. No sum is specified in either of the acts, and the first duty of the Trustees, as it occurs to your committee, would have been to redeem the entire amount, upon presentation, in payment for lands, &c., and after that, if they had any just cause to complain of any misrepresentations on the part of the State authorities, it would have been quite as appropriate to lay the matter before the Legislature, as to have impeached in advance the good faith of the State, by taking the remedy into their own hands, by refusing to receive this scrip, to the serious injury of its innocent holders. Whether the Trustees have any such cause of complaint, it is, perhaps, not necessary to express an opinion, but it may not be improper to remark, that if the Agent of the Bondholders had consulted the registers alluded to—the most reliable sources of information—in regard to this matter, the possibility of any misunderstanding would have been obviated; and, besides this, it can hardly be reckoned among the probabilities that if the amount of this scrip, which was shown to be in circulation at different times by the Auditor's reports had been found to be more than the amount really outstanding, the Trustees would have felt themselves bound to have paid the difference into the State Treasury.

It must be remembered, too, that the Trustees have derived some benefits which could not have been taken into the account when this State debt arrangement was entered into. They are now about to derive over one hundred and thirteen thousand acres of land, over and above the amount which had been granted to the State previous to this arrangement, and if it is contended on the part of the Trustees, that they were only bound to redeem the amount of scrip which appeared to be outstanding from the reports of the Auditor, it may, by a parity of reasoning be contended, on the part of the State, that she is only bound to them for the lands which she then owned, and that the revenues to be derived from the sales of lands, included in this additional grant, ought to be paid into the State Treasury.

In conclusion, your committee would say, that they deem it the duty of the State to protect the innocent holders of this scrip from damages and loss, and that they do not doubt the ability nor the disposition of the Legislature to redress any and all just causes of complaint on the part of the Trustees, in relation to the matter under consideration, and they have, therefore, instructed me to report the following joint resolution, and recommend its passage:

No. 353. A joint resolution relative to the redemption of the Wabash and Erie Canal scrip, east of Tippecanoe;

Which was read a first time and passed to a second reading.

RESOLUTIONS.

On motion by Mr. Carnahan of Posey,

Resolved, That the judiciary committee be instructed to inquire into, and report to this House, as early as practicable, whether all former Agents of State have not taxed to the State incidental expenses incurred while attending to business foreign to their official duties, and also, whether they have not taxed the State with extra incidental expenses while attending to their proper official duties, and whether they are liable on their official bond for said extravagant, and other expenses incurred while attending to business not connected with their official duties.

Mr. Elder offered the following resolution :

Resolved, That the committee on the judiciary be instructed to inquire into the expediency of so amending the law for the collection of debts, as to allow the creditor to make oath or affirmation to his accounts within a limited time after the debts were contracted. Also, into the expediency of so altering the limitation law, that it shall not extend to persons who shall have removed from the county where they may have contracted debts.

Which was not adopted.

Mr. Chandler, from a select committee, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

One of the committee to whom was referred the resolution making it the duty of a committee, to inquire into the propriety of abolishing the office of State Agent, begs leave to report that by the second section of the act, entitled "An act to provide for the funded debt of the State of Indiana, and for the completion of the Wabash and Erie Canal," approved January 19, 1846, it is enacted that every certificate issued under this act, shall be signed in blank and numbered by the Treasurer and Auditor, and under the seal of the State, and at the time of its being delivered, shall be filled up and countersigned by the Agent of State; and that by amendment K, of the 19th section of the act supplementary to an act to provide for the funded debt of the State of Indiana, and for the completion of the Wabash and Erie Canal to Evansville, approved January 27, 1847, that the stock created in pursuance to this act shall be transferrable only in the city of New York, in books to be provided for by the State, &c., in pursuance of such rules as may be adopted by the Agent of State, or may be prescribed by law, &c.; but no transfer shall be made, except on the surrender and cancellation of the outstanding certificates, &c.: Provided, however, That the possession of a certificate of stock with an endorsement thereof, on the back, to the possessor, purporting to be by the holder under his hand, attested by two witnesses, shall be deemed a sufficient power of attorney, in all cases, to authorize and warrant the Agent of State to transfer on the books, in the name of such holder, such stock to such possessor; and the Agent of State shall, at all times, be deemed the agent of the parties, for making the transfers; and by the first section of the law of 1846, aforesaid, and by the 2d, 3d, and 4th sections of the act amendatory thereto, it is provided if the State is not able to pay her interest, certificates shall be issued for the deficit, and on the first day of January, 1853, all of said deficits shall be converted into stock and certificates issued therefor. We also find from information obtained from the present and Ex-State Agent, and from the Auditor and Treasurer of State, and from Charles Butler, one of the Trustees of the Wabash and Erie Canal, that it is necessary to keep an office in the city of New York, for the purpose of receiving the surrender of State bonds, and the issuing of certificates of State stock, and for the surrendering of certificates and the issuing of new certificates. We also find from the fifth section of the act first aforesaid, that the interest on our State debt, must also be paid in the city of New York, and we find that this State Agency is so much connected with the Butler bill, that it is impossible to abolish the office, without violating our faith with our bondholders. It would be considered by our bondholders, a violation of faith, and our bonds would immediately fall in the market, and we would be stigmatized as violating our faith. We might transfer the duties of that office to some other person. For instance, we might transfer those duties to a Broker or a Bank in New York. Winslow, Lanier, & Co., Brokers in New York, have performed all those duties for the last year, for twenty-five hundred dollars, and they propose to continue to do them for that sum, per annum, and they propose to give good security for their faithful performance. The Commissioners of the Sinking Fund propose to perform those duties for the same sum. The question for us to determine is, shall we abolish the office and transfer those duties to a Broker or Bank in New York, or elect an Agent, and curtail his expenses? The committee have come to the conclusion that it will be advisable to elect a State Agent and curtail his expenses, and then we will have the control of our own funds. From the Auditor's report, it appears that M. G. Bright's expenses for clerk hire and personal expenses, salary, &c., as State Agent, four years and nine months, were $14,562 99, or $274 96 per month, or $9 16 per day, and Collins' expenses as State Agent for twenty months, were $9,216 32, or $460 81 per month, or upwards of $15 per day. And when it is taken into consideration that Bright had the suspended debt to settle, amounting to upwards of four millions, which he settled and that he received the surrender of nearly all the State bonds and opened all the books, and that Collins only attended to the ordinary business of the office in New York, after all the funded debt was settled and nearly all the bonds were surrendered and certificates issued, Collins' expenses are enormous, and it becomes, therefore, evident that we must curtail those expenses.

We, therefore, recommend that the office of State Agent be not abolished, but that we regulate and curtail his expenses.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

HON. GEORGE W. CARR,

Speaker of the House of Representatives:

SIR—The Speaker of the House of Representatives is respectfully requested to lay the accompanying papers before the honorable body over which he presides.

JOHN B. DILLON,
State Librarian.

January 9th, 1850.

STATE LIBRARY, }
January 8th, 1850. }

In obedience to a joint resolution of the State of Indiana, in relation to State Instruments, approved January 15th, 1849, the undersigned reports :

That it appears from official documents, that the State of Indiana, in 1840, owned thirty-seven Levels, eleven Compasses, one Theodolite, and twelve boxes of Mathematical instruments.

At the same period, one Level, one Compass, and one box of Mathematical instruments were owned jointly by the States of Illinois and Indiana.

Of the instruments owned by the State of Indiana, one Compass is now in possession of the State Librarian. Five Levels, two Compasses, and three boxes of Mathematical instruments were granted to the White Water Canal Company.

Six Levels, one Compass, and one box of Mathematical instruments have been claimed by the Madison and Indianapolis Railroad Company; and ten Levels are in possession of and claimed by the trustees of the Wabash and Erie Canal.

Several instruments belonging to the State of Indiana have "mysteriously disappeared" from the office formerly kept by the Agent of State, at Indianapolis. The undersigned will continue to use all proper means to find and reclaim such instruments. With this report, I lay before the Legislature a letter from Jesse L. Williams, Esq., on the subject of the State instruments.

Respectfully submitted.

JOHN B. DILLON,
State Librarian.

TERRE HAUTE, Nov. 26th, 1849.

J. B. DILLON, Esq., State Librarian :

Dear Sir—Your letter of the 9th of July, on the subject of leveling instruments which were purchased by the State for the construction of her public works, came duly to hand, and has received my attention. It should have been answered sooner, but I supposed the meeting of the Legislature would be in time. In the mean time, in passing over the canal, I have endeavored to ascertain the whereabouts of the instruments. Of the levels which belonged to the State on the supervision of her public works, there are on the Wabash and Erie Canal, and now used in its construction and repair, the following :

- 1 level on Repair District No. 1, in charge of O. Bird, Sup't,
- 1 level on Repair District No. 2, in charge of L. Holman, Sup't,
- 1 level on Repair District No. 5, in charge of J. McManomy, Sup't,
- 1 level used in the construction from Coal Creek to Terre Haute, in charge of James Johnson, Assistant Engineer,
- 1 level used in construction from Terre Haute to Eel river, in charge of R. B. Hanna, Assistant,
- 1 level used in construction from thence to Newburg Dam, in charge of N. R. Wild, Assistant,
- 1 level used in construction from Newburg to Washington, in charge of J. Minesinger, Assistant,
- 1 level used in construction and repairs from Potoko Summit to Evansville, in charge of S. C. Bradford,
- 1 level used by locating party south of Washington,
- 1 level in the Canal Office at Terre Haute, laid aside as unfit for use.

There is also one level in the hands of S. Fisher, at Wabash, and an old one of very little value, in the hands of Mr. English, of Lagro. All of the levels enumerated have been in use some fourteen years, and some of them, particularly amongst those used in the repairs, are much out of order, and without essential repairs could not be trusted in any service requiring accuracy.

With high respect,

Your obedient servant,

J. L. WILLIAMS.

Mr. Carnahan of Fountain, from a select committee made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The select committee, to whom was referred the memorial of the Rev. Charles K. Thompson, President of the Covington Colonization Society, and others, officers and managers of the same, representing that William W. Findlay and others, (persons of color), who were desirous of emigrating to the Republic of Liberia, were of good moral character, but unable to remove to said Republic of Liberia for want of sufficient means, and praying that this General Assembly would make such appropriations of money from the State Treasury to the National Colonization Society as would enable them to transport the colored persons referred to; and also praying that this General Assembly would instruct our Senators and request our Representatives in Congress to use their influence in procuring a change in the national policy for the purpose of suppressing the slave trade, that instead of blockading the African coast with a line of armed vessels they would endeavor to colonize the western coast of Africa as a cheaper and more effectual means of prohibiting the slave trade. At the same time with the above recited memorial there was referred to the same committee the petition of William W. Findlay, alluded to in the aforementioned memorial, on behalf of himself and others, praying aid of the State to assist him in his removal to said Republic of Liberia; also, at a subsequent time, a joint resolution instructing our Senators and requesting our Representatives in Congress to use their influence to procure a change in the national policy on the subject of the slave trade. Your committee would respectfully report that they have had said memorials and joint resolution under consideration, and that they have instructed me to report that it is the opinion of said committee that it is inexpedient, in consequence of the present embarrassed condition of the State Treasury, and in consequence of the expenditures the Treasury will the ensuing season be called upon to meet, to grant the prayer of the memorialists for the appropriation of money from the State Treasury to defray the expenses of transportation for those persons wishing to emigrate to the Republic of Liberia. The poverty of the State Treasury, and the obvious impropriety at the present period of contributing therefrom to meet the demands of William W. Findlay, and those friendly to his emigration, so readily and so imperiously suggested itself, that the committee did not regard the proposition at this time a practical question; yet your committee were, however, impressed with the fact that a new era has opened upon the colonization enterprise, an era in which the work of colonizing the people of color, if successfully prosecuted, must pass out of the hands of individuals and voluntary associations into the hands of the States of the Union.

Your committee would further report that there are other matters contained in the petition of your memorialist worthy the consideration of this House, and that they are forcibly impressed with the necessity of meeting the prayers of such petitioners in the spirit of compromise, and entertaining them with becoming respect.

Such has been the success of Liberia, and so respectable is that young Republic that by the force of her own attraction she is calling of from this land hundreds of emigrants; and the benevolent among the slaveholders of the South feel that her success and prosperity are additional calls, uttered in louder than thunder tones, demanding that the sons of Africa be emancipated and restored to the land of their fathers. To this call they are responding, and in large numbers emancipated slaves are placed at the disposal of the Colonization Society to await the call of the transporting agents. Many Southern men feel that the success of Liberia sweeps away the last apology for perpetuating slavery, and the conscience of the South has taken alarm, and is now demanding a hearing in behalf of the poor enchained African. This sentiment of right will grow and spread in slave States until the whole is leavened, and a system of emancipation is produced that will restore the colored people of our land to their natural rights.

But, beyond this point, your committee have likewise considered the prospective destiny of our country, provided the means of separating the colored from the white race are not adequate to meet the case. In that event two distinct races will be pent up together in the same nation, being different in color, different in many interests, and divided by the remembrance on the one hand of oppression and injury suffered, and on the other by severity and degradation endured. This bitterness of feeling is faintly shadowed forth in the passing events of our own day. But what will be the state of things when, perhaps, millions of colored freed men are arrayed against millions of our race, when they will boldly and confidently demand what they are beginning in some quarters to timidly and hesitatingly ask, "the right of suffrage," and "the right of holding offices of honor and profit." Then will come the struggle for equality on the one hand, and for continued pre-eminence on the other, which will convulse this land from centre to circumference; a struggle that will far exceed that which is now disturbing our National Councils; a struggle that will result in the political and social independence of the colored race, or in a second season of continued black oppression. Since the time of the struggles of the Romans and the Sabines for national pre-eminence and power, all history tests the fact that two races, distinct in feeling, diverse in interest, and severed in nationality, cannot harmoniously exist together. There must be a fusion or explosion; and to mingle the Anglo-Saxon with the African blood, is as much to be deprecated as the alternate evil. The bloody scenes of St. Domingo affirms the fact that a Toussark, a leader, may be found among the colored race who is capable to lead a desperate band to battle and bloodshed. A servile war is more to be apprehended, should the colored race still be permitted to multiply so rapidly in our midst, than is a dissolution of our Union, both in respect to the imminence of the danger of its occurrence, and the magnitude of the calamity should it occur.

From this state of things, the prayer of the memorialists suggests a remedy, by recommending a peaceable separation of the races. And as Liberia seems to be the natural, future resting place and home of the colored man, your committee think the spirit to emigrate thither, should be encouraged, and that, as your memorialists urge, your committee believe that the policy of the General Government should be to furnish ample means of transportation, and that part, if not all the fund expended in supporting our blockading squadron on the coast of Africa, might be expended in settling said coast with colonies of colored men, and thus accomplish the double object, of suppressing the slave trade and promoting the work of colonization at the same time. And further, it has occurred to your committee, to call attention to the movements of England and her designs on the continent of Africa, as affecting the commercial interests of our country. For a number of years, the British Government has been considering the subject of the slave trade, and the best plan of extinguishing it, and the result of this examination seems to tend to a change of policy on this point. And the civilization of Africa, by colonization, missionary, &c., seems to be the scheme they are about adopting in the place of the present expensive and hitherto, unsuccessful plan. She aims further, to absorb and monopolize the trade of Central Africa, and for this purpose, she wishes to make Liberia tributary to her designs; in which she may succeed, unless our nation casts off that contempt with which it has always treated the efforts of colored men to govern themselves. At the last session of the General Assembly of this State, a joint resolution was passed, requesting our Senators and Representatives, "in the name of the State of Indiana, to solicit and procure from our General Government, a recognition of the independence and sovereignty of the Republic of Liberia." Should the General Government recognize the independence of this Republic, and conclude treaties of commerce with her, and establish a few lines of transports to ply between this country and Liberia, it would be the means of cutting out a new channel for the trade of Africa, and make our country the emporium of her valuable tropical merchandize and products.

The commercial enterprise of our country is actively engaged in seeking new channels of trade—methods by which the rich merchandize of foreign countries may be made tributary and subsidiary to her commercial energy and enterprize. For this purpose, the construction of the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad has been projected at the cost of millions, and to other than the exhaustless and indomitable energy of the Anglo American character, would appear impractical and chimerical. Your committee believe that, with an incomparably smaller cost, the products and merchandize of a continent could be secured, with the advantages of a reciprocal exchange of commodities. Why might we not be the first commercial nation of the earth? Our ships and transports outnumbering every rival land. Our country's maritime power might be extended until it could be said—

"Her march is on the mountain wave.
Her home is on the deep."

Your committee has not failed to observe that the President of the United States, in his last message, earnestly invites the attention of Congress to an amendment in the existing laws relating to the African slave trade, with a view to the more effectual suppression of that barbarous traffic. The attention of our national congress being thus legitimately called to the subject, and their action invoked, in the opinion of your committee, the scheme proposed in the joint resolution referred to said committee will be opportunely submitted to their consideration.

Your committee would but remark that this is a platform upon which all can stand—a plan that the north and south can unite in and co-operate together without exciting sectional animosity and hostility—without creating a new source of discord to disturb the cherished harmony of our Republic—that from its adoption, no occasion can ever arise for “characterizing parties by geographical discriminations;” but it presents a project which, by National and State co-operation, may be developed into a system which may ultimately remove the blighting influence of slavery, and the gradual separation of the colored race from our midst.

Your committee would, therefore, respectfully report back to the House, the joint resolution referred to them, which is of the same import with the national prayer of the petition, and respectfully recommend the passage of the same :

No. 139. A joint resolution on the subject of the African slave trade.

Mr. Sherrod moved to lay the joint resolution on the table.

The question being put on laying the joint resolution on the table, it appeared that no quorum was present;

When the House adjourned to meet at 2 o'clock, P. M.

Two o'clock, P. M.

The House met.

On motion by Mr. Hunter,

The order of business was suspended.

On motion by Mr. Hunter,

Resolved, That the committee on claims be and are hereby instructed to inquire what amount is due Samuel J. Patterson, from the State, for work done upon the Northern Division of the Central Canal, and materials furnished in repairing the same, and report by bill or otherwise.

The House took up the following message from his Excellency, the Governor :

Gentlemen of the House of Representatives :

I return the bill of your House No. 248, entitled an act to dispose of the equity of redemption of the State of Indiana in the White Water Valley Canal, and for other purposes, without my approval, and with a brief statement of the reasons which influence me to withhold my signature.

The State of Indiana had expended on this work more than a million of dollars prior to the year 1842, the work being then in an unfinished state. The whole Canal, with all the interest the State had in the same, was granted to the company called the White Water Valley Canal Company.

The only pecuniary interest that the State retained by the charter of 1842, is secured by the proviso to the second section, which enacts that after the expiration of fifteen years from the time the company should finish the Canal, the State shall have the nett profits which may arise from it over and above eight per cent.

This contingent overplus at the end of fifteen years, and after eight per cent. clear of expenses are paid on the investment, is all that the State has reserved to herself in return for granting to the company the Canal that leads to the great western mart, to which the trade of eastern Indiana must go, draining the richest portion of the State, with no rival work to detract from its trade, through the oldest and wealthiest part of the State, and which has cost Indiana eleven hundred thousand dollars. This bill authorizes the Treasurer and Auditor of State, on a certain day after sixty days' notice, to sell all the interest the State has in this work to the highest bidder, and provides that this company shall be competent bidders at said sale. It must be obvious that a sale of the interest of the State in this work, under the circumstances, would be for a mere nominal price. With the power to regulate tolls in the hands of the present company, it is possible for them to make the interest of the State of but little value. Before a capitalist would risk a purchase, he would require some guaranty that the tolls should be so regulated as to bring in the largest amount of revenue; for however great the trade and commerce, the rates may be so fixed as to only yield sufficient for repairs and the eight per cent.

Besides, no citizen would wish to invest money in an enterprise of this character, in which his interest would be hostile to that of the company, surrounded with difficulties, and embarrassed at every step. He would count all the cost well before he would make an investment. I think it may be taken for granted, that although this bill is a bill authorizing the sale of the White Water Valley Canal, it is in fact a bill to surrender the work to the company, with all the right the State has in the same. In that view alone do I regard the bill before me. The paramount objection to this bill with me is, that it offers to dispose of this large investment of the State without any information or report from any source as to the condition of the work, its income, water power, hydraulic privileges, what its real value is, &c., &c.

A prudent citizen, who has an interest, however remote or contingent, in a transaction that he did not thoroughly understand, would not offer such interest for sale, or surrender it up (at least upon the representation of the adverse party) without first making an examination himself, if qualified, and if not, without having such examination made by one competent to the task. And the adoption of such a rule would be good policy in the affairs of the State.

Before the State should surrender so large an investment altogether, she should appoint a competent and well qualified person, in whom confidence is to be reposed, to make a complete examination of the whole of her interest in this work, and thus act understandingly in the surrendering of the work, forgetting at no time that the whole people of the State have an interest in the same. It is a matter of no small importance to pass away upwards of a million of funds of the State, and I think it should not be done in this hurried ex parte manner, without any evidence of the value or prospects of the work in question. The offering to sell the interest of the State in our public works, or surrendering them up absolutely, under present circumstances, without holding in our hands any check or restriction, would be establishing a precedent full of incalculable mischief.

The object of the State should be to have our public works completed, and when completed, to be used by our citizens as channels of trade and commerce, by the payment of sufficient revenues to repay well the capital invested, but not to make them engines of oppression and monopolies. In this case, the fact that after the lapse of a few years, the State may receive a surplus over the expenses of the work, and eight per cent. on the capital invested, will of itself operate to keep the tolls, water rents, &c., within proper bounds. But surrender up all your public works, or sell them to the highest bidder, hold in your hands no check or restriction upon their future management, and when you have done this you will have placed in men's hands the power to cripple the trade of the country by exorbitant charges. We should be willing to grant liberal profits to capital embarked in all such enterprises, but then there should be some limit, some check, some restriction. If none is made, we leave the labor of the country to the mercies of corporations whose desire for gain is too frequently limited only by their power.

It is said that the interest of the State in this work is of no value. If this is true, it is a little remarkable that individuals should be so importunate for the grant of a worthless thing.

It will be found that in applications of this character, that arguments and language will always be at command to shew a pretext for the favors asked. But it is gravely said that capitalists will not invest money in this work while the State holds her present residuary interest.

If the giving uninterrupted possession of this canal to the company for fifteen years, and after that time forever thereafter eight per cent. upon the investment, besides all expenses—if all this is not sufficient inducement to capitalists to invest money in this work, where the State has expended so much, and it is essential that foreign capital should be had, it would be better to enlarge the per cent. ; give them ten, even twenty per cent., than to give up the work without reserving any power to the State in its future management. But if it is determined to surrender up all the interest we have in the public works of the State, it should never be done without irrevocably connecting with the surrendering suitable checks and restrictions ; and among those that I would regard as the most prominent, I would claim in all time to come, the right of the State, through her Representatives, to supervise the powers of the companies. It is not contended by any one that the State has violated her contract as made with the company in 1842.

Most fortunately in this instance she is at no expense in the management of the canal. It is now in navigable order, and the people are receiving the benefits of the work.

The State will stand in the same situation as to this work in ten years from now, as at present, with the prospect of an increase of trade and commerce, and consequently an increase of tolls. Who can tell what the trade of this country is to be fifteen years hence ?

It is the part of prudence to hold on to what we have saved from the wreck of the past ; and when we shall sell or offer to sell our public works, let us make the offer understandingly, with all the facts before us, as to their value, prospects, &c., from a competent officer selected by the State.

JOSEPH A. WRIGHT.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES.

Mr. Mickle, chairman of the committee on ways and means, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee of ways and means have, in the discharge of their duty, examined the offices of the Treasurer and Auditor of State, and ask leave to make the following report :

It is just that the committee should state that their labors in the examination of those offices have been rendered less arduous, and the accomplishment of their duties facilitated by the gentlemanly deportment and prompt assistance given by the heads of those departments. It is also proper to state that the neat and correct manner in which the books are kept, and also the strict fidelity in the discharge of the official duties of those functionaries, is not only honorable to themselves, but creditable to the State. The examination by the committee has been vigilant and thorough, with an eye to the interest of the State, and that the present incumbents as well as their successors may be placed right.

The committee have counted and destroyed the following amounts of various kinds of scrip which had been redeemed and cancelled at the State Treasury, viz :

Of six per cent. Treasury Notes,	-	-	-	-	$86,000 00
Interest allowed thereon,	-	-	-	-	43,067 35
					<hr/>
					$129,067 35
Of five per. cent. Bank Scrip,	-	-	-	-	46,410 00
Interest allowed thereon,	-	-	-	-	16,150 68
					<hr/>
					$62,560 68
Of one-quarter per cent. Treasury Notes.	-	-	-	-	$12,165 00
Interest allowed thereon,	-	-	-	-	202 75
					<hr/>
					$12,367 75

Of Wabash and Erie Canal Scrip, east of Tippecanoe, - - - - -	$25,453 01
Interest allowed thereon, - - - - -	6,056 70
	<hr/>
	$31,509 71

Of Wabash and Erie Canal Scrip, west of Tippecanoe, - - - - -	$15,845 00
Of coupons, three, $25 each, - - - - -	75 00

Making in all, the sum of $251,425 49, principal and interest, which may be more fully understood by reference to a detailed statement hereto appended, marked (A).

The committee find, after examination of the condition of the treasury, that there was on hand on the 1st day of November, 1849, the sum of $694,096 09. This large apparent balance in favor of the treasury might lead to erroneous impressions as to the true condition of the treasury, without the following explanation, as given by the Auditor: "A large portion of it [the balance referred to] consists of treasury notes and Wabash and Erie Canal Scrip, which have been redeemed and ready for cancellation; and over $200,000 is a balance to the credit of the Trustees of the Wabash and Erie Canal, whose accounts the law requires to be kept in the office, [Auditor's office] although no money is ever received or paid out here. The available means actually on hand is very small." There has been received in the treasury since the 31st day of October, 1849, to the 1st day of January, 1850, the sum of $51,825 04, from which deduct expenditures for the same time, $19,351 80, leaves of the receipts since the 31st of October, 1849, to the 1st day of January, 1850, a balance of $32,473 24, which makes the total amount in the treasury, on the 1st day of January instant, $284,298 28. The items of receipts and expenditures from which said balances were struck, will be found appended hereto and marked (B) and (C).

The reports of the State officers show satisfactorily that the State has promptly met her liabilities, and that her increasing resources will be, and is competent to discharge all the requirements of prudent legislation.

In the revenue bill, which has already been reported to the House, the committee adopted the same rate of taxation for State purposes, as last year, with the addition of three and a half cents on the hundred dollars valuation of taxable property, to meet the expenses of the Convention to revise and amend the Constitution; which additional three and a half cents on $134,000,000 of taxable property, will amount to $46,900. It is estimated that the delinquencies will reduce the amount to near $40,000, which is the anticipated cost of the Convention.

The assessment for the Deaf and Dumb and Lunatic Asylums, and for the education of the Blind, is the same as last year. It is with much pleasure and pride that the committee can, in justice, bear testimony to the successful operation of those institutions, and that the deplorable condition of the many inmates is greatly ameliorated and improved. It is a source of pleasure to every Indianian, that among the many improvements, and the rapid advance of the State to an enviable rivalry with her sisters of the republic, stands conspicuous her benevolent care of her afflicted citizens.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

S. S. MICKLE,
S. A. RUSSELL,
W. J. ROBINSON,
JAMES ELDER,
A. A. MORRISON,
SAMUEL T. WELLS,
JAMES K. O'HAYER.

Mr. Withers moved to lay the Report on the table, and order 100 copies to be printed.

W^r. Whinery moved to order 200 copies to be printed ;

Which motion was accepted by Mr. Withers.

The question then recurring on laying on the table and printing 200 copies,

Was decided in the affirmative,

And it was so ordered by the House.

Mr. Mickle, chairman of the committee of ways and means, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on ways and means, to whom was referred certain Resolutions in relation to the letting out of the State Printing to the lowest bidder, also a communication from John R. Elder, proposing to do the public printing at a reduction of 15 per cent. below the rates allowed by law, have, according to order, had the subject under consideration. Your committee believe that it is not the policy of the State to look entirely to the price of the work, but that such remuneration should be paid as will insure the prompt and correct execution of the same ; and for the purpose of ascertaining what is a fair price, addressed the following circular to N. Bolton, Thomas Dowling, D. Radebaugh, Wm. Millikan, and John D. De-frees, all practical printers, from different parts of the State :

"SIR :

I am directed by the committee of ways and means to request you to state in writing whether, in your opinion, the prices now paid for the public printing are or are not too high, and if too high, in what particular or particulars, and what deduction would make the price proper and fair."

In answer to the foregoing, the following answers were promptly returned :

INDIANAPOLIS, January 7th, 1850.

To the Committee of Ways and Means :

GENTLEMEN :

I am requested by you to state, in writing, whether, in my opinion, the prices now paid for the public printing are, or are not, too high, and if too high, in what particular.

I have but little time to answer, in consequence of other engagements, but having heretofore attentively examined the subject, I am fully of the opinion, that the present law does not allow more than an adequate compensation taken as a whole. Indeed it will be found, that the prices are not equal to those frequently given to mechanics by the State, even under the contract system. To perform the public printing in a creditable manner, a large amount must be expended in materials, many of which are soon worn out. The work has to be performed to suit the convenience of the Legislature, and a large number of workmen have to be employed ; and it has been found by Congress and other legislative bodies, that a printer elected will always be more prompt in the performance of his duty, and being an officer of the Legislature, can be held to a more rigid accountability. I know the prices are not too high, because I aided in fixing them at the present point under peculiar circumstances, when it was my interest to know, not what was a fair compensation, but what was the lowest price at which the printing could be performed at any profit. There is but one principle on which a reduction of price could be thought of or accomplished. Mr. Defrees, by what he calls the "fortune of war," has been superseded as public printer. He has a large quantity of printing materials on hand, which will not hereafter be available. In order to give employment to this investment, he might perform the printing at a small discount until these materials were worn out. But three years ago Mr. Chapman was left in precisely a similar situation, and three years hence the "fortunes of war" may again turn in favor of Mr. Defrees. But these peculiar circumstances, I presume, will not govern the Legislature in fixing the prices of labor, because the principle might apply in many other cases. I myself, under a rule adopted by the present Administration, have been superseded in an office without much ceremony, the duties of which, for the present, at least, I would perform for fifty per cent. discount, not being at present engaged in more profitable business; but that, under the "fortunes of war," would afford no reason why I should have been continued in office, or that the office should have been farmed out to me at that price.

I have been a journeyman printer in my day, and I am well convinced that their wages must be reduced, to enable the printing to be performed lower than the present, with any fair profit; and I do not believe this democratic Legislature will give countenance to any measure having this operation. Their wages now are considerably short of "two dollars a day and roast beef," and I do not wish them further reduced.

Yours, Respectfully,

NATHANIEL BOLTON.

INDIANAPOLIS, January 7th, 1850.

Dear Sir :

The communication of the Secretary of the committee of ways and means has this moment been received, and I reply without delay. I am asked if, in my opinion, "the prices paid for the public printing is or is not too high, and if too high, in what particular or particulars?" My reply is, I do not think the prices paid, too high, and could give many reasons for that opinion, were it proper to do so under the call made upon me.

I may be allowed to add, however, that as a practical printer, conversant with the present law regulating the public printing, it is my deliberate opinion, that no material reduction could be made in the prices paid, without endangering the pecuniary standing of both the public printer and those employed by him to perform the labor. The past experience on the subject satisfies me that a reduction would only reach those who labor, while any apparent saving would be lost to the State by the adoption of a system of less efficiency than the present.

Since the adoption of the present law in 1840, there has been an evident improvement in the manner of executing the public printing, and this has been a matter of pride to all who take an interest in the progress of our State in the mechanic arts. While our legislation in too many cases tend to extravagance in public expenditures, economy is at all times desirable, but I doubt the policy or justice of reducing the wages of labor below a fair living and remunerative price, or of encouraging a system of underbidding at war with all notions of justice to the employed. I am clearly of opinion that the prices now paid the public printer, are not too high, and that no change could be made without doing injustice to a large numerous, and highly respectable body of operators, whose wages, will always be regulated by the price for the public printing.

Very respectfully, yours,

THOMAS DOWLING.

S. S. MICKLE, Esq.,

Chairman Committee of Ways and Means.

REPRESENTATIVES HALL, Jan. 8th, 1850.

B. F. WALLACE, Esq.,

Clerk Committee of Ways and Means :

DEAR SIR:—I am requested by the committee of ways and means, through you, to state in writing, whether in my opinion the price now paid for the public printing, is, or is not too high, &c.

In reply sir, you will please inform the committee, by handing them this note, that I have examined the prices now allowed by law for the public printing, and in my opinion, as a printer, the prices for the work are not too high in any particular, and to make them lower, would only reduce the printer to the necessity of executing the work in an indifferent style.

Respectfully,

W. MILLIKAN.

PALMER HOUSE,
Indianapolis, January 7, 1850. }

B. F. WALLACE, Esq.

DEAR SIR:—Your note of this date is received, requesting me to state in writing my opinion of the “prices now paid for the public printing,” whether or not they are too high, “and if too high, what deduction would make the prices proper and fair.” In my opinion the present prices are none too high to afford a just remuneration to the printer, but entirely too low for the amount of capital to be invested in its speedy execution and workmanlike manner. In several of the States, the prices of the public printing are much higher than they are here, but the work is done in a very superior manner, much more so than any I have seen here. It would, therefore, in my opinion, be both improper and unfair, to make a deduction in any particular whatever, as the State could not be the gainer by it, but would be vastly the loser in the end, because low prices will command none but inferior workmen.

Very respectfully, &c.,

D. RADEBAUGH, Jr.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 8th, 1850.

HON. S. S. MICKLE:

I received your note enquiring in relation to the price paid for public printing.

In reply, in my opinion the prices now fixed by law, are a fair remuneration for the labor and capital employed, and nothing more.

Yours, &c.,

JOHN D. DEFREES.

It also appears by reference to the Journals of the House of the session of 1846-7, pages 348, 349, 350, 351, 352, 354, and 355, that the subject of the public printing, was thoroughly investigated, and the following facts appear to have been elicited, to-wit: That the prices paid in Indiana were very considerably lower than is paid for similar work in other States named, that the laws regulating the printing of the State are so economically framed in every particular, and so carefully guarded against fraud or unfair charges, that practical printers, who have been and are now members of the House, cannot suggest any essential improvement. From these facts (and many more might be given) your committee have come to the conclusion that legislation upon that subject is inexpedient, and recommend that the papers referred to them be laid upon the table, and that the committee be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

Part of the report being read,

On motion,

The House suspended the further reading.

Which report was concurred in.

Mr. Mickle, chairman of the committee of ways and means, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on ways and means, to whom was referred bill of the Senate, No. 84, have had the same under consideration and have directed me to report that the committee have considered the provisions of the bill, and find that it fixes the salary of the State Trustee, at $1200 per annum, and disapproves of the present salaries of the trustees elected on the part of the bondholders. The law itself, which is part of the contract with our creditors, gives the Legislature the right to fix the salary of the trustee elected by the State, but leaves to the bondholders the right to fix the salaries of their own trustees, subject, however, to the approval of the Legislature of Indiana. This is what the law organizing the trust declares, and as it is a part of the contract itself, cannot be changed by any action of ours.

We have then the undoubted right to fix the salary of the trustee elected on the part of the State, but no right to fix the salaries of the other two trustees, and our approval or disapproval cannot change the matters one way or the other. We cannot go behind the law if we would, and have to examine the question as one of fact and not of theory.

The State Trustee is our own peculiar officer, charged more immediately with guarding the rights of Indiana, and equally responsible for any breach of contract on the part of the trust. All are acting for two parties—the creditors and the State, both of whom are equally interested in a faithful and honest execution of the trust, confided to the three persons selected as trustees. The property managed by them, is for the benefit of the debtor and creditor, jointly, and belongs to neither exclusively. This view of the case is not always duly considered, but it never should be lost sight of in our legislation here.

Would it be right to compel the trustee elected by ourselves to receive a less salary than the trustee resident in Indiana, selected by the bondholders? both are officers of the same grade, equally responsible for the conduct of the board, and perform like labor in the sphere of their respective duties. They give an equal bond and are subject to the same penalties for any maladministration or errors in office. As they are equal in these things, would it be policy in the State, to make her own trustee inferior in point of salary, or to lessen in any way, the position which he occupies? Both are paid from money arising out of the trust, and none of the trustees receive a single dollar from the State treasury. The people are not taxed one cent to pay the salary of the State trustee, for it comes like the other salaries, from the funds of the trust.

We learn from the most reliable and disinterested sources, that the State trustee is constantly engaged in the most laborious and responsible duties, and that a heavy amount of labor has been performed by him since his connection with the trust, charged specially with the interests of the State, he has been constantly engaged in settling questions involving the rights of the citizens of Indiana, and in attending to the lands belonging to the State and the creditors, constantly from home, to the entire neglect of his private pecuniary affairs, he should be placed at least on the same footing as his Indiana colleague, elected by the bondholders. All these trustees to give the same bond, (each amounting to one hundred thousand dollars,) and that is no small consideration in estimating the amount of the salary to be paid. Responsible for the faithful and honest disbursement of some three hundred thousand dollars, annually, (in the hands of various agents,) is a liability which few men would be willing to incur without a fair and generous compensation.

Though your committee is decidedly in favor of the most rigid economy, they have not been able to satisfy themselves that this bill ought to pass. When the canal is completed to Evansville, and the heavy disbursements and responsibility cease, a general reduction of salaries ought to be recommended by the General Assembly, but till that time arrives, the bondholders should be allowed to use a wise discretion in the payment of those employed to carry out the great enterprize in which the trust is embarked. For the present it is our opinion that legislation on this subject should be discountenanced, leaving to future legislation, the decision of this and similar questions.

Impressed with these views, and doubting the justice of a discrimination between our own and the bondholder's resident trustee, in point of salary, we respectfully recommend that the bill accompanying this report, be indefinitely postponed, and the committee discharged from a further consideration of the subject.

Which report was concurred in.

Mr. Weir, chairman of the committee on enrolled bills, made the following report :

Mr. Huey, from a select committee, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The select committee, to whom was referred Senate bill, No. 126, in relation to attaching certain territory to the county of Blackford, have had the same under consideration, and after giving the subject much attention, and after having weighed the reasons in favor of and against the bill, and a majority thereof, have concluded that it should pass. The bill provides that the legally qualified voters living in the territory proposed to be attached, at an election to be held for that purpose, shall determine whether the same shall be attached. This your committee deem to be just and right : a majority should govern, and the minority should, under ordinary circumstances, be willing to submit to their action ; and as our county organizations are for the benefit and convenience of the people, and our county lines and boundaries entirely artificial, they may be changed without affecting the interest of any except those living in the territory transferred. Your committee, therefore, recommend the passage of the bill without amendment.

Mr. Orr, from the same select committee, made the following report on the part of the minority :

MR. SPEAKER :

A minority of the same committee beg leave to report, that it is a fixed principle in all republican and well-organized governments, that the will of the majority, when fairly obtained, should always rule. Surely, then, any act contrary to this well known principle would be subversive of our dearest rights, and could not be considered in any other light than as an act of tyranny and oppression. Presuming on the truth of the principle named, and the correctness of the conclusions as drawn from the same, the minority of your committee would proceed to remark, that they have carefully examined this bill, together with the petition on which it is founded, and the remonstrance thereto. The petition is signed by some sixty persons. The reason given by the petitioners is, that it would be no injustice to Delaware county, and would be to their convenience. One of the remonstrances has some ninety subscribers, who state that they are the bona fide owners of and residents in said territory, and that they do not desire any legislation thereon. The second remonstrance is signed by some one hundred and forty or fifty persons (not residing on said territory) who declare that they would consider the granting the prayer of the petitioners as an act of injustice to the people of Delaware county. Your committee think that if the wishes of the people on said territory are to be at all consulted on this subject, it is now as fairly and fully obtained as it ever can be by any other mode, or at any other time. Suppose that all the petitioners are actual residents on this territory at this time, (which is a matter of serious doubt to your committee.) the remonstrants outnumber them by about 30. There is a certificate attached to the petition, which says that this subject has caused much excitement, and been very considerably agitated. This being the case, as shown by the petitioners themselves, proves most conclusively that there has been as fair and as full an expression of the sovereign people's will on this matter as ever can or should be obtained. Why then press this vexed question any further, or in any manner whatever harass those peaceable and quiet citizens that have so emphatically decided this matter in the negative, by a majority of thirty in a vote (of at most) 130? It is sincerely hoped for those reasons alone that this honorable body will not hastily tear open afresh the wounds that the sovereign people have just healed, and in the manner prescribed in the 19th section of the 1st article of the Constitution of the State of Indiana, which is amongst the reserved rights of the people, and over which this Legislature can exercise no just control.

But again. By a vote of the people of Delaware county, lawfully had on the question, the commissioners of Delaware subscribed $13,000 stock to the Indianapolis and Bellefontaine Railroad, to be paid in several installments. The tax to meet the first payment was levied last summer, but there is no provision, as yet, made for the remaining three-fourths still due, and which the whole county is bound. Now grant the prayer of the petitioners, and other portions of said county opposed to this tax have only to point to this example and ask to be stricken off to some other county, in order to avoid its payment. The minority of your committee believe further that it would (in the language of the remonstrants) be a very great act of injustice to the good people of Delaware county, at war with their best interests, and an infringement of the 18th section of article 1 of the Constitution of this State, which says, that no ex post facto law, nor any law impairing the validity of contracts shall ever be made. This is also amongst the reserved rights of the people, and no General Assembly of this State can ever properly exercise any legislative power thereon.

To say nothing at all about the example that it would set to those counties engaged in pressing forward their public works, of any kind whatever, a portion of whom, even at the start, had objected to the undertaking, it is fondly hoped that this case of itself will show most conclusively to this House the injustice it would be to the balance of the county of Delaware, and the impropriety under present circumstances to pass this bill. Further—we would say, that in all corporate bodies (and most assuredly organized counties are of this character) the whole body corporate has the right to be heard on any and all matters touching their general welfare; surely then the cutting off a part of a county's territory is of this nature; therefore it is fondly hoped that this bill will not be suffered to pass without, at least, submitting the matter to the whole people of Delaware county. For many reasons easily given, county lines should only be changed for the very best of causes; those as given by the petitioners, in our opinion, are not of that character.

For those and many other reasons we could easily advance, (but we consider the above altogether sufficient,) to say nothing about the defects of the bill, which to us, at least, are very apparent, the minority of said committee most humbly hope that this bill may not be suffered to pass at this time.

All of which is respectfully submitted to the serious consideration of this House.

SAMUEL ORR,
JAMES A. CRAVENS.

The House proceeded to the consideration of Senate bill No. 126, reported back by the majority of the select committee.

Mr. Orr moved to recommit the bill to the committee on the judiciary, with the following instructions:

"To inquire whether the county of Delaware would not be reduced below the constitutional limits, and therefore whether this Legislature has the right to pass the bill detaching any portion of the territory from said county."

Mr. Huey moved to lay the instructions on the table ;
Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Orr moved to amend the 4th section by adding :

"And provided further, That nothing contained in this act shall be so construed as to prevent the Treasurer of Delaware county from collecting the railroad tax that may become due from said territory to meet the subscription already made by the commissioners of Delaware county, and as now provided for by law."

Mr. Prather moved to lay the bill and pending amendment on the table ;

Which motion did not prevail.

Mr. Huey moved to lay the amendment on the table ;

The Speaker laid before the House the following communication from his Excellency, the Governor :

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,)
January 14th, 1850. }

HON. G. W. CARR,

Speaker of the House of Representatives :

Please lay before the body over which you preside the inclosed letter from Hon. James Whitcomb, relative to the employing of counsel in the claim of Beard vs. State of Indiana :

Respectfully,

JOSEPH A. WRIGHT.

WASHINGTON CITY, January 7th, 1850.

DEAR SIR :—Soon after the case of Beard and Beard against the State was decided for the claimants, by the Commissioners appointed under the act for their relief, it seemed to me, from an inspection of a copy of the proceedings, and other information, that other views might be taken of the case than those which seemed to have occurred to the counsel I had previously employed (Hon. A. S. White), and which were more favorable to the State. By my direction therefore, an appeal was taken to the Tippecanoe Circuit Court. Soon after the appeal was taken, the claimants themselves took an appeal to the Tippecanoe Court of Common Pleas, which, holding the earliest session, decided to take jurisdiction of the cause. It appeared difficult, if not impracticable, to convey my views, with the arguments in support of them, fully, by letter, and I felt it necessary to employ additional counsel, with whom I could fully and freely converse upon the whole subject. Accordingly, I employed Judge Wick (leaving his compensation to be fixed by the Legislature), who went to Lafayette where the court was held, aided Mr. White in the defence, and, pursuant to my instructions, kept the proceedings in preparation for another appeal, if the decision of the Court should again require it, and then, on an adverse decision being given, took the appeal to the Supreme Court. My employment of Judge Wick extended to his services in the Supreme Court, should the cause reach that tribunal, and he informs me that he has aided in the cause here also.

You are aware that the judgment against the State has been finally reversed by the Supreme Court, on the merits, which, of course, puts an end to the whole matter. This has saved the State a large sum of money (nearly or about $14,000, the amount of the judgment reversed), and in view of that and the labor employed, I regard Judge Wick as well entitled to a liberal compensation, his journey to Lafayette being out of the usual line of his business.

My impression is, that Mr. White, as the counsel originally employed for the State, was, by the terms of the special act, to be paid by the claimants for his services, the amount to be fixed by the Commissioner, and that he has been so paid, or at least for his services before that officer. Whether the obligation rested on them to pay him for his services in the other courts also, can be ascertained, I presume, by reference to the terms of the special act referred to, which will be found in the volume of "Local Laws," passed at the session of 1847-8. I have taken the liberty, on request, to make this communication to you, to enable you to lay it before the Legislature, in order that a suitable compensation may be made in the premises, before final adjournment.

I am, very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

JAMES WHITCOMB.

Gov. WRIGHT, }

MR. SPEAKER :

The select committee, to whom was referred the resolution inquiring into the expediency of abolishing the office of Agent of State, &c., have had the subject under consideration and have authorized me to make the following report :

To collect such information as will enable the House to determine upon the subject, in such manner as to preserve the honor and credit of the State—to secure it from unnecessary expenditures and from its present liability to be imposed upon by corrupt and designing men, has been the object of your committee.

The duties of the Agent of State, might be easily dispensed with, as required in the revised statutes of 1843, without any material loss or inconvenience to the State ; but additional duties are imposed upon him by the act to provide for the Funded Debt of the State, &c., approved January 19, 1846, and the supplement thereto, approved January 27, 1847.

The State debt, provided for in the above acts was created, under the several acts herein mentioned, for the purpose of carrying on a general system of internal improvements. The inflated currency and the apparent prosperity of the country led the State into this almost fatal error, which now hangs like an incubus upon the prosperity of the State :

(n) The Bonds for which the State has received no consideration, were disposed of by the first purchasers, and since then, perhaps, passed through many hands. Some eminent jurists classed them with negotiable paper, and supposed them to be subject to the same laws, and as such gave it as an opinion that the State was legally liable for their payment. The correctness of this opinion was doubted by many, and whether these doubts were well founded was a question worthy the deliberate consideration of statesmen and jurists. It was a question involving the taxation of the people to pay that for which they had received no consideration. The duties and authority of the fund commissioners were prescribed by the public acts of the Legislature, of which all are presumed to know. No act of the Legislature ever authorized Bonds to be sold on time. We know of no case where a Government agent transcends his powers that his act is binding on the Government. Such a doctrine is too absurd to be seriously entertained for a moment. The sale of these Bonds on time was transcending the power of the agent, and as such, was not binding on the State.

We are satisfied, too, that State or Government Bonds are not subject to all the laws regulating negotiable paper, as they cannot be sued upon without express permit of the Government. There is a difference, therefore between Government Bonds and negotiable paper payable by individuals or companies. This difference is sufficient to except it from the technicalities of the law merchant.

The State, in the payment of its obligations, should, in all cases, be governed by the principles of equity and justice. As these Bonds had depreciated in value, (the State having failed to pay the interest in 1841,) and having gone into other hands at a nominal price, justice, as well as law, would seem to require that the State should only pay the purchase money to the holder.

(a) While a discussion was going on in the State as to whether it was liable for the payment of the Bonds for which it had received no consideration, and how it should pay those for which it had received valuable consideration, a plan was submitted to the Legislature, by a person from the city of New York as agent of the Bondholders, and said to be for the discharge of the pecuniary obligations of the State, in a manner just and acceptable to the creditors, and honorable to the people. This plan was drawn up in form, and adopted in two several acts of the Legislature. It provides for the surrender of all the Bonds for which the State had received no consideration, as well as those for which it had, and gave precedence only to such as would make farther loans for the completion of the Wabash and Erie Canal to Evansville; and pledged the State never to make any provision whatever, hereafter, to pay either principal or interest on any Internal Improvement Bonds, until the holder or holders thereof shall have first surrendered the said Bonds to the Agent of State, and shall have received in lieu thereof certificates of stock as provided in section 1st, of the supplement, page 8, acts '47.

The justice of refusing to pay the Bondholders until they should make farther loans, and surrender their bonds for certificates of the character above mentioned, are questions on which there can be no difference of opinion. They cannot be regarded as just nor honorable to the State.

(b) On the surrender of four millions of dollars of Bonds principal, and a subscription and payment by installments of eight hundred thousand dollars, to complete said canal to Evansville, the Governor, in the name and under the seal of the State, was required to execute and deliver to Trustees, elected as therein mentioned, a deed or patent for the bed of the Wabash and Erie Canal, finished and to be finished, from the Ohio State line to Evansville, including all the property, right, title, and interest of the State in and to the same, and all the lands and lots, (not sold,) heretofore given, granted, or donated by the General Government to the State, to aid in the construction of said canal, the same to be held in trust for the uses and purposes therein mentioned.

The Wabash and Erie Canal cost the State $5,321,565 82 prior to July 1st, 1847. There were 1,402,113 acres of land, estimated to be worth $2 20 per acre, which makes $3,055,257 33, from which deduct amount of land sold and scrip outstanding, $1,291,951 87, which leaves $1,863,295 33.

Total amount of property conveyed to the bondholders, - - - - -	$7,181,871 15
Total amount received therefor up to July 1st, 1849, principal and interest, (Canal stock) - - -	6,038,725 00

Balance of Canal stock, principal and interest, if all the remaining outstanding bonds are surren- dered, - - - - -	1,148,295 00
Total amount, - - - - -	$7,187,020 00
Deduct the amount for which the State has received no consideration, - - - - -	4,066,083 13
The actual receipts for said canal and lands would be - - - - -	$3,120,936 87
Balance in favor of the bondholders, - - - - -	4,063,934 28

The receipts from the Canal, and the interest on the money expended in its construction, are not taken into consideration, as the difference is immaterial; the latter, perhaps, exceeding the former.

The total amount of bonds surrendered up to July 1, 1849, was $9,320,009; leaving then outstanding $1,728,000.

(c) There are two kinds of State stock. One for the principal of the bonds surrendered, bearing interest at the rate of five per centum per annum, (one per cent. of which, to the 1st of January, 1853, is added to the interest stock; and but four per cent. till then paid by the State,) and one for the interest on the principal which accrued between the 1st of January, 1841, and the 1st of January, 1847, including the one per cent above mentioned, which is to bear interest at the rate of two and a half per cent. from and after the 1st of January, 1853.

(d) The duties of the Agent of State, as prescribed in the act to provide for the funded debt of the State, &c., approved January 19, 1846, and the supplement thereto, approved January 27, 1847, may be comprised under three general heads.

He is provided with certificates of stock, with the State seal affixed, numbered, and signed by the Auditor and Treasurer of State.

(e) 1st. It is his duty to receive the bonds which may be surrendered, take an account of the numbers thereof, and by whom surrendered; which account he is required to furnish to the board of trustees of the Wabash and Erie Canal. When the bonds are so surrendered, they are to be cancelled, (which is done by punching holes through them) and certificates (furnished as above) are issued therefor, filled up and countersigned by the agent; and he is required to enter at the same time, in suitable books to be provided for that purpose, credits to the respective parties so surrendering the bonds, for the principal and interest specified in their respective certificates. To facilitate the surrender and exchange of bonds for certificates, the Agent of State is authorized to appoint a suitable person in London, at an expense not exceeding five hundred dollars per annum, to receive the bonds that might be tendered, deposit them in the bank of England for interim custody, and transmit an account thereof to the Agent of State. The Agent was then to transmit certificates to such person for the use of the persons surrendering the bonds, filled up and countersigned as aforesaid; and the deposited bonds were to be cancelled in the presence of a notary public, and forwarded to the Agent of State at New York, where he is required to keep his office.

These duties are required to be performed at the city of New York, instead of Indianapolis, to suit the convenience of the bondholders, and to facilitate the surrender of bonds, &c. They are considered not as a part of the contract, but as an inducement to the holder of bonds to enter into the contract. They do not relate to those who have surrendered their bonds, but to those who have not. It is not known whether the remaining outstanding bonds will ever be surrendered. These bondholders, not having become parties to the contract, will have no cause of complaint, as a reasonable time has been given them to surrender their bonds, if the State should now require them to be surrendered at the capital.

(f) 2d. The interest on the certificates of State stock is required to be paid semi-annually at the city of New York, on the first days of January and July of each year, and the amount paid to each stockholder is required to be registered to his account by the Agent of State in books kept for that purpose. This registry is all the evidence the State has to show that the interest is paid.

This is no impediment to the abolition of the office of Agent of State. The interest can be paid through some responsible bank or house in the city of New York, with entire safety, and, it is believed without any expense, as the use of the money till called for would be sufficient compensation for paying it out.

(g) 3d. The certificates of stock are made transferable only at the city of New York, in books provided for that purpose. The certificates, to be transferred, must be endorsed by the owner, and witnessed by two persons. It is then delivered to the Agent of State, who cancels it, and issues a new certificate for the amount to the person entitled thereto. No title to a certificate will pass except by a transfer in this manner. Consequently, no person but the payee could derive any benefit from it, as he could draw neither principal nor interest.

The amount of these certificates is not defined by law, nor is there any provision in the law as to whether two or more certificates, in a transfer of stock, may be issued in lieu of one surrendered and canceled. The original bonds were each for the even sum of $1,000, except two, one of which was $1,257 50, and the other was $1,742 50. The transfer of these bonds was made without cancellation and re-issue, and in no respect were they changed after they were sold by the State. Had they gone into circulation fairly, and for valuable consideration, no cause of complaint, nor apprehension as to their management, would have existed. Such is not the case with the present certificates. They are issued for any amount, not exceeding the amount due to the holder. It is the practice, in the transfer of these certificates, to issue any number of new ones, in lieu of, and for the amount of, the one canceled, to suit the convenience of speculators, provided the amount is not less than five hundred dollars.

(h) This transfer system is a great convenience to Wall street brokers and speculators in the State Stocks, but it opens the door for greater frauds and corruption to be practiced upon the State than has ever yet been done. If the Agent of State should seek to advance his pecuniary interest at the expense of the State, he might do it with impunity, and perhaps the fraud be attributed to clerical errors or incompetency.

A case of this kind may be illustrated thus : A has a certificate of stock of $50,000. He sells B $10,000, C $5,000, D $4,500, and E $3,500, and reserves the balance. The certificate is endorsed and witnessed, and delivered to the Agent for cancelation, with a request to issue new certificates to B, C, D, and E, for their respective amounts, and to issue a certificate back to A for the balance, which is $27,000. By mutual agreement between the Agent and A, instead of $27,000, a certificate is issued to A for $37,000, being $10,000 too much. An entry, however, is made upon the books of the amount of each certificate, to whom payable, &c., by the Agent. This error may be very easily detected by any one, on examination of the books, and the payment of principal and interest on that certificate may be withheld from A until the error is corrected. But this is but one stage of the proceeding. Before the error is discovered A sells his certificate of $37,000 to Mrs. F., widow, and guardian for her six orphan children, properly endorsed and witnessed. A receives and pockets the cash received therefor, goes to his friend "Agent," divides the spoils, $10,000, and then leaves. Mrs. F. takes her certificate, received of A, to the Agent, who cancels it, and issues a new certificate, payable to her, as guardian for the orphan children, for the $37,000, and makes the proper entry thereof. This certificate of stock would be as binding upon the State as any one now outstanding, and the widow, being an innocent and honest purchaser, would be legally and justly entitled to its amount. The State would have it to pay. After a while the error is discovered, and the Agent is called to an account. He admits the error, but says it is a clerical error—a mistake in adding up! His friends and securities would undoubtedly be willing to think so, because such an error might innocently and unintentionally occur, and they would think it hard for them to pay $10,000 on account of a merely clerical error. Who would willingly condemn a man of unblemished reputation for an error upon the books, of that kind, which all know may be innocently committed? Whether such a person would be acquitted of fraud, or not, is left for others to say.

This is but one case. The Agent of State keeps hundreds of State certificates on hand, ready to be filled, countersigned, registered, and put into circulation, according to the form prescribed, whether fairly or unfairly, if they have been subsequently transferred to innocent purchasers, and such transfers properly entered, the State would have them to pay.

Had the effects of this transfer system been fully understood by the Legislature, it is believed that it never would have been enacted into a law. It was purported to be incorporated in the bill with a view of better securing the interest of the State. M. G. Bright, in his annual report of December, 1847, says the difference between the old bonds and the present certificates is this, viz: "The former were transferable by mere delivery, of which the State could have no notice, whilst the latter, to pass as property, can only be signed in writing under our own inspection," and therefore, he says, "subject to any equities, should any exist, between the State and the holder." This is like shutting the stable door after the horse is stolen. All know that the equities of the State were waived in this very State debt arrangement, and the State assumed the payment of upwards of $4,000,000. which, in equity, she ought not to have done. But an appeal in behalf of widows and orphans to the people of Indiana, will always meet with a hearty response. Our people have noble and generous hearts, ready at all times to relieve the distressed. Hence the appeal that these $4,000,000 of bonds were owned by poor widows and orphans had such an effect. The State at once said they should be paid. Now it is discovered, by reference to the reports of the Agent of State of 1847 and 1848, that some of our great men at the Capital were a little deceived, and these misled the people, the bondholders happening not to be poor widows and orphans.

The above facts will lead any one to the conclusion that the transfer system ought to be abolished. But here we are met with the answer, that this transfer system is a part of the contract, and therefore cannot be abolished. But if such is the fact, which we will not now attempt to disprove, it is the greater misfortune to the State.

(i) The expense of keeping an Agent at the city of New York to make these transfers, is proof sufficient that the office ought to be abolished. The incidental expenses, &c., of the Agent of State, from the 1st of May, 1843, to the 1st of October, 1849, as reported by the Auditor of State, were $65,750 34, making an average of over $10,000 per annum! There are several items of expenditure included in this report which do not properly belong to this class of expenses, and should be deducted from the above amount. (See the Report of the Auditor of State in relation to the incidental expenses, &c., of the Agent of State, December, 1849.)

(j) The transfer system is the only obstacle we have to encounter in abolishing the office of Agent of State, and reason, justice, and equity, require that that system should be changed or abolished. It constituted no part of the original contract, which ought not to have been changed so as to affect the interest of the State. Its effects, it is believed, were not fully understood by the Legislature nor by the people. The State waived all its equities and set-offs in the arrangement to provide for the Funded Debt, &c., which this transfer system purports to secure. The State is liable to great loss and injury in case of the incompetency or dishonesty of the Agent of State. The State is at great expense in keeping up this agency, in which it has no interest. Its sole advantages accrue to the holders and speculators in the State stock, and probably enhances its value among them, the honor of which is all the State receives in consideration of the liabilities and expenses incurred thereby. The State would be relieved from these liabilities and expenses by abolishing the transfer system and the office of Agent of State.

In closing up this agency, a registry should be made of each and every certificate then outstanding. Its amount, rate of interest, date, number, and to whom payable, keeping in separate books the five per cent. stock, and the two and a half per cent. stock. This should be filed with the Auditor of State, together with all the certificates of stock in the hands of the Agent, and no person should ever again be permitted to exercise such unguarded power, as in this transfer system is given, to issue and put into circulation certificates of State stock.

The foregoing facts are submitted for your consideration. We cannot say positively that there are no clerical errors or mistakes in adding up, but we believe there are none. Should any be found to exist, however, we ask that they should be attributed to the head and not to the heart. It is right that these facts should be known, though denunciation may be expected from some persons, their motives perhaps may be seen, and all we ask is that they receive that consideration which the subject requires.

The people of Indiana are proud of their State, and justly so. She possesses all those internal resources which are necessary to make them prosperous and happy. They hold her honor sacred, and would consider him her worst enemy who would maliciously attempt to tarnish it. Her credit has been impaired by the mismanagement of her rulers. This, it is hoped, she will soon regain. It is to the interest of her creditors, as well as her own, that her resources should be husbanded. That all unnecessary expenditures should be cut off, and that all avenues to fraud and corruption may be closed, that she may be enabled by proper management and economy to liquidate the debt which now hangs, as I said before, like an incubus upon her. The burthen of taxation must necessarily be heavy, and a generation will likely pass away before the object is accomplished.

Our creditors, it is believed, would be willing to accede to any honorable proposition, not inconsistent with their interest, to facilitate the payment of our debt. The committee do not propose to abolish the transfer system, nor the office of Agent of State, without first giving notice to our creditors, and proposing to them, for approval or disapproval, a proposition or substitute which it is thought would be equivalent to the present system, and remedy any evil or inconvenience that might otherwise result to them by reason of such change.

(k) The substitute proposed is this, viz: That the State authosize her creditors to deposit their certificates of State stock with such persons or institution as they may agree upon, with authority to draw the interest thereon from the State as it becomes due, and to receipt therefor; and on this stock, as a basis, to issue other certificates (to the amount deposited) of such denominations, not less than — dollars, as may be agreed upon, to the persons entitled thereto, bearing like interest to the stock deposited, and the interest and principal payable by the persons or institution issuing the same, at their office, out of the moneys received by them of the State. That such persons or institution from and after the expiration of the time specified by law, be also authorized to receive the principal of such deposited stock as shall be paid by the State, and to receipt and deliver over to the State the certificates of stock so paid, and to apply the money as it shall be received to the redemption of the principal of the stock by them issued; the State in no case to be answerable for the payment of principal or interest of any stock except that issued by herself.

In pursuance herewith, your committee respectfully beg leave to submit to your consideration the following joint resolution, and recommend its passage :

No. 505. A joint resolution relative to the transfer of State stock, &c., and to the abolition of the office of Agent of State ;

The select committee to whom was referred bill of the House No. 7, with certain instructions, have had the same under consideration, and have directed me to report the same back to the House amended according to said instructions, and when so amended to recommend its passage.

Amend section two by striking out the words "or other lien lawfully obtained" and insert after the words "mechanics" the word "lien" and insert the word "or" after the word "laborers" in the second line.

Amend section eight by so changing the same that after the taking effect of this act, personal property shall sell for the highest price the same will bring, not less than one-half the appraised value thereof, and real estate so levied upon shall sell for any sum the same will bring not less than two-thirds the appraised value thereof; and amend said section further by inserting after the word "execution" in the eighth line the following: Provided, that nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to repeal or in any manner affect an act approved January 13th, 1845, entitled "an act exempting personal property from execution," but the same is declared to be in full force and effect.

The committee, although not instructed, would suggest that section one be amended by striking out the words "one half" in the 29th line, and inserting in lieu thereof the words "two-thirds." Without such amendment the different sections of the act will be in conflict, the one with the other.

To the Hon. the Speaker,

And members of the House of Representatives:

The undersigned, a Commissioner of the Hospital for the Insane, would represent to your honorable body, that the most unaccountable mal-practices have prevailed on the part of officers and attendants towards patients, for several months past ; that no efficient measures have hitherto been adopted by the board to prevent them. That your petitioner had prayed the intervention of the committee on benevolent institutions in the Senate, for this purpose, who had declined acting therein, for want of time. That a thorough investigation of its officers is demanded, alike by the interests of the Institution, and the character of those who have hitherto participated in its management ; and, for these reasons, among others, he would most respectfully, but earnestly pray your honorable body to institute such investigation, through a committee appointed from your honorable body, or provide an impartial commission, selected from various parts of the State, for that purpose, or in such other mode as, in the opinion of your honorable body, shall be most likely to elicit the truth, and conduce to promote the interests of the Hospital.

With great respect,

Your obedient servant,

L. DUNLAP,

Pres. of the Board of the I. H. Insane.

On motion by Mr. Graves,

The rule was suspended, the bill read a third time, and passed.

Mr. Miller of Owen, from a select committee, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The select committee to whom was referred a joint resolution of the Senate No. 101, entitled "a joint resolution for the relief of James Gallatly and others therein named," have had that subject under consideration, and have directed me to report the same to the House with the following report :

The committee have not had as much time for the investigation of the subject before them as they could have desired, and for the reason that the present session of the Legislature is fast drawing to a close, they have deemed it their duty to investigate and report upon the subject of the joint resolution with as little delay as was proper to anything like a just understanding of the same.

As far as your committee can ascertain the facts relied upon for its passage by the friends of the joint resolution, they are substantially as follows :

In the fall of 1839, a note dated the 2d day of January, 1840, and blank as to amount, was executed by John Young, endorsed by the persons in the joint resolution named, except John Johnson, and made payable at the Branch at Terre Haute, of the State Bank of Indiana.

About the time of the date of the note, John Young presented it at the said Branch Bank for discount, but the Bank refused the note, and Young returned with it to Owen county, where he and his endorsers resided, and informed them of the fact. On the 2d day of March of the same year, he again presented the note to, and deposited it in said Branch Bank, the date of the note being changed to the 2d day of March, and the blank filled up with the sum of $3500, contrary to the prior understanding between Young and his endorsers, that the amount should not exceed $1200. But to the amount the endorsers make no objection, that being left to the discretion of Young.

The alteration in the date of the note was made, and the same placed in Bank without the knowledge or consent of the endorsers, and as your committee are of opinion, with a view to defraud the endorsers. At the time the note was endorsed, and the name of Johnson assigned, he was absent in the State of Illinois.

In the fall of 1841, suit was brought on the note, against all the parties thereto, in the Owen Circuit Court, and in favor of the Bank. By some error or mistake, a judgment was rendered against the defendants, as by nil dicet, and over the plea of non est factum of Gallatly, who brought the case to the Supreme Court for reversal, but was enjoined by the court below from proceeding further till the cause could be heard in the Owen Circuit Court.

In both courts the cause is still pending.

It is proposed by the joint resolution to grant the defendants in the judgment a new trial in the cause, so far only as the interest of the State is concerned, this being as far as the Legislature can go.

The committee have ascertained that in the year 1845 the General Assembly of the State granted a new trial in this case to the defendants, not only as to the interest of the State, but also of the stockholders of the Bank, but the Owen Circuit Court held this act unconstitutional, because it affected and diverted the rights of private persons ; also, an investigation of the alledged forgery of the note has never been had.

The committee have further learned that although the note was in suit at the time when N. B. Palmer, who was appointed by the State for that purpose, called on the Branch Bank at Terre Haute for a list of its assets, yet, in the report of its assets then rendered by the officers of the Bank, nothing is said of this note, nor does it appear that the same was ever noted on the books of the Bank.

That the note was forged, by altering the date, as stated, there is little or no doubt, and that the officers of the Bank ought to have known this fact, and that the Cashier did know it, there is much reason to believe. The note had been once presented to and refused by the Bank, with a different date, and the alteration of the date, by erasure and interlineation, are too palpable to escape the eye of the most casual observer.

From all the facts connected with the note in controversy, your committee have come to the conclusion that it was not obtained by the Bank fairly, and in the usual course of business. If it was fairly obtained, it was a part of her assets, and ought to have been inserted in the list of assets furnished Mr. Palmer by the officers of the Bank. Yet, although this report was made to Mr. Palmer under oath, and was sworn to as containing all the assets of the Bank, not a word is said about it. And the fact is, that at the very time the Bank is pursuing her legal remedies to enforce payment of the note, its very existence is denied in her report of assets.

Suit had been pending on this note more than six months before this report was made, and still it is passed over as if the Bank had no claim to it. It had never been entered on the books of the Bank, and is it to be supposed that all this resulted from mere accident, negligence, or inattention? If so, it would seem very strange the Bank should forget to notice the reception of the note in her books, and yet should recollect to sue upon it. That she should remember to sue upon the note, and yet forget, six months after suit brought, to place it amongst her assets in her report to Mr. Palmer, which was sworn to be correct. A recollection so elastic is very convenient, but its exercise is not commendable when the obligation of an oath, as in this case, rests upon the conscience of its possessor.

Your committee are of opinion, from the facts in the case, that this note was never discounted, but was placed in Bank by Young, as collateral security to a note for the same amount and date, then in Bank, which was drawn by Young, and endorsed by his father, and others. They believe this because, amongst other reasons, the forged note was never entered on the books of the Bank, nor reported to Mr. Palmer, whilst the other was both so entered and reported. It would be strange that those notes, of same date, amount, &c., should be received at the same time by the Bank, and one be noted on the books of the Bank, and the other not, if all had been right and fair—and again, that one should be reported to Mr. Palmer, and the other not.

Your committee believe the new trial ought to be. The joint resolution simply proposes a trial as to the interest of the State.

The committee see no reason for opposition to its passage. It only gives a right to an investigation of the alleged forgery, which has never been had. If the conduct of the Bank in the matter has been fair and honest, she need fear the result of no investigation before the judicial tribunals of the country. It is fraud and error alone that will shun and stifle investigation—truth never seeks concealment.

But, whatever may be the crooked policy of the Bank, the State of Indiana should set her citizens a better example of open, honest, and fair dealing. It is not for her to place between herself and her own citizens, the technicalities of the law—she does not desire to fill her coffers with the spoils of her citizens, and that she has a judgment against them, founded in fraud and alleged forgery, is no reason why the fraud and forgery should not be inquired into. Nothing is sought to be taken from the treasury of the State. The judgment on the note has not been collected, if the note be a forgery, certainly its payment ought never to be enforced by the State. If the note should turn out a forgery, the interest the State has in the judgment now, would simply be released. No difficulty will arise in ascertaining that interest, the number of her shares of stock in Bank is known, that stock is at par, and there can be no difficulty in deducting her interest from the judgment, in proportion to her stock.

In conclusion, your committee would remark that, for the forgery of this note, John Young now stands indicted in the Owen Circuit Court, where he has given bail for his appearance.

For the reasons stated, and others not given, your committee have instructed me to report back the joint resolution to the House, and respectfully recommend its passage.

Mr. Edwards moved to amend the joint resolution by adding the following proviso :

“Provided, That if the said Gallatly shall not procure judgment against the State, he shall pay all the costs of suit and the fees of the attorney or attorneys, that may be employed by the State, and to provide for such a contingency, the said Gallatly is hereby required, on bringing suit, to file his bond, with security, and in such an amount as may be approved of by the court for that purpose, to indemnify the State;”

Which report was concurred in.

The committee on benevolent and scientific institutions to whom were referred sundry memorials from many citizens of different portions of the State, praying the establishment of an Orphan's Asylum, for the support and education of destitute children, have had that subject under consideration, and have directed me to report that, owing to the late hour of the session when this subject was referred to them, they have been unable to give it that attention and deliberation that its importance demands, or that would enable them to make any definite recommendation as to its disposal. Your committee, however, are not insensible to the high claims, on the benevolence of the State, of this class of the children of misfortune, and trust that they will not long be overlooked. They find, by reference to section 4, article 9, of the constitution, that its wise framers looked forward to the establishment of an institution of this kind. But, in view of the extra demands upon the Treasury during the present year, and the fact that a convention will soon assemble to alter and amend the constitution, the committee have instructed me to report that, in their opinion, it is inexpedient, at this time, to provide for the establishment of the institution asked for in said memorials, and they ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

The reduction on the items of premium notes now in force, and the amount of property at risk, is occasioned in part by the discharge of a number of policies where alienations and transfers of the property insured had been made at different times, and in part by an increased caution in taking hazardous risks, by which a considerable number of applications have been rejected where the risk and exposure were deemed too great to be desirable. By this means the general character of the property insured by the Company is gradually improving, and a consequent reduction in the amount of losses, may reasonably be expected.

It will be seen by the above comparison, that there has been during the past year, an increase in the amount of receipts over the preceding year, and also an increase in the amount of payments on losses and interest. This indicates some improvement in promptitude and punctuality on the part of members and agents.

Your committee deem it proper to remark that, by the report of the committee of the House, made at the last session of the General Assembly, there was an apparent error in the amount of interest certificates issued by said Agent, on internal improvement interest bond number thirty-five, issued and dated March, 1841, of two hundred and twenty-five dollars, surrendered by Thomas Hudson ; also, in the package surrendered by S. C. Dorti, bond number three thousand eight hundred and seven, of twenty-five dollars, which said errors were not arranged by said Agent with your committee, but your committee deem it justice to said Agent to remark, that they made no examination into the facts connected with said apparent errors, and they believe that said Agent will, at a proper time, explain and rectify the same, to the satisfaction of all concerned.

On motion by Mr. Carnahan of Fountain,

The order of business was suspended.

Mr. Carnahan of Fountain, from the committee on the judiciary, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on the judiciary to whom was referred the resolution instructing said committee to inquire into the constitutionality of the law of the General Assembly of 1849, conferring upon justices of the peace exclusive original jurisdiction in certain criminal cases, have had the same under consideration, and have instructed me to report, that your committee are uncertain what powers and jurisdiction the legislature intended to confer upon justices of the peace by the "act to define the jurisdiction of justices of the peace in the several counties therein named," approved January 16, 1849, and they cannot therefore anticipate the construction which would be given to said act by our Supreme Court.

Several judicial tribunals of the State have decided that by the terms of the act, it was the obvious intention of the legislature to confer upon justices of the peace full, complete, and final jurisdiction in the cases enumerated in said act. The act itself makes provision for the accused to demand that he may be recognized to appear before the Circuit Court, thus affording him the benefit of a trial by indictment, other than that the laws then in force should in all things govern in regard to granting appeals, change of venue continuances, and recognizing, "so far as the same may be applicable," to the exclusive original jurisdiction conferred upon justices. The act is not clear of objections, nor will the duty of officers acting under it be unattended with difficulties in the construction thereof.

Justices of the peace by construing the provisions of the act with itself, and with the act to which it is amendatory, will, we believe, be constrained to overrule any motion of the accused to be permitted to enter into recognizance to appear before the Circuit Court, that the whole might possibly be consistent with the constitution of the State would certainly require a somewhat liberal construction.

The constitution of the State of Indiana requires—section 5.—"That in all civil cases, where the value in controversy shall exceed the sum of twenty dollars, and in criminal cases, except in petit misdemeanors, which shall be punished by fine only, not exceeding three dollars, in such manner as the legislature may prescribe by law, the right of trial by jury shall remain inviolate." Sec. 12.—"That no person arrested or confined in jail, shall be treated with unnecessary rigor, or be put to answer any criminal charge, but by presentment, indictment, or impeachment."

That justices of the peace possess jurisdiction in criminal cases, where the fine may be as high as the sum of twenty dollars, the committee do not doubt, but they regard this extended jurisdiction of justices of the peace exclusively for the benefit of the accused, who may, if he prefer it, have the charges alleged against him deferred without the delay or increase of cost which would necessarily be incurred by having the grand jury and the Circuit Court investigate the charges ; yet we believe the accused cannot by any law of the legislature be deprived of this right, should he see proper to exercise it.

The statutes heretofore expressly provides in conferring such jurisdiction, that "such cases shall be tried by the justice or by jury, as the defendant may elect," and that such defendant may, if he prefer it, "be recognized to appear and answer to the charge before the next circuit court. The defendant, however, cannot, if he prefer to answer such charge by presentment, or indictment, cannot be deprived of the right, except at his own election.

The committee believe that any law which debar the defendant of the optional privilege provided by the statute conferring the privilege of having the charges preferred against him summarily disposed of by the justice trying the same, or demanding to be recognized as he may elect, is an infringement of the spirit of the constitution, and that any law which renders the duty of the justice under the same doubtful or ambiguous, is of questionable policy.

Mr. Niblack moved that the House adjourn.

Gentlemen of the House of Representatives :

You are now about to close a very laborious session of seven weeks, and to submit the result of our deliberations to an intelligent and high-minded people.

Of the 565 bills and joint resolutions introduced during the present session of this House, I presume the most important act passed at the present session to the whole people, is the making the necessary provision for carrying into effect the will of a majority of the qualified voters of the State, deliberately expressed through the medium of the ballot-box on the first Monday in August last, proposing the call of a Convention, during the present year, to revise and amend the Constitution of Indiana; which, we trust, will not only be a new epoch in her history, but the result of which will be the more fully to secure the ends for which all republican governments are established, increase all the elements of prosperity of this great and growing State, and assist in perpetuating this happy form of government, with its free institution, to the latest period of time.

I now embrace this opportunity to tender to you my sincere thanks for the very courteous and kind treatment I have received at your hands during the whole of the present session, and, also, for that aid you have so generously extended to me on all occasions.

I have not the vanity to suppose that I have committed no errors in the discharge of the duties of the Chair, but I trust that you will regard them as errors of judgment only. The compliment you have been pleased to present to me by unanimously adopting a resolution referring to the discharge of my official duty will be gratefully remembered to the latest period of my after life.

It affords me great pleasure to bear witness to the general good feelings, and high-minded and honorable bearing that has characterized your intercourse with each other during the present session.

Towards each individual member and officer of this House I entertain the kindest personal feelings.

I wish each of you now present, and those who have left in advance of this, a safe and speedy journey from the Capitol to your homes, and bid each of you a kind farewell.

I now declare this House adjourned sine die.

JOHN M. LORD,

Principal Clerk H. of Representatives.

ANDREW J. BOONE,

Assistant Clerk H. of Representatives.
